UPPER DIVISION DEDICATION

In the fall of '75, the OES dorm was graced with the presence of a new and different sort of man. He looked kind of "preppy", but what would one expect from a Harvard grad? The real question at the time was, "What's he like?" He was, and still is a man of patience, understanding and non-stop humor.

While he was dorm supervisor, he showed a unique understanding of the growing-pains of the students he resided with. He was once a student in a dorm also. As a teacher, he is demanding in his own right, but gives one a true feeling of accomplishment, even if it's taken a lot of time to get one's views across. As an advisor he is patient. Listening to the goals and problems of the students, he works for their best interests.

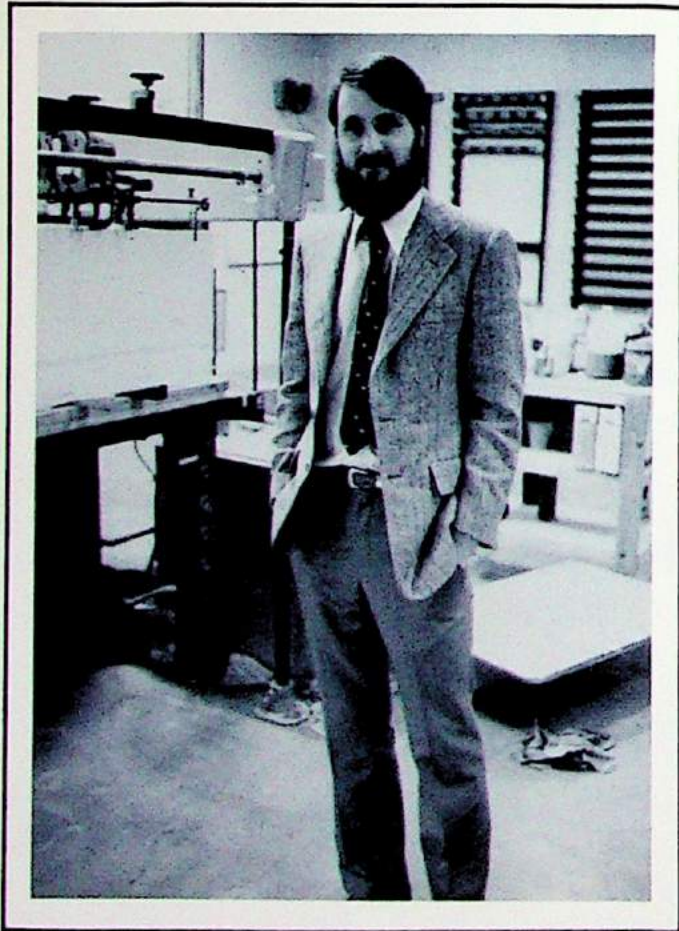

When he was the yearbook advisor for two years, he taught us well on the finer arts of a yearbook and watched over us like a mother falcon to make sure no one stood in the way of our goals. And still as a learned photographer, he is "inspiring" to those who seek his help in perfecting their own talents.

As a friend, he is easy. Although not easy to find, once found, he is easy to talk with. To share ideas or to critique last Saturday night's Monty Python, he is always willing to give the time.

And finally as this year's senior class advisor, he started to prepare us for the year to come by showing up at the junior trip campsite, deep in the woods ten miles south of Bonneville Dam, and asking us, "What does it mean to you to be a senior?"

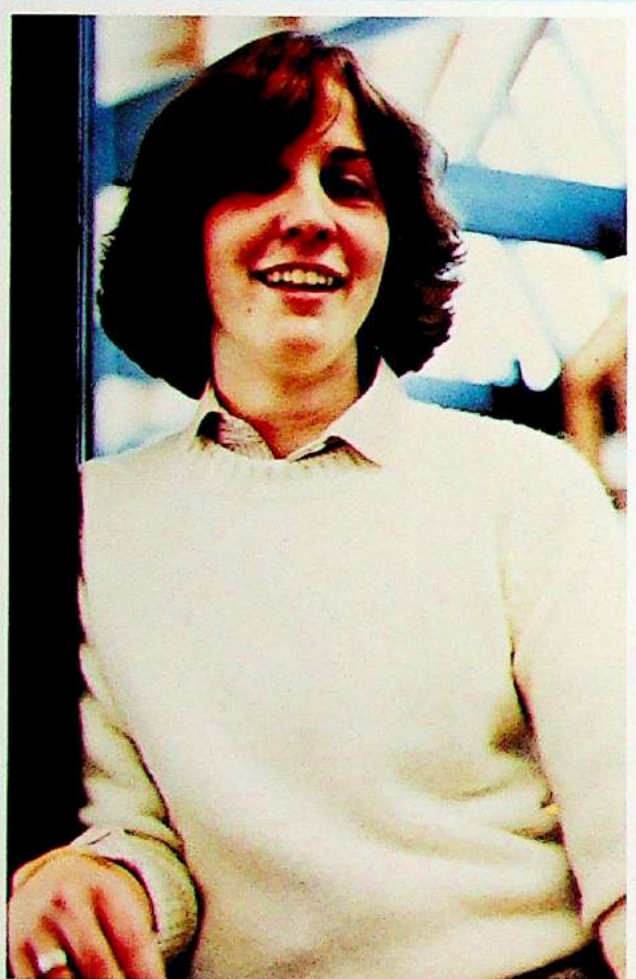

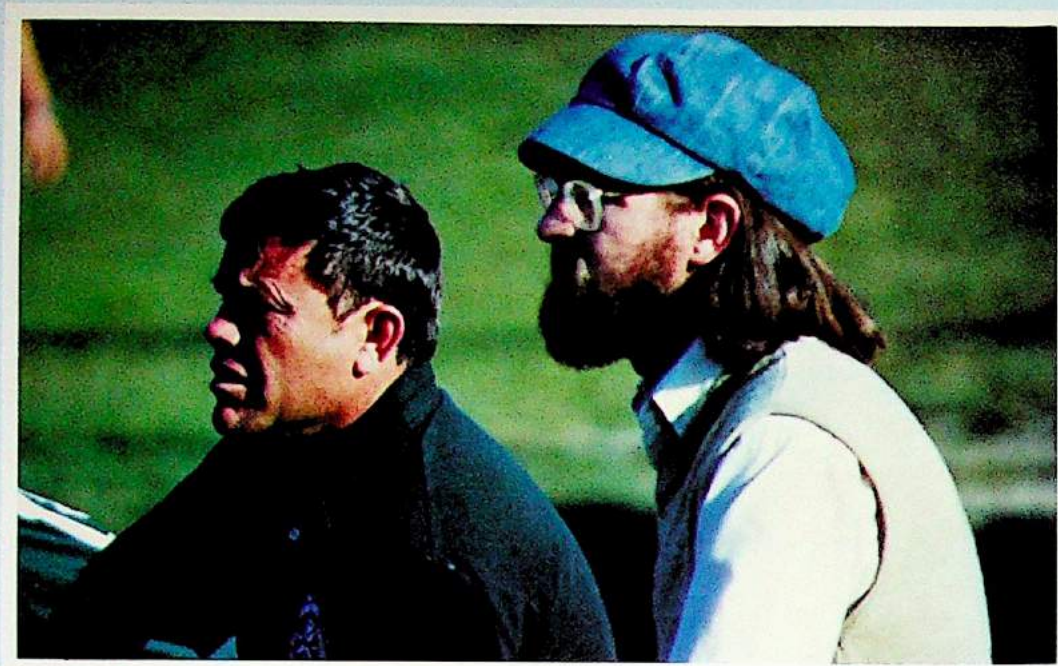

To you Lorne Johnson, we, the 1980 graduating class of OES, dedicate this book.

