MISSION IMPOSSIBLE

This case's mission is to graduate 46 Seniors with a fun and exciting year. This research will show those involved (Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Faculty), what is necessary for them to graduate (Academics), the difficulties of getting there (Sports), the joys of the process (Activities), and those who supported them (People and Advertisers).

We're Almost There! Senior Year

Another year brings a new class of Seniors. This year's group spent their first few days together at the Sandy River. They thought about upcoming goals as a class and about the dreaded college applications. But, during their free time, there was no talk of colleges it was time to play.

The last night was spent all together passing around JLC's rock, the same rock that went on the Freshman trip when these big Seniors were little Freshman. The time has flown by and the rock was all but forgotten, but the old Seniors were glad to see it again and the new Seniors were glad to be included in the tradition.

Good Morning! Carl Russell is all smiles after a good night's sleep.

It's A Lovely Day! A group of Seniors enjoy a day of fun and games in the sun.

We're Ready, We've Got Each Other! Simone Stout and Amy Greene are prepared to take on Senior year.