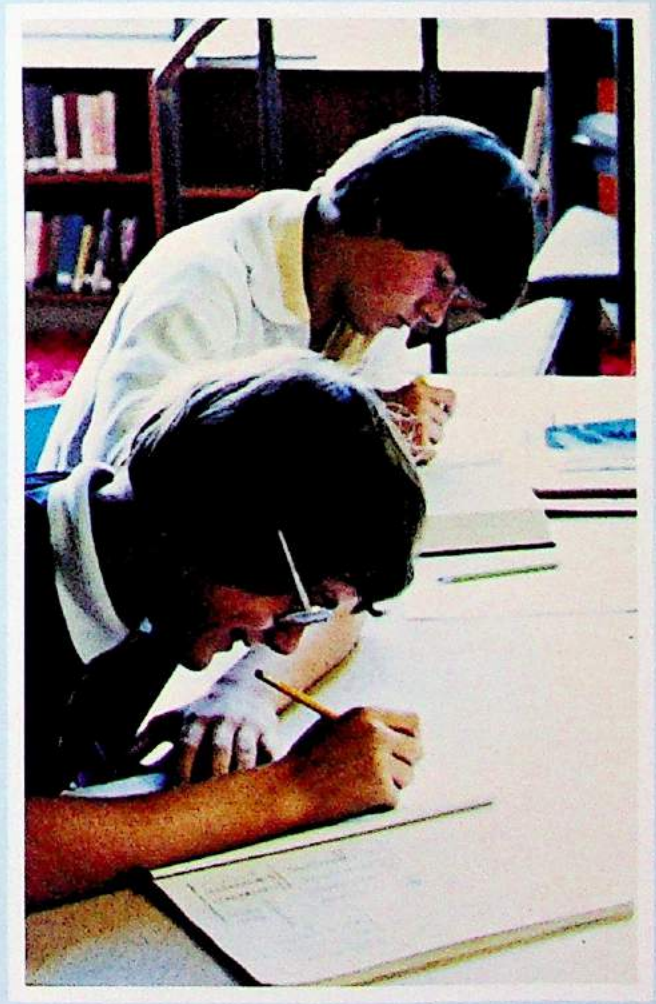

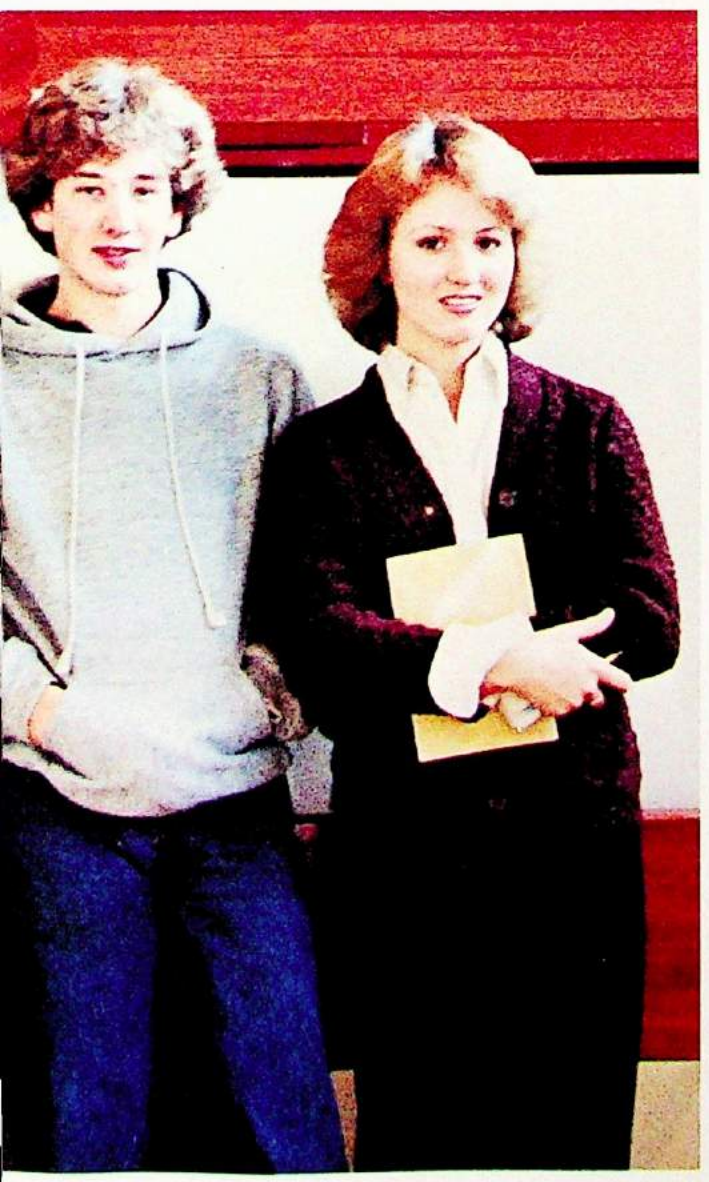

THE WAKING

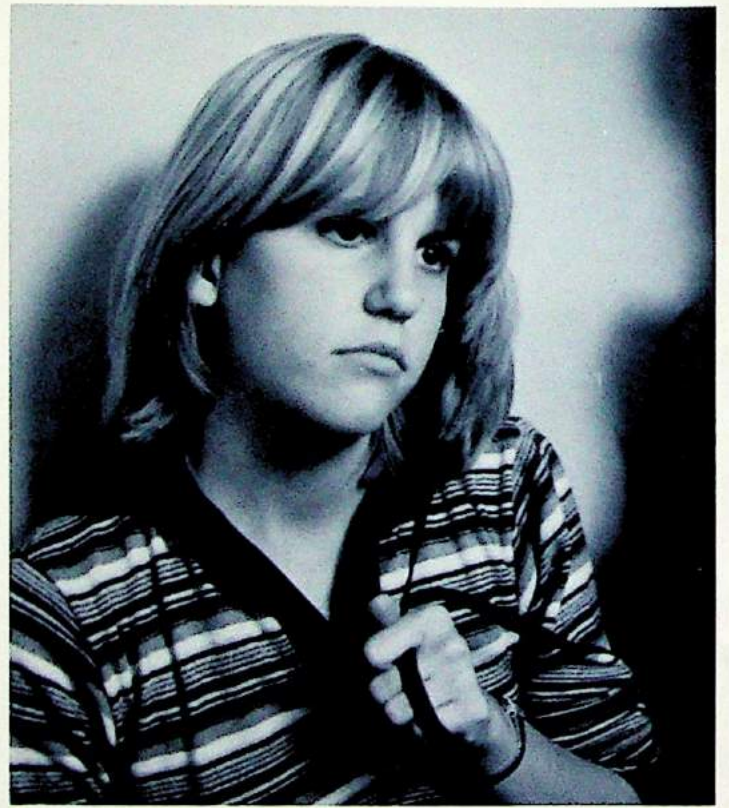

I wake to sleep,
and take my waking slow.
I feel my fate
in what I cannot fear.
I learn by going
where I have to go.

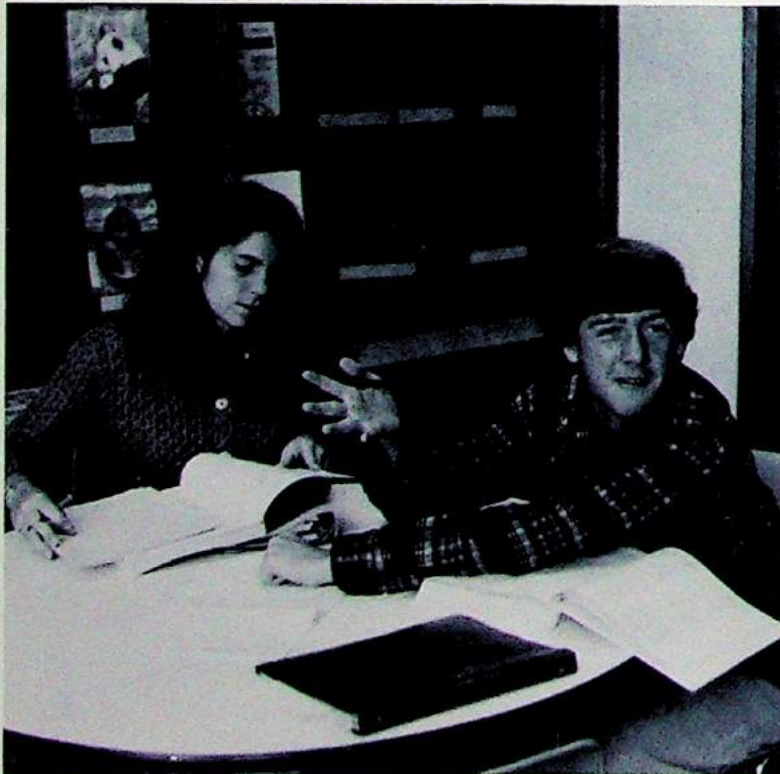

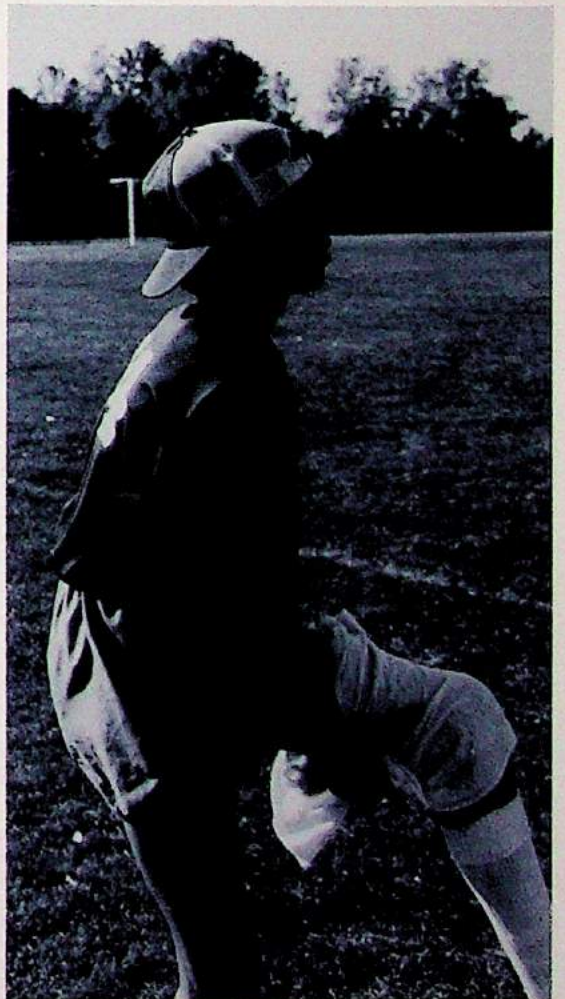

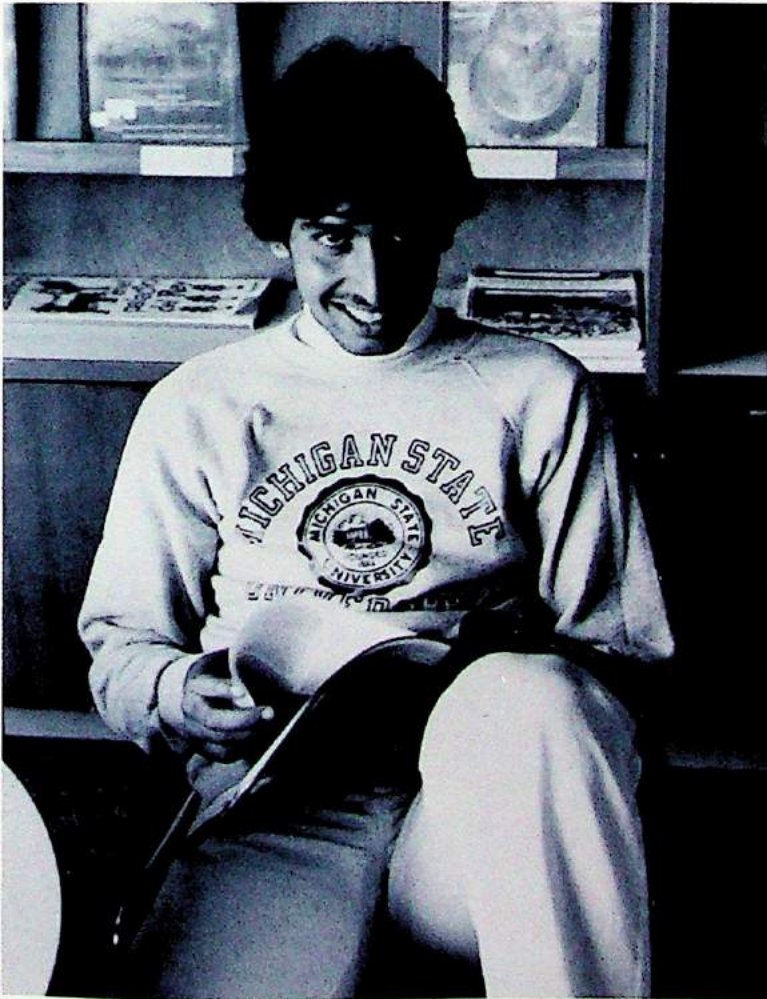

We think by feeling.
What is there to know?
I hear my being
dance from ear to ear
I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.

We think by feeling.
What is there to know?

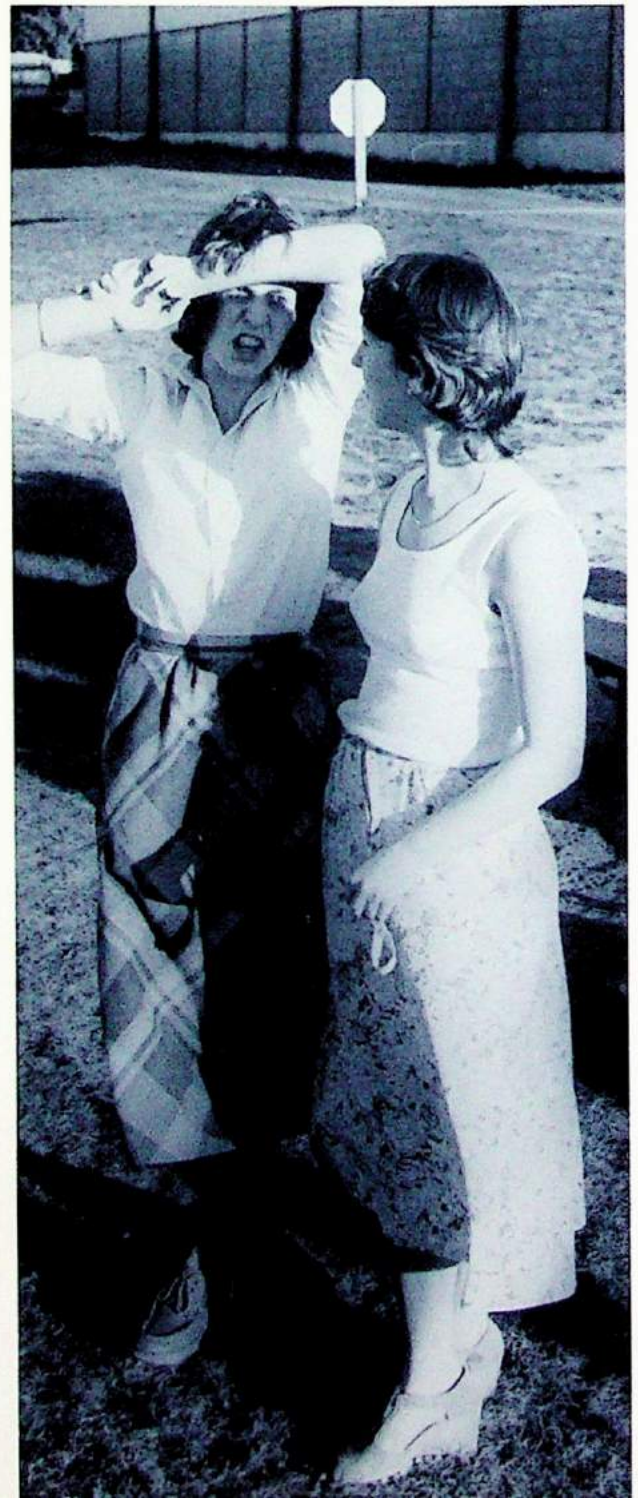

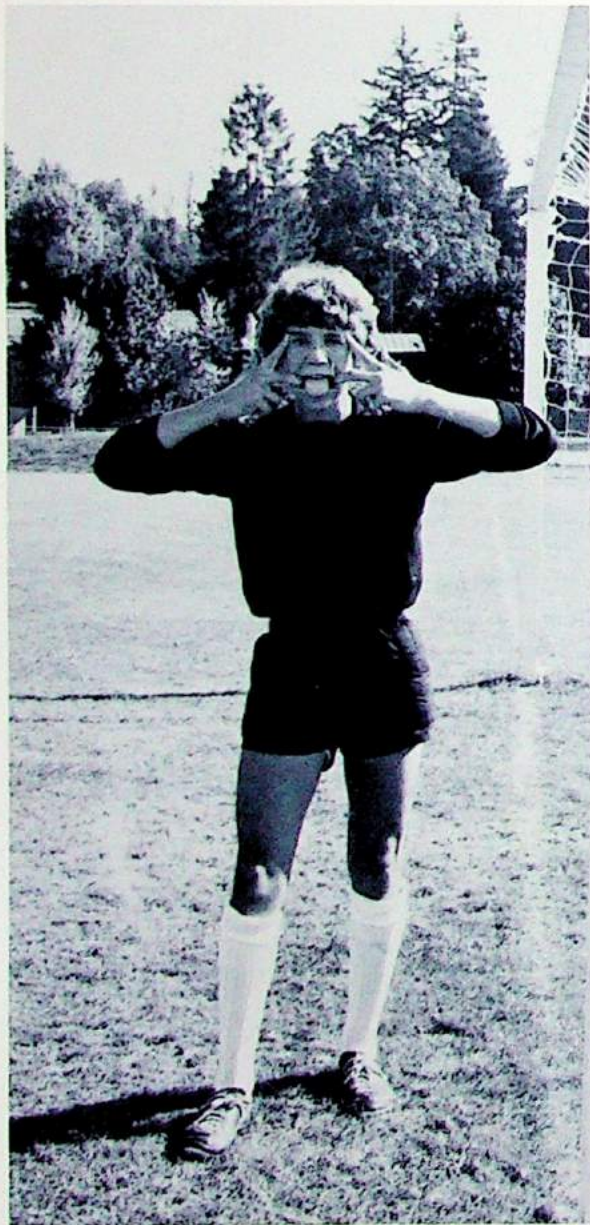

I hear my being dance from ear to ear.
I wake to sleep, and take my waking slow.

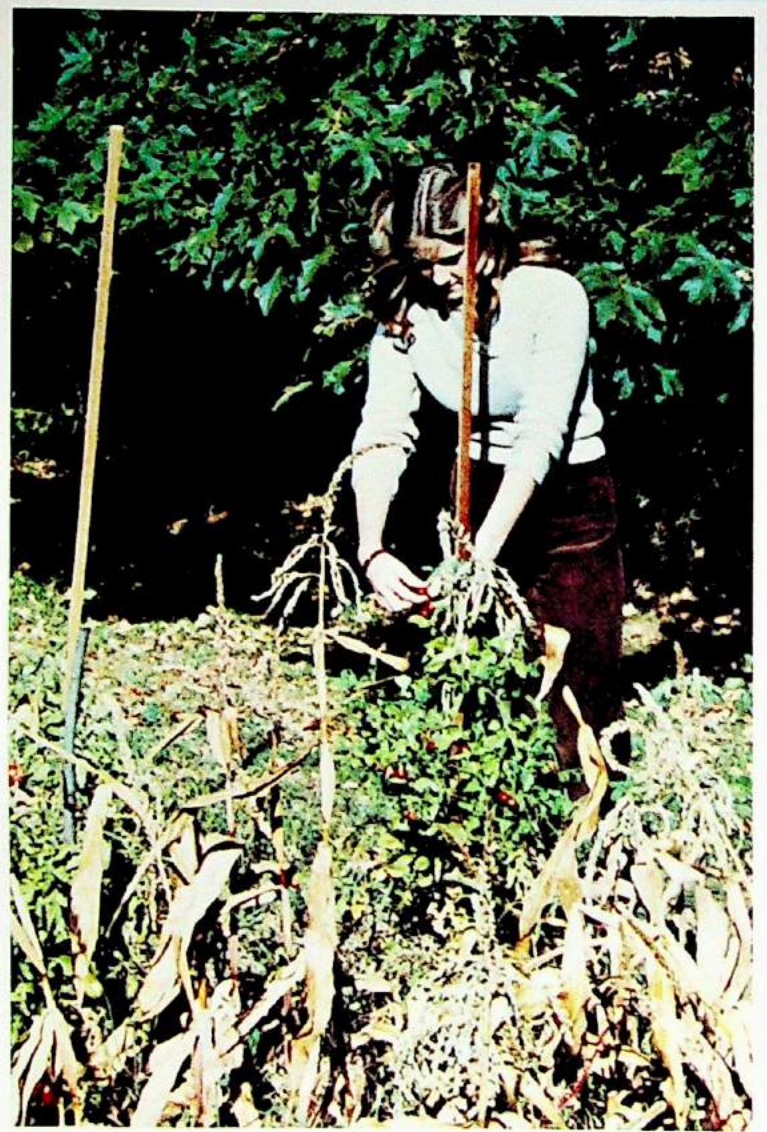

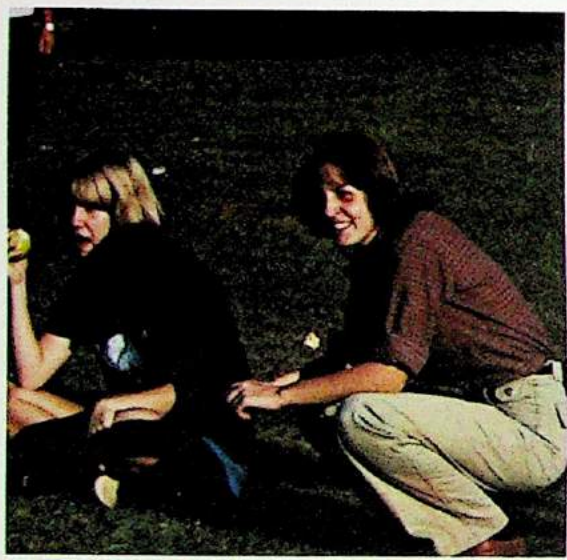

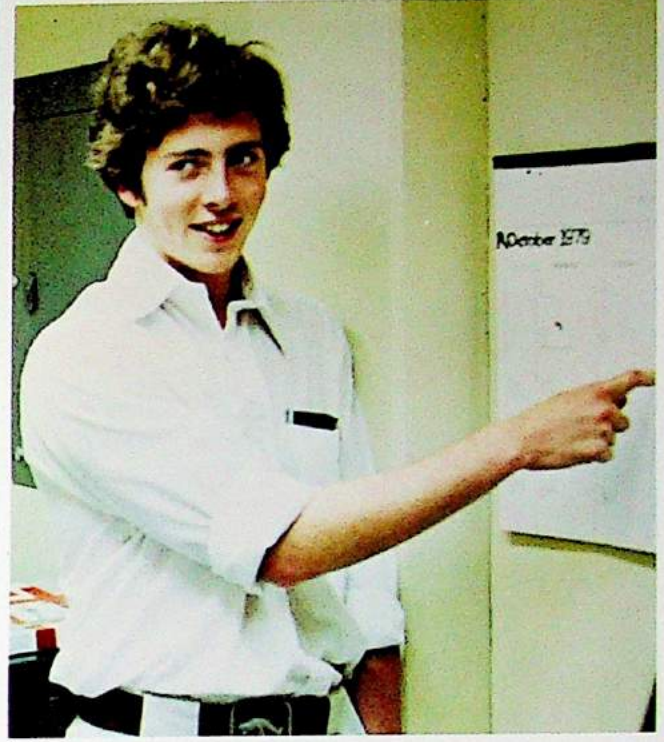

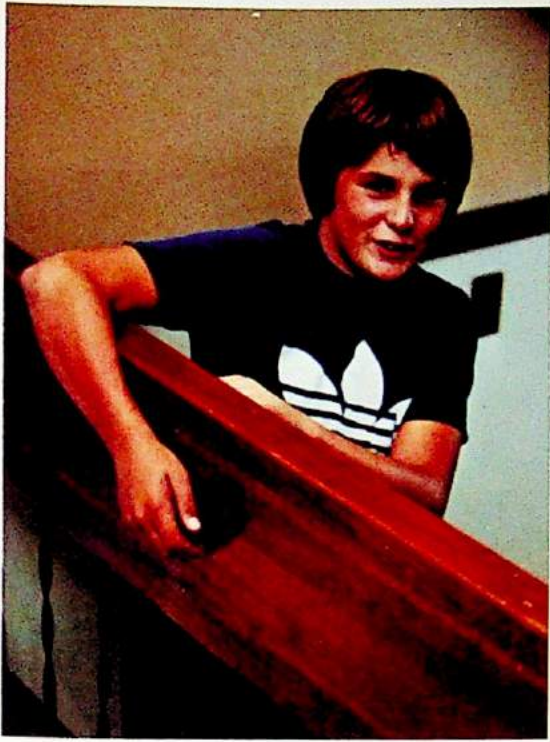

Light takes the Tree;
but who can tell us how?
The lowly worm
climbs up a winding stair;
I wake to sleep,
and take my waking slow.

Great Nature has another thing to do
To you and me;
so take the lively air,
And, lovely, learn
by going where to go.

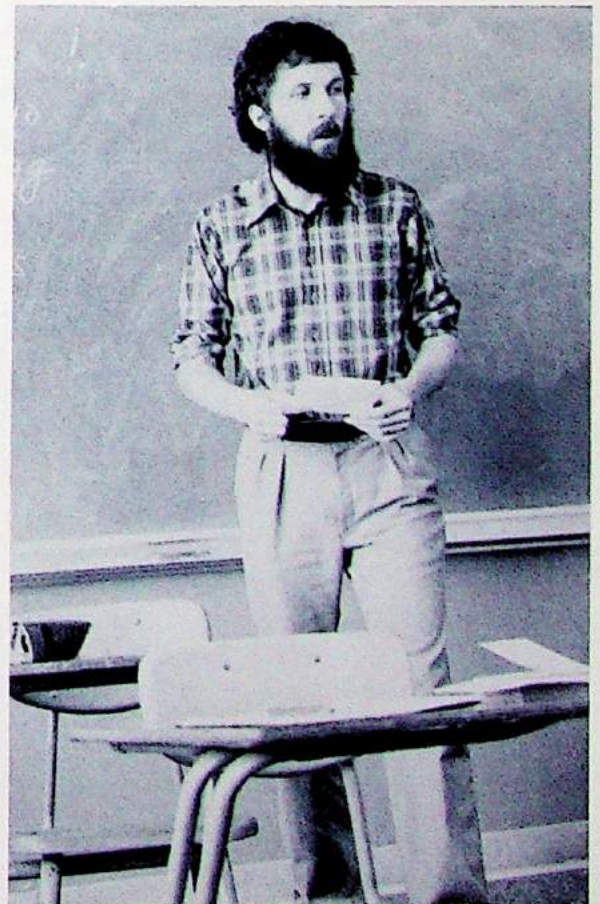

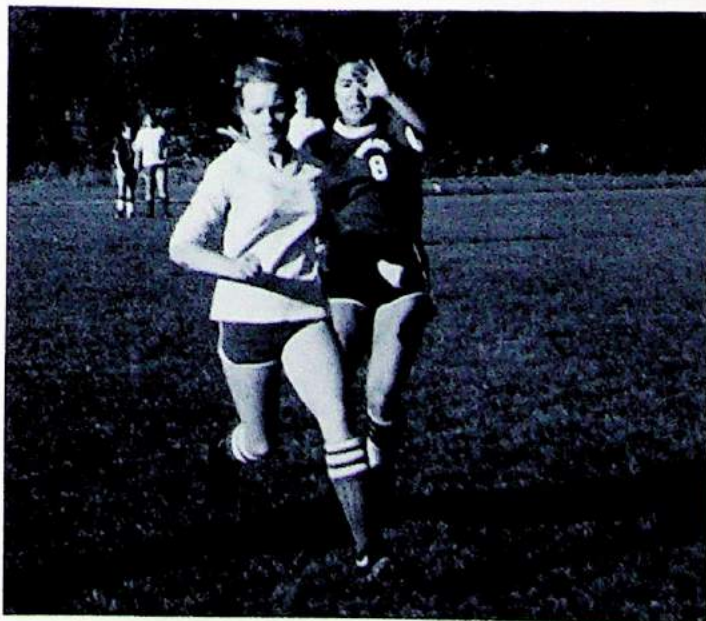

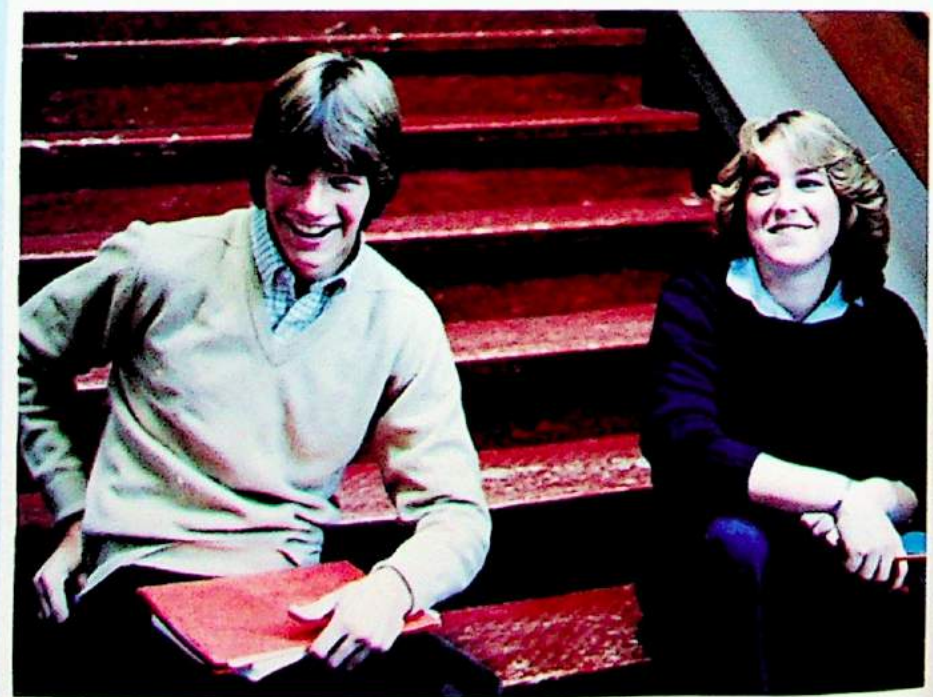

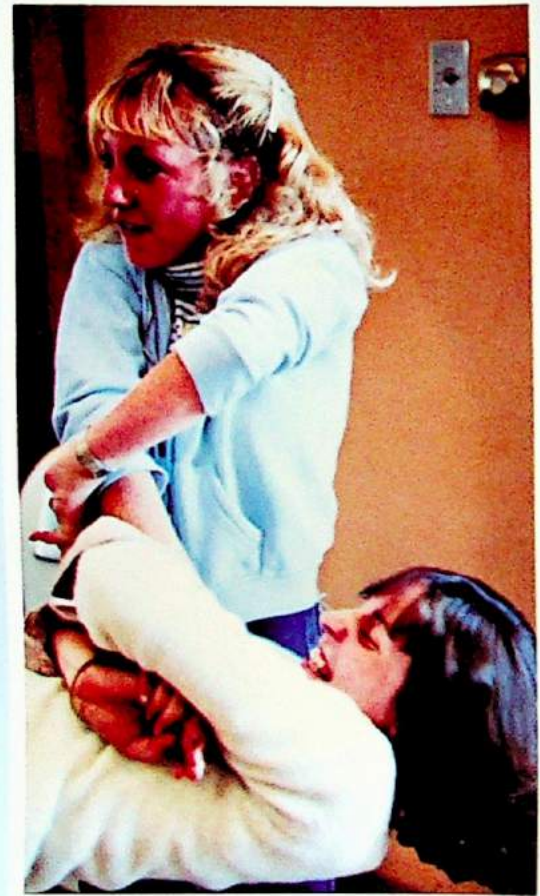

This shaking keeps me steady.
I should know.
What falls away is always.
And is near.

I wake to sleep,
and take my waking slow.
I learn by going
where I have to go.

1. Ivy Leaguer Liz Draper. 2. "Now wait a minute, this is just a costume!" 3. Niloo Khalkhali blends in with the carpet. 4. "Where's the circus?" 5. Julie Stevens out for blood.

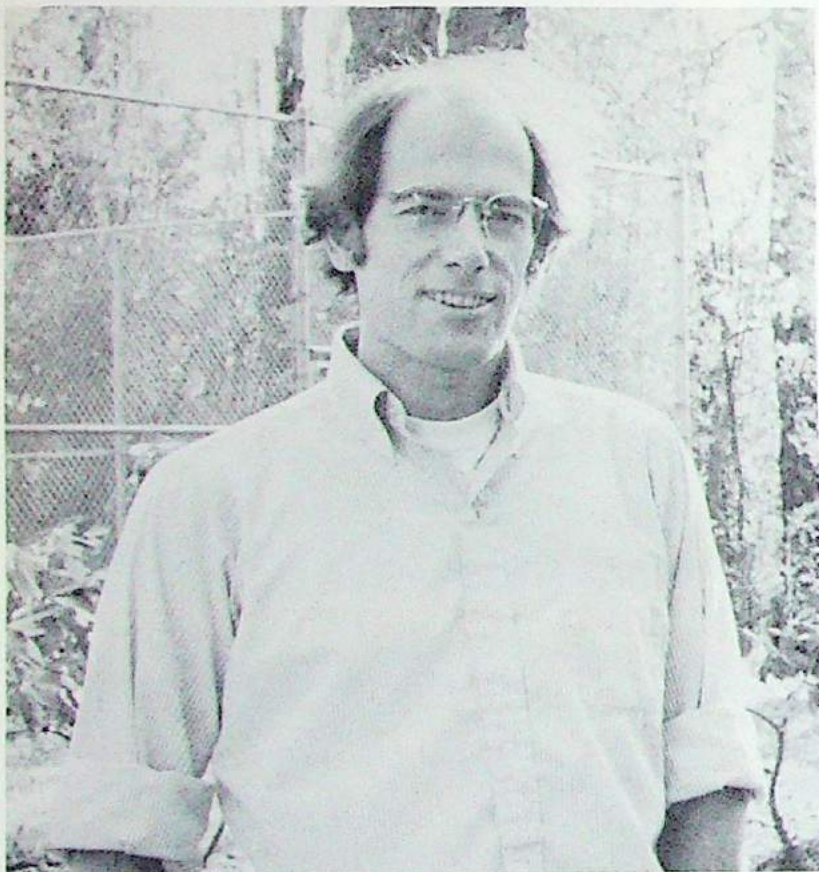

WORK SERVICE

Scraping tater tots and catsup off the lunch plates, tutoring English as a Second Language with pen in hand, leading eight sixth-graders on an Outdoor School field study, or rushing to tell someone that the copier ate the English handouts again, OES students serve the school or community for several hours each week. Mr. Roy Pettit directs the Work Service program, assisted by Outdoor School Coordinator Eric Hart and Student Store Managers Mike Shepherd and Russ Janney.

1. Roy Pettit, who puts it all together. 2. Brad Whitcomb and Chuck Warren prepare the plates for the eager lunchtime crowd. 3. Brenda Graves makes a sale. 4. "It's a lot of fun. I've learned to file papers and answer the telephone." -Dawn Drew, Lower division office aide

"I went to ODS because it's important. Those kids will be tomorrow's adults and the time to make them aware of the earth's fragility is now. The kids learn and enjoy. The counselors learn and enjoy. YAY Outdoor School!" -Puffin Potts, Outdoor School counselor

"I like working in the kitchen at lunchtime, having food fights and singing songs. Once when I was standing by the disposal, they turned it on and it sprayed food all over me. I was so mad! It was funny, though." -Liz Cohn, kitchen worker

BOYS VARSITY SOCCER

The OES varsity soccer team had a fantastic preseason; unfortunately the rest of the main season was successful but inconsistent. Though the team members were supportive of each other throughout the season, they lacked the teamwork which brought them to victory earlier on.

Coach Sam Dibbins was most impressed with what the young men offered him, both as individuals and as a team. After the season finished and the results came back from the Metro League, OES' Todd Husband (senior) was voted to the first string Metro team, and Benji Sawyer (junior) was voted to the second string. Better luck next year.

CROSS COUNTRY

This fall's OES Cross Country team was coached by Work Service Coordinator, Roy Pettit. Mr. Pettit was described as a "very helpful and patient coach", but above all, "supportive".

Mother Nature tried to throw everything she could at them, from horses on the trail to ankle deep mud and standing water. Such was the situation at the last race at Catlin Gable. Despite the driving rain and icy cold, OES' Jim Moore came in first and Chris Cutler came in third. Though the season wasn't their best, it was very enjoyable.

GIRLS VARSITY SOCCER

The girls' soccer team scored more goals in their first two games than had been scored during the entire 1978 season. Even though their wins were all posted during pre-season, their skills were admirably honed by the last games. Sarah Stephenson, who will return next year as a senior, made the Metro All-Star second team. Carrie Loar and Ruth Hageman double as goalies. The girls were most noted for their rowdiness and the trenchant shouts of "MOOSE POWER!" from the fullback line.

VOLLEYBALL

Although the spirit and dedication of the girls' volleyball team were not reflected in its scores, each player enjoyed the season. "We had some good times, and a few real criers, too," said first-year coach Sylvia Montague. "Betsy Bosen and Carolee Larsen were probably our most improved players." Ashley Kirkman was voted to the All-Star League first team; Lindsay Horniman and Jenny Horniman received honorable mentions. While the team won few games, the ten players learned to appreciate other sometimes-overlooked rewards of sports.

1) Ashley saves one 2) Coach Sylvia Montague and crew 3) Jenny loves her serve 4) winning shot 5) conference 6) Good shot Brenda!

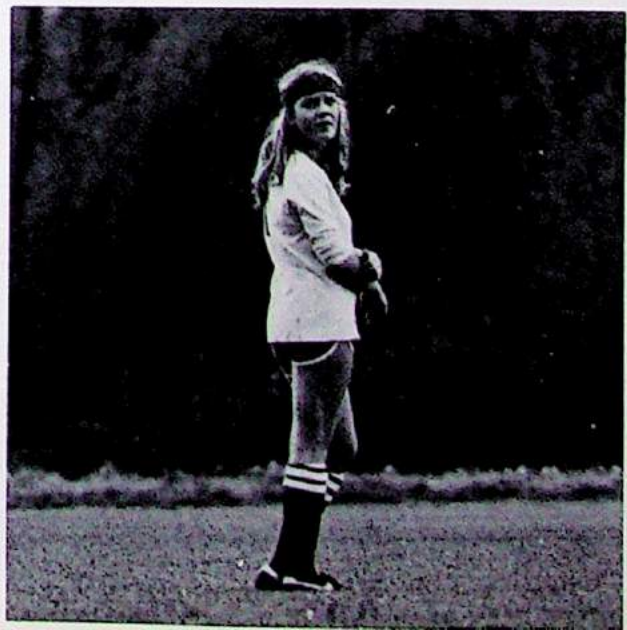

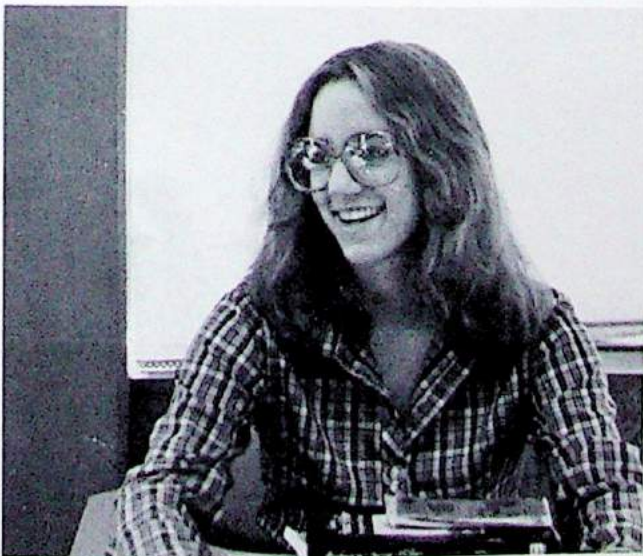

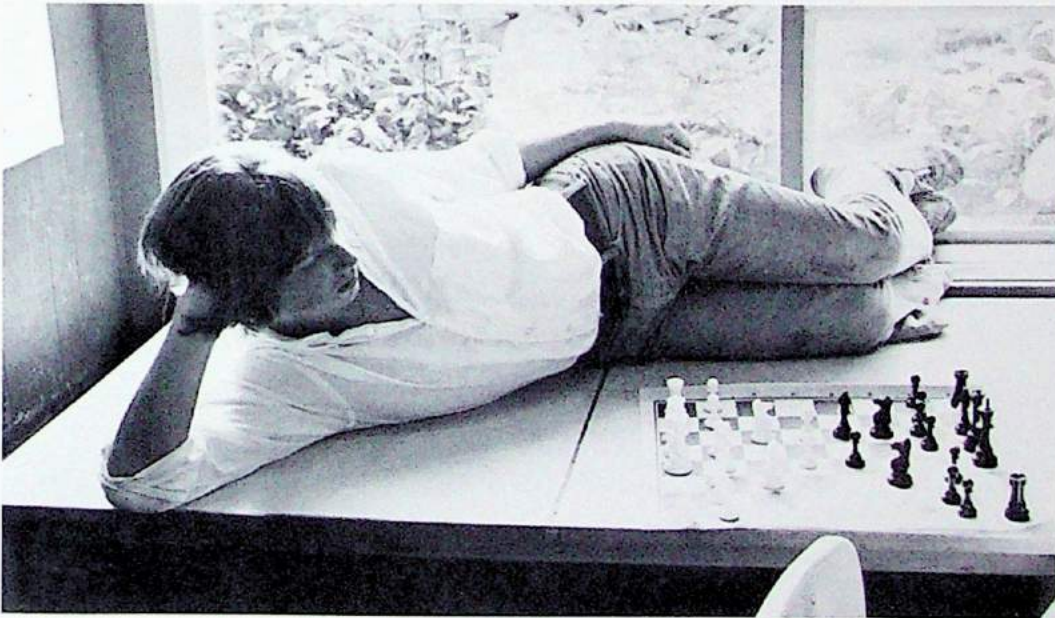

FALL CANDIDS

1) Irresistible Chuck Warren 2) Watch out Hatcher! 3) Hello there Denise 4) See? I told you my nose isn't as bent as this 5) Darn! They forgot the Lacrosse scores again 6) Ready for a centerfold 7) Cute, really cute 8) Now what do I do?

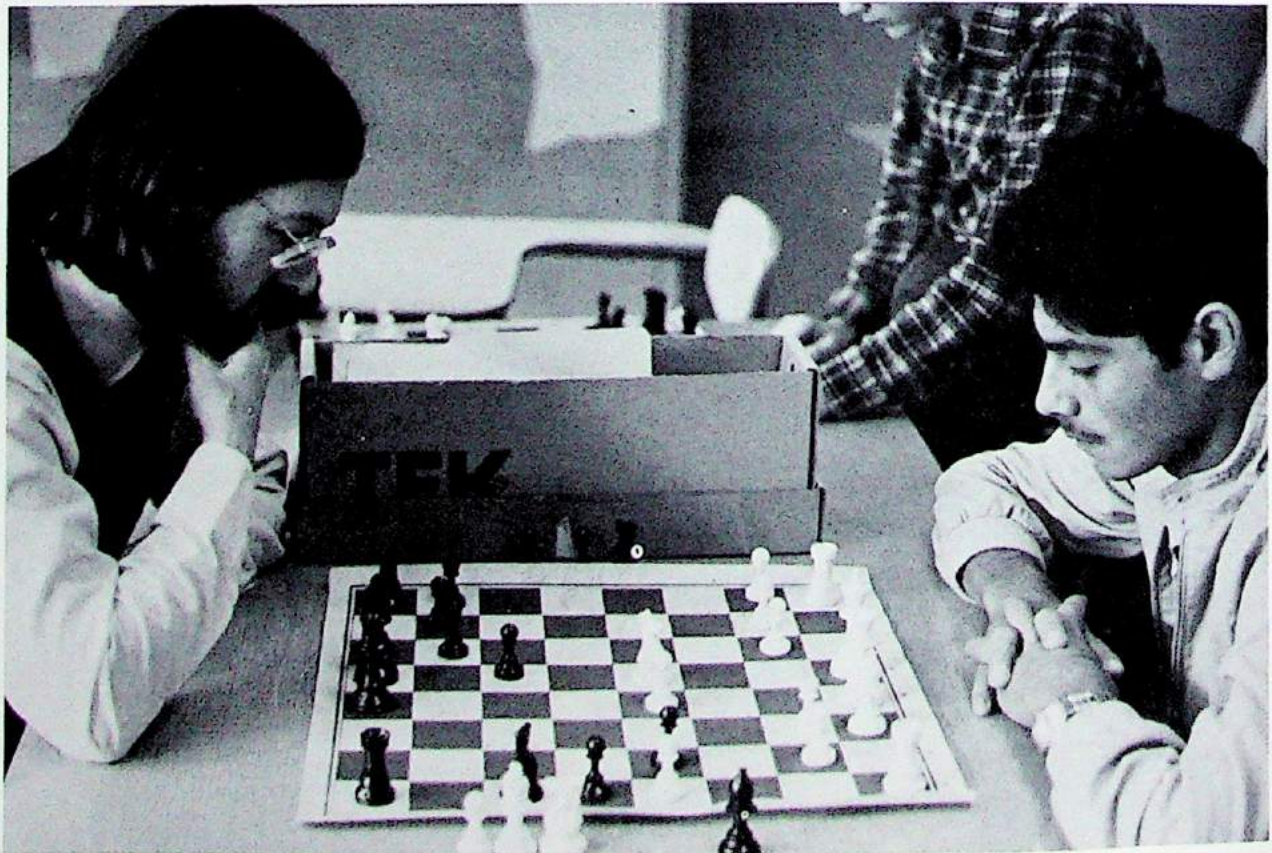

You come to OES and are handed your schedule. There amid those impossible-sounding classes, in the space "10:20-11:10", is written "PANYC." What, you ask, is PANYC (pronounced "panic")? You grab people who look as if they were here last year.

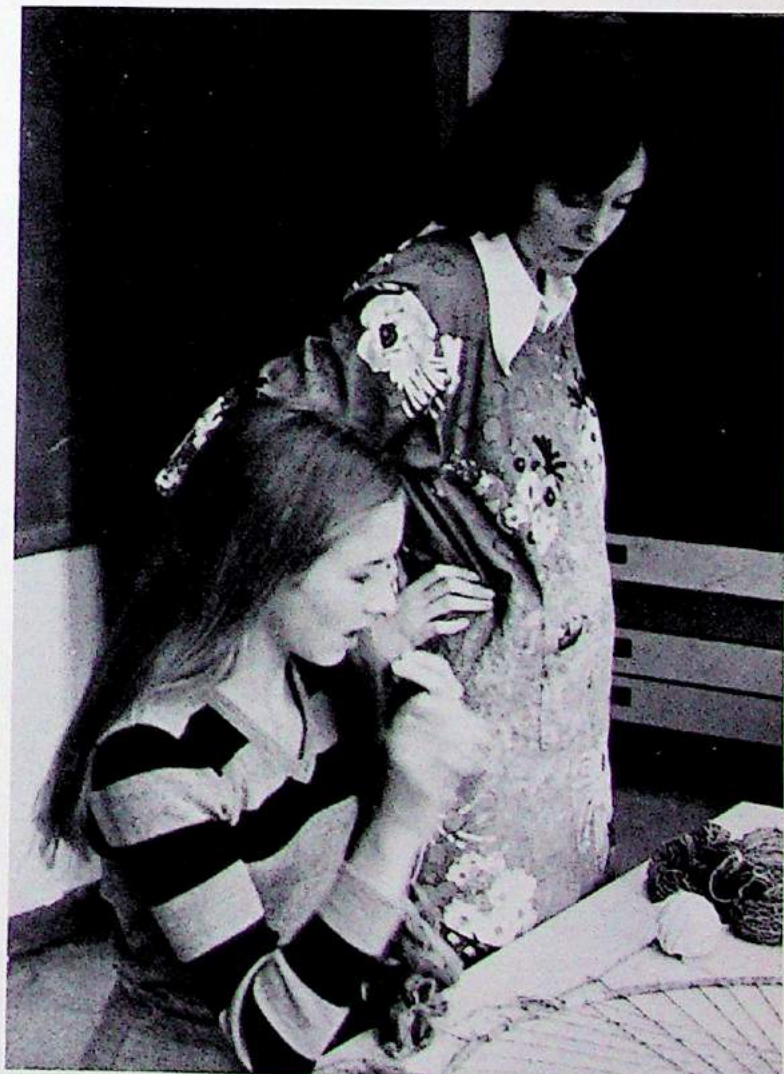

No, it is not the time to rewrite your English paper that's due next period, although it is often used for that. Nor is it for running around in the halls reciting all that homework you have to do tonight. Don't those teachers know you have a soccer game in Northern Siberia? "PANYC" is an acronym for "Physical education, Art, Newspaper, Yearbook, Chorus." It's that period when you forget your academic troubles and have a little fun.

The fall PANYCs included Yearbook, Newspaper, Chorus, Physical Education, Ceramics, Physical Conditioning and Nutrition, Chess, Design, and Economics.

NEWSPAPER

THE PALIMPSEST

THE PALIMPSEST, this year's student newspaper, finally achieved the quality and responsibility that should exist in every good newspaper. The five issues produced were lengthy and interesting, including such columns as "Khody's Soccer Suggestion" and a series of senior profiles. This fine work is due to staff advisor Julie Stevens, editors Laura MacGregor and Carrie Loar, and the staff.

CHORUS

Chorus has been a part of the OES curriculum for two years, thanks to director Sandra Fairbrook. It gives students a chance to get away from hectic days and wax in song. This fall's chorus production was GODSPELL, a beautiful assembly and relaxation for the rest of us. Chorus members Jeff Hearn and Eric Hart were selected for the All-State Choir.

1. Eric Hart-"You've gotta be bright to be the light of the world." 2. "Prepare ye the way of the Lord," sing Mike Shepherd and Steve Dibbins. 3. Mixed emotions in the practice room.

Student Council

Elizabeth Draper, first Student Body President of a new decade, led Student Council, which started a lot of new activities for the Upper School.

The representatives, elected by their classes, were seniors Brenda Graves and Cathy Owen; juniors Chris Cutler and Jami Jacobson; sophomores Sarah Geary and Chuck Warren; and freshmen Dawn Bleakley and Betsy Bosen.

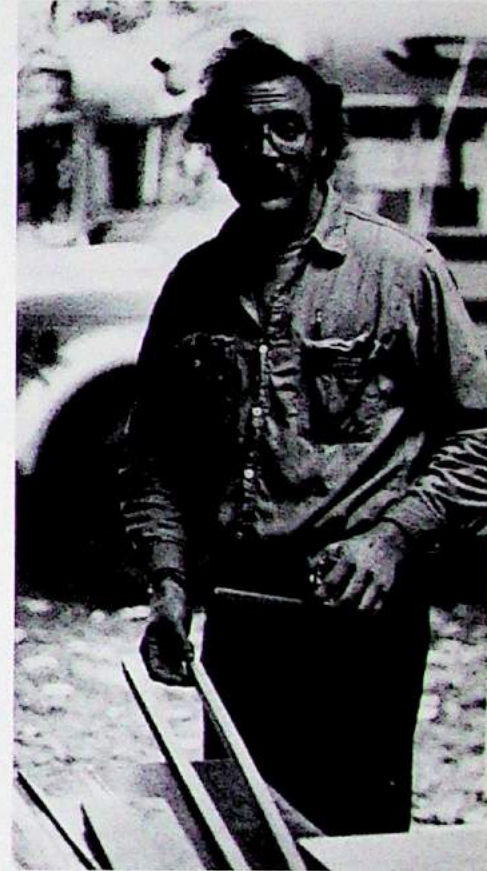

The Council sponsored several dances, including the first dance of the year and the popular masquerade at Halloween. It held a sale of Dunkin' Donuts every Friday, publicized by Sarah Geary, and a "Turkey Legs" competition at Thanksgiving. Having the best legs(girls were included in contest), Paul Lyshaug won the prize bird!

1) Our kitchen staff: Ann Husten, Barbara Erickson, Janice Cowen, Fern Hartley, Naomi Moennich, Betty Goertsen. 2) John van Behren. 3) Transportation Director, Bob Reagan, and Emo. 4) Gerry Castle. 5) Ray Cooper.

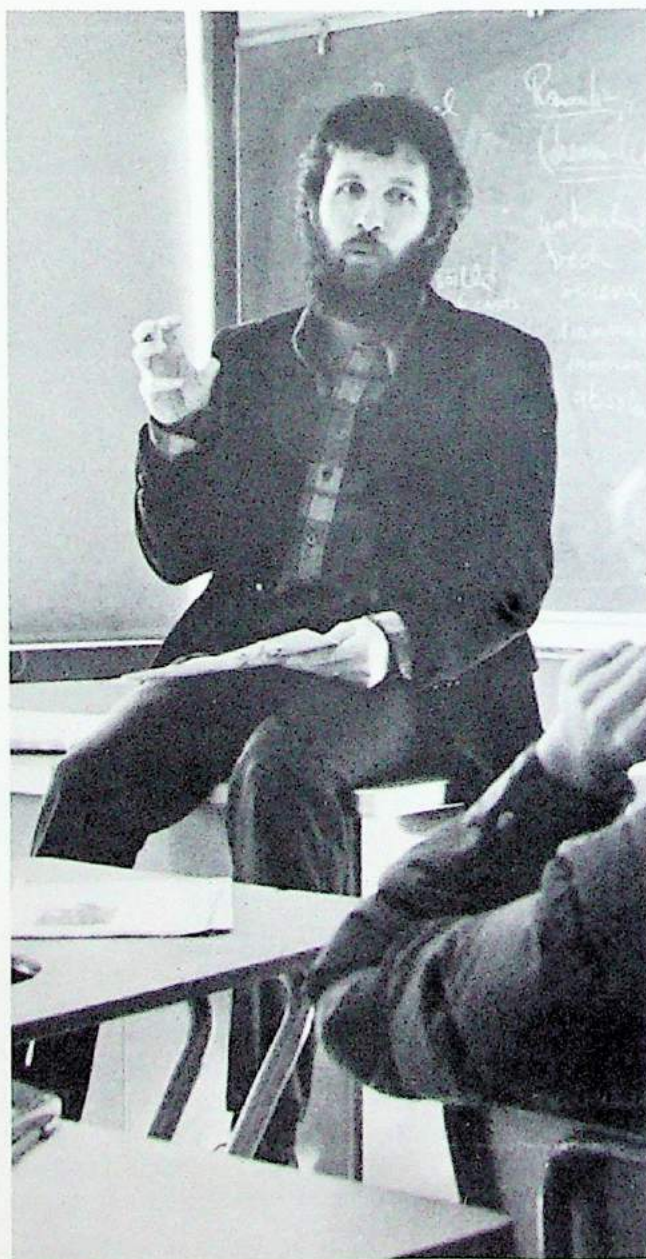

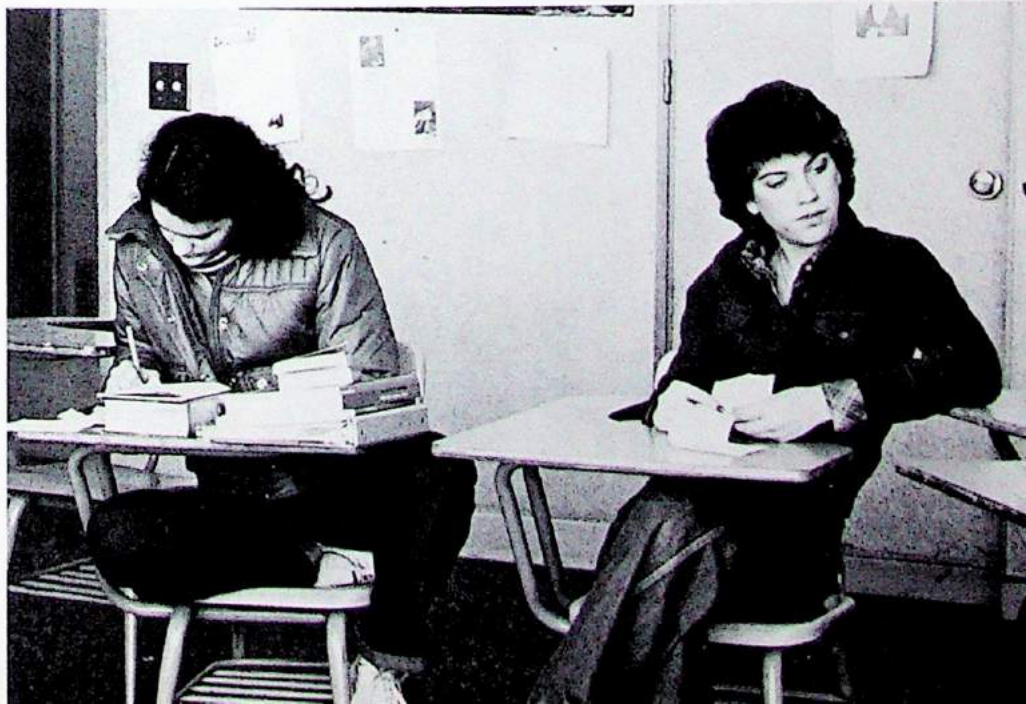

VOICES AND VISIONS, O.E.S.'s Art-Lit magazine, was produced in a PANYC class directed by Terry Hansen. Silkscreened posters designed by Jennifer Kennedy invited students and faculty to contribute original poems, drawings, short stories, and other literary efforts. Entries for publication were selected by class members: Christian Boatsman, Anna Lisa Fear, Toni Gudish, Kathy Harrison, Jennifer Kennedy, Jack Kent, Carrie Loar, Laura MacGregor, Peter Paulson, Shannon Pettit, Bonnie Potts, Katie Taylor, Petra Wandel, Tammy Wang, and Mike Wienecke.

1. Listening to Terry Hansen are Toby Sawyer, Petra Wandel, Christian Boatman, Shannon Pettit, and Toni Gudish. 2. Terry Hansen explains to Jennifer Kennedy.

ART-LIT

SPEECH

Anna Lisa Fear represented O.E.S. in a novice speech meet at Beaverton High School in October. She gave a serious interpretation from Maxwell Anderson's ANNE OF THE THOUSAND DAYS, and among her scores were several firsts.

The members fo the Speech PANYC spoke in a meet at St. Mary's of the Valley on February 16th. Kathleen Douglas, Adrienne Green, Ashley Kirkman, Karin Tinning, Annelise Wamsley, and Kim West developed confidence speaking before others and learned to communicate effectively.

1. Annelise Wamsley, Adrienne Green, Kathleen Douglas, Ashley Kirkman, Kim West, Karin Tinning, and Anna Lisa Fear debate whether the seniors should participate in Beach Day. 2. Kathleen Douglas listens to Julie Stevens' suggestions. 3. Ashley Kirkman and Kim West take notes.

The Driver's Education students committed themselves to Jason Gervich for in-class discussions of rules of the road and alcohol abuse. Each student also completed six hours behind the wheel and observed the driving of others. In the two years that OES has operated its cooperative drivers' ed. course with Jesuit and St. Mary's of The Valley High School, many students have found it a convenience and have met amusing people.

DRIVER'S ED.

COMMITTEES

The Forum Steering Committee, composed of both faculty and students, brought various speakers to the Upper School. Most regularly attending its lunchtime meetings were Chris Cutler, Bonnie Potts, Karin Tinning, Tammy Wang, Tom Goman, Chuck Reynolds, and Jim Dowell. This year's schedule provided an all-school Open Period Thursday mornings, to make assemblies possible. Among the presentations were one by Mr. Sokhom Sin concerning the Cambodian refugee crisis, and a film from the Hunger Project, whose purpose is to educate people about world hunger.

The Film Selection Committee's members were David Jackson, Peter Paulson, and Christian Boatsman. With the assistance of Kate Loggan, they brought to OES a screening of Zeffirelli's ROMEO AND JULIET. The evening presentation in the chapel was attended by both Oesians and Catlin Gable students. The audience was entertained by Zeffirelli's interpretation of Shakespeare's play.

The message board Committee was responsible for overseeing the messages on the message board in the entry hall and making sure that they were frequently changed. Sarah Geary, Ruth Preston, and Ruthanne Williams were on the committee, while Denise Dennis contributed frequently. Secret codes, Name That Tunes, obscure quotes, and almost - straightforward news announcements greeted the visitor to OES across from Mrs. McAlister's office.

1) The racers wait their turns on the mountain. 2) Racers Brad Whitcomb, Anna Lisa Fear, and Eric Hart with fan Christian Boatman. 3) Paul Lyshaug narrowly clearing the pole. 4) Anna Lisa Fear makes her turn. 5) Eric Hart tears along the straightaway.

The OES skiers enjoyed the season and scored strongly despite small turnouts and lack of bus service, which made team practice impossible. Because each team must have at least three racers, junior Anna Lisa Fear, raced against boys, with senior Paul Lyshaug, and junior Eric Hart. This first co-ed team in league history scored well for OES, and even hoped to go to state. Suzanne Marter coached the team.

SKIING

"Alors! En garde! Allez!" were likely to be heard in this year's fencing PANYC, taught by Alex Bigoniet, a French fencing master. Twelve Upper School students mastered the techniques of foil fencing. Payman Mehrassa, Babak Abbas-Zadeh, and several others competed in city meets. Although not quite ready for world-class competition, the fencers improved their poise, balance and assertiveness, just as their master had promised.

FENCING

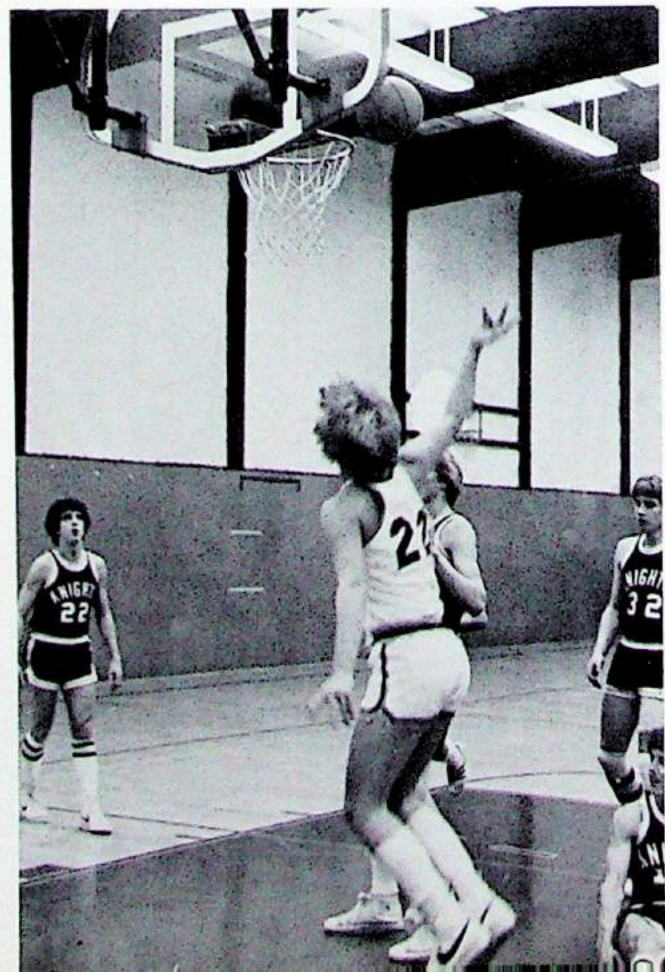

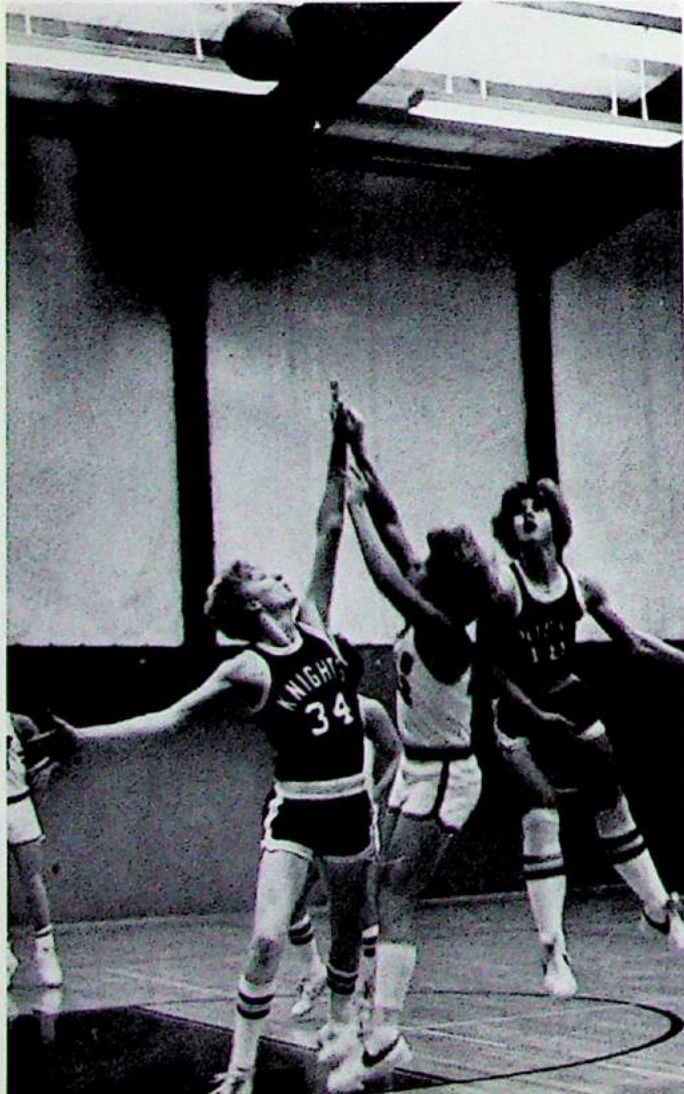

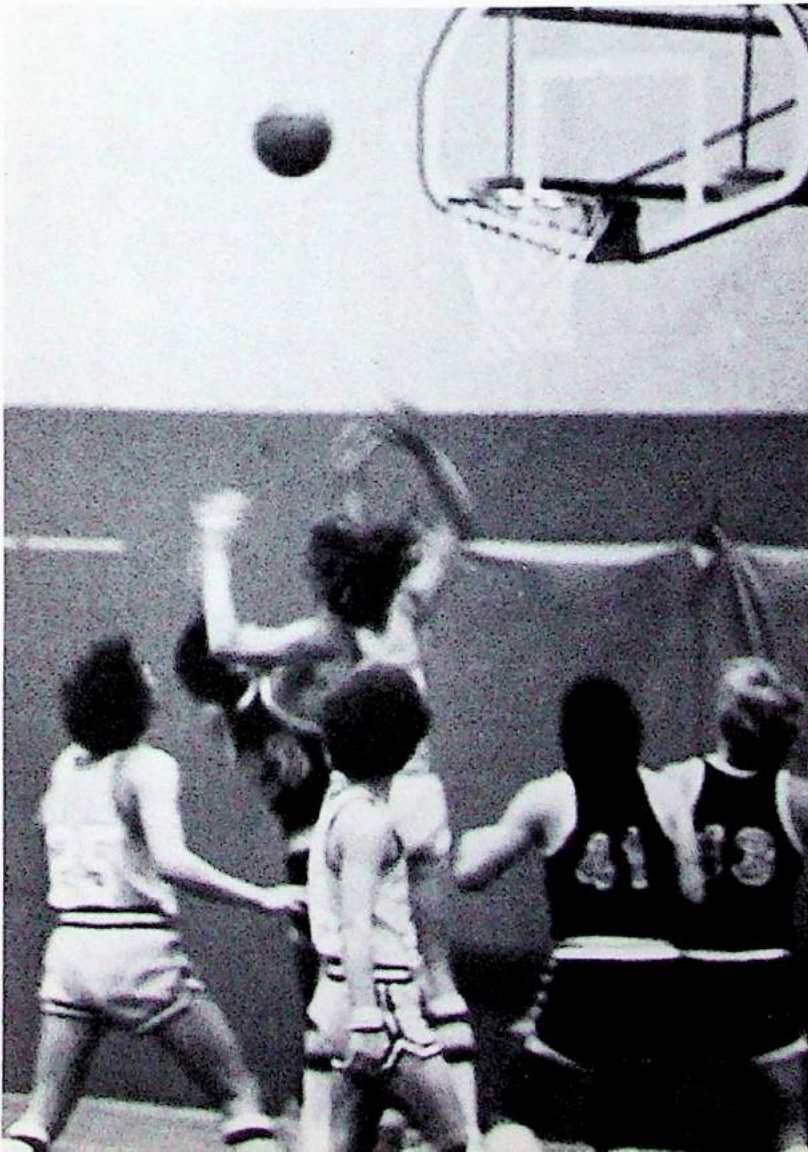

BOYS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1979-80 Oregon Episcopal School's Boys Varsity Basketball team was one of the most successful and team-oriented teams in recent history. Being a very inexperienced group of players, they molded well together and started off the season very well. The preseason record of 3-3 included a 98-18 romp over the Delphian School, which is a school record in scoring, and third place in the O.E.S. tournament, losing by two points to Perrydale and beating Jewell. In the first game of the regular season O.E.S. came from behind to beat Columbia Christian by one point on Kevin Berg's last-second shot. The rest of the season proved to be successful also.

The team only returned five lettermen this season. Returning were seniors Todd Husband (3rd year), Jeff Kohnstamm (2nd year), Russell Janney (2nd year), Barry Daigle (2nd year), and Ali Tabatabai (2nd year). Four new players, from J.V. Steve Eckhardt and Steve Ritchie, and new, Amir Najafi and Kevin Berg, came together well under the coaching of Gary Crossman (head coach) and Kris Hatcher (assistant coach).

The Boys Varsity and J.V. teams would like to thank Toby Sawyer, Tori Brock, Toni Gudish and Shannon Petit for their time, effort, and support throughout the season in managing the teams.

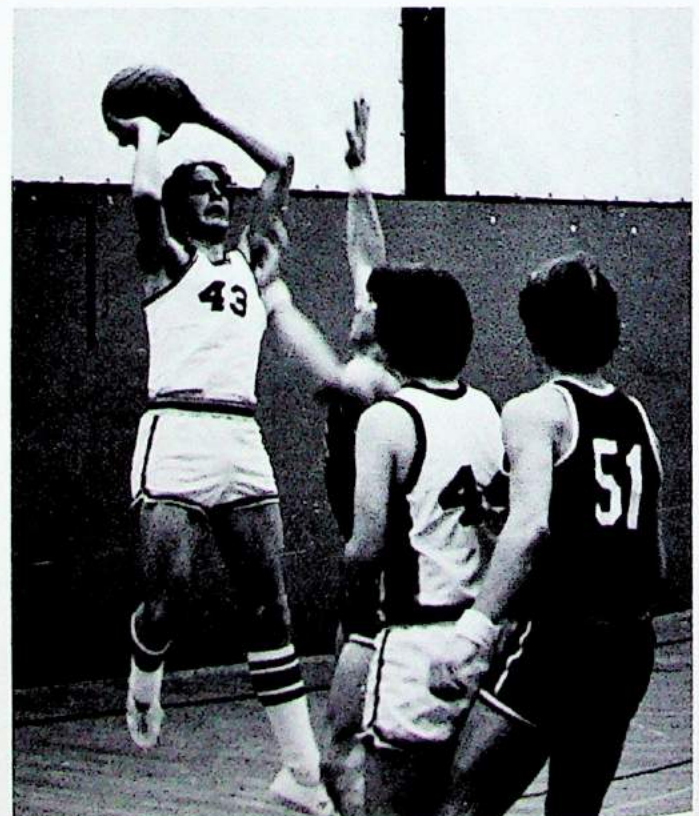

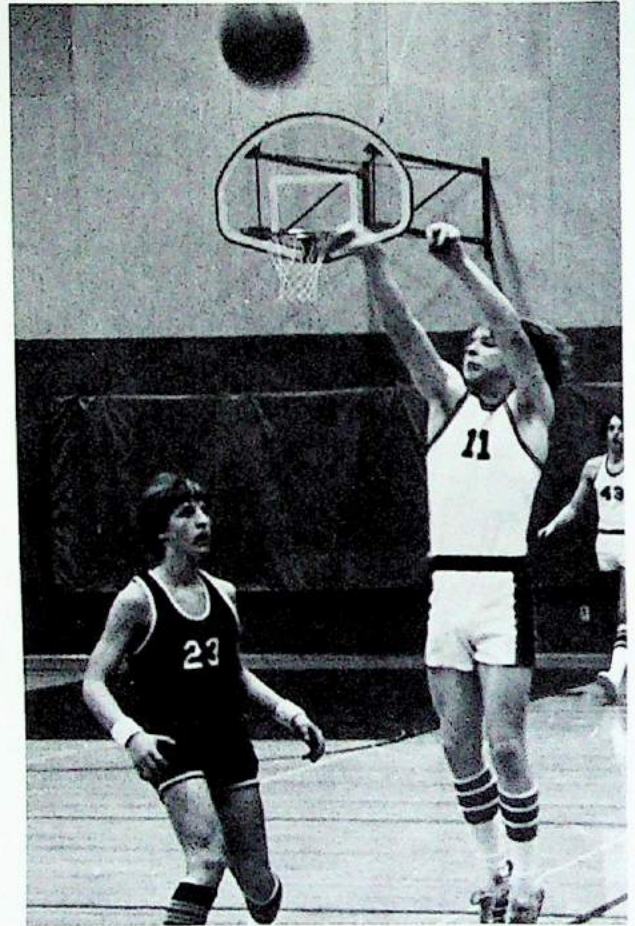

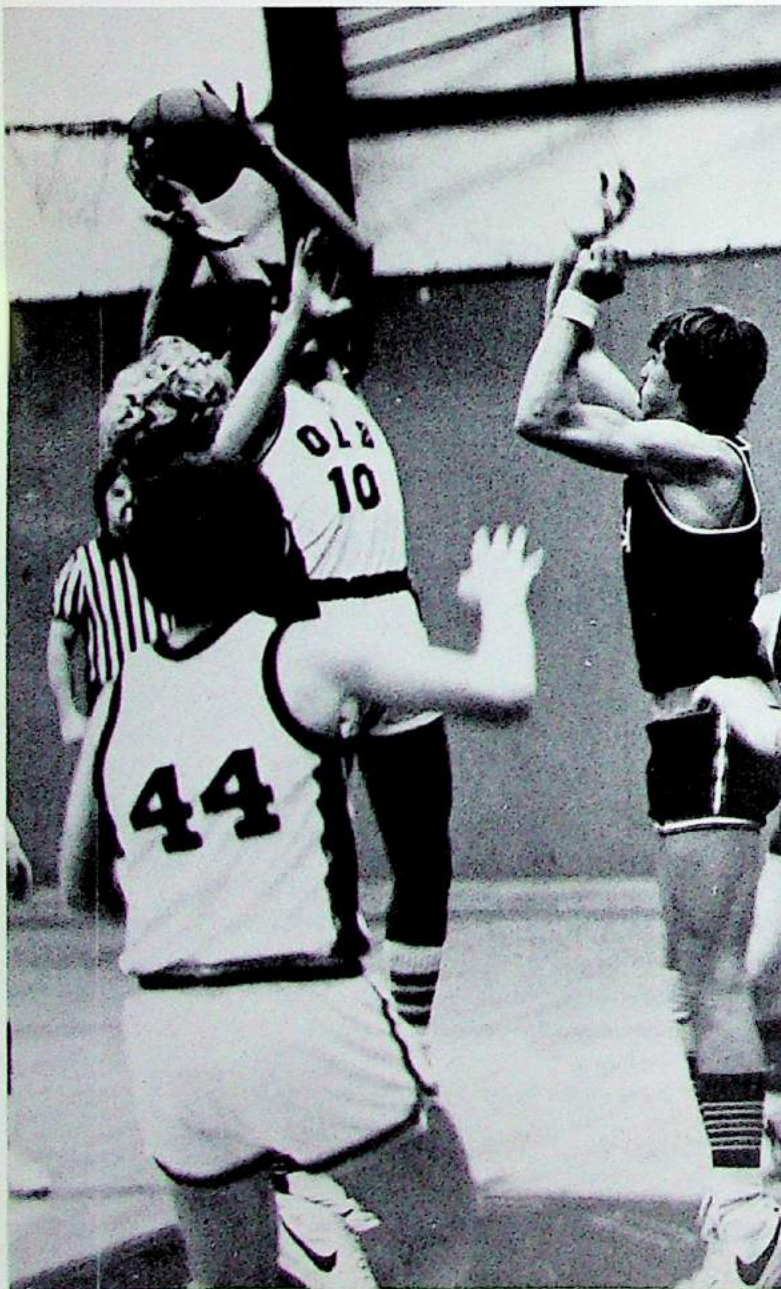

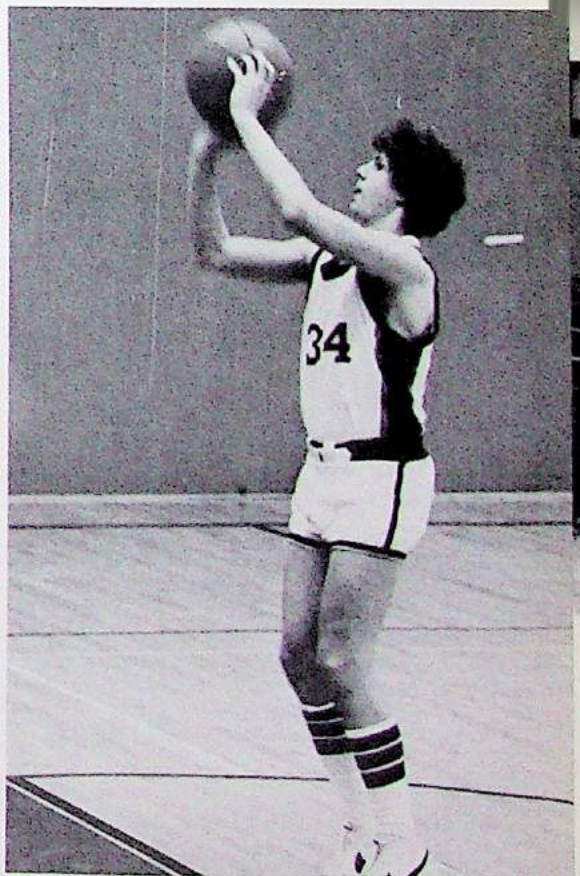

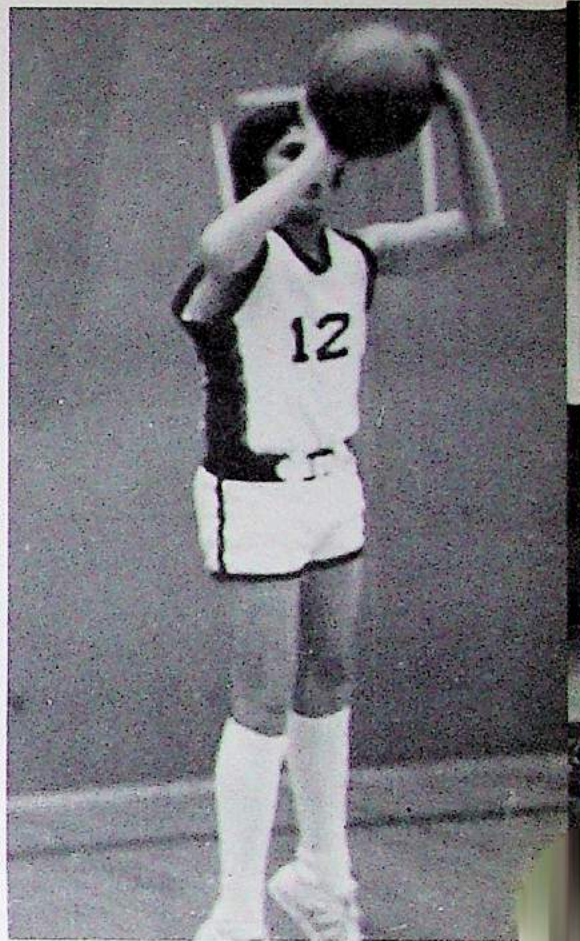

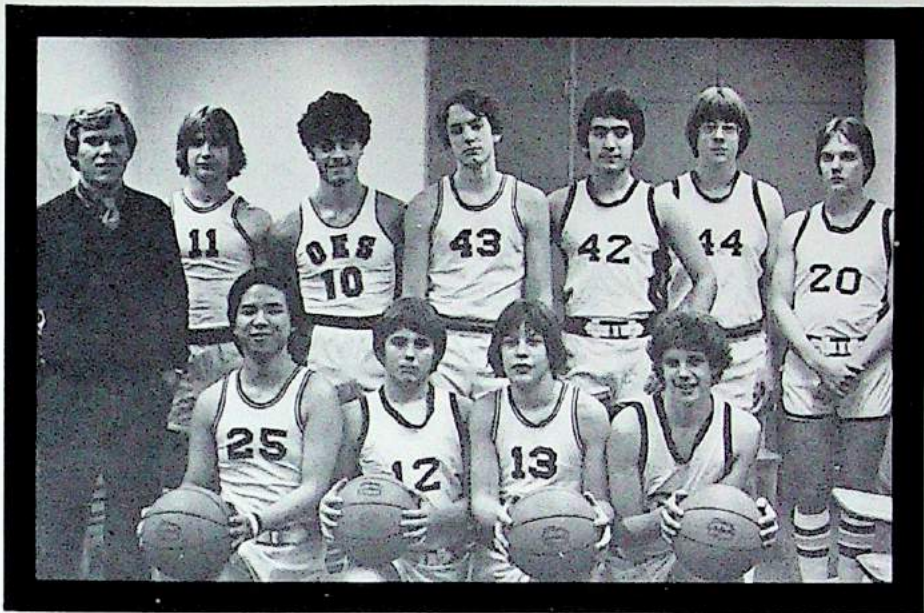

1. Kevin shoots a fade away over taller opponents. 2. Barry gets tip. 3. Textbook form 4. The team. Top row: coach Gary Crossman, Amir Najafi, Barry Daigle, Steve (stud) Ritchie, Steve Eckhardt. Bottom row: Kevin (K.B.) Berg, Russell Janney, Todd Husband, Jeff Kohnstamm. Front: Ali Tabatabai. 5. Russell Janney drives for layup. 6. Amir forces up shot. 7. Jeff Kohnstamm ready to pass to Russell.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

This year's O.E.S. Junior Varsity Basketball Team, like the varsity, had one of the better win-loss records in recent history. Under new J.V. coach David Sellers the team improved upon past records, obtaining six wins this season. The team consisted of many people who had not played much organized basketball and some who had not even played basketball before. But throughout the season these players ignited a game and brought the team back.

This year's team consisted of freshmen Geoff Fanning, Peter (Petie-pie) Janney, Joe Byrd, Paul D'anneo, and Mark Whittaker, Sophomore Jeff Cornell, juniors Amir Najafi and Babak Abbas-Zadeh, and seniors Jim Moore and Gerald Sun. This season has been one of the most satisfying in many years.

1. Amir rips down another rebound. 2. Geoff lets one fly. 3. Joe shoots over the defense. 4. The team: Coach David Sellers, Geoff Fanning, Amir Najafi, Joe Byrd, Babak Abbas-zadeh, Jeff Cornell, Jim Moore, Gerald Sun, Peter Janney, Paul D'anneo, Mark Whittaker. 5. Petie-pie pumps. 6. Joe shoots again. 7. Mark at the free throw line.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

OES's Girls Basketball Team this year has been one of frustration and little satisfaction. The team returned only four members of last year's team and there wasn't a great response from the other girls in the school to join the team. But the girls who did join the team enjoyed it very much. Though the team did not win very many games, some of the players said that just participating was rewarding.

Returning lettermen from last year were Michelle Fromm, Ashley Kirkman, Sarah Stephenson, and Carrie Loar. New players were Jenny Cornell, Seyayesh Sanjar, Dawn Bleakley and Annelise Wamsley.

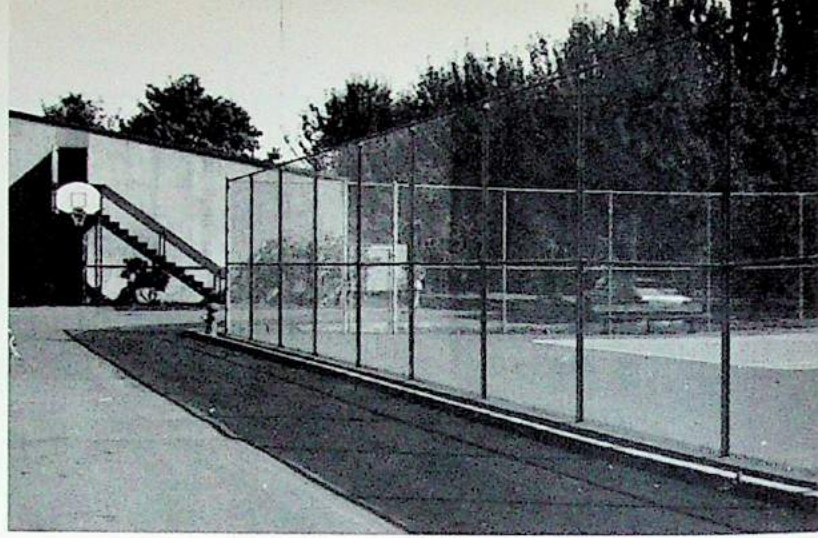

1. Sarah puts up shot 2. Michelle looking for an opening 3. Team rebounding 4. "Goodbye," he said.

"Goodbye," said the fox. "And now here is my secret, a very simple secret: It is only with the heart that one can see rightly; what is essential is invisible to the eye."

"What is essential is invisible to the eye," the little prince repeated, so that he would be sure to remember.

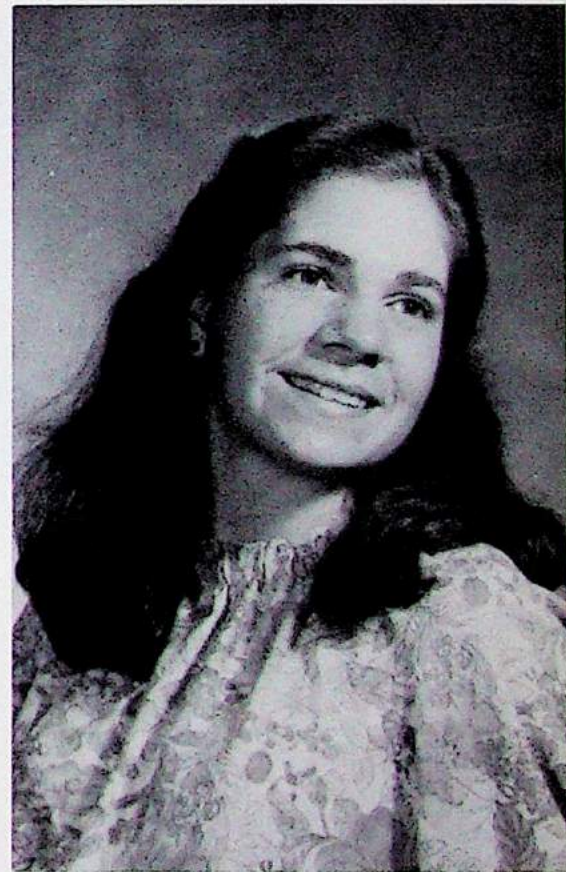

"It is the time you have wasted for your rose that makes your rose so important."

"It is the time I have wasted for my rose—" said the little prince, so that he would be sure to remember.

They can because they think they can
-Virgil

"Give a smile", said the clown.
I ran my eyes over his tattered clothing which hung on his emaciated body.
Then I looked beneath his smudged eye make-up and painted on a smile.
"Here", I said, "take a part of mine".

It's nice to be important,
But it's more important to be nice.

"And the little Blue Engine smiled and seemed to say as she puffed steadily down the mountain. 'I thought I could, I thought I could, I thought I could, I thought I could, I thought I could, I thought I could!'"

-Watty Piper

Happiness is inwards not outward;
and so it does not depend on what we have, but on what we are.

-Henry Van Dyke.

There is so much good in the worst of us,
And so much bad in the best of us,
That it hardly becomes any of us

-Pink Floyd

The permanent temptation of life
Is to confuse dreams with reality.
The permanent defeat of life is when dreams are surrendered to reality.

I'm very fond of stupidity. I think it's probably the most important and least understood aspect of American life. American society . . . has a concept of coolness and cuteness . . . Both are factors of stupidity . . . Now that we've established diplomatic relations with China . . . those people are ready for coolness, cuteness and stupidity . . . It's not getting any smarter out there . . . You have to come to terms with stupidity . . . and make it work for you.

— Beyond a Misty Hill —

Some people never go there
Perhaps they never will.
There's an unmarked road
To a silent grove
Beyond a misty hill.
They don't send invitations,
I doubt they ever will.
You walk alone
To a place I've known
Beyond a misty hill.
Most will never find it,
It might not be a thrill.
But the ones like me
Find a kind of peace
Beyond a misty hill.
There are no maps describing,
Nor is it found by skill.
It's an unmarked road
To a silent grove
Beyond a misty hill.
It's an unmarked road to a silent grove
Beyond a misty hill.

Listen hard.
You may hear something you never heard before

One of this teacher's major characteristics is her respect for people. This and a strong trust leads to an open, honest relationship between her and her students.

Often, when respect is given, it is earned back. Such is the case with this lady. We dedicate our Middle School section of the 79-80 yearbook to Miss Eleanor Fass.
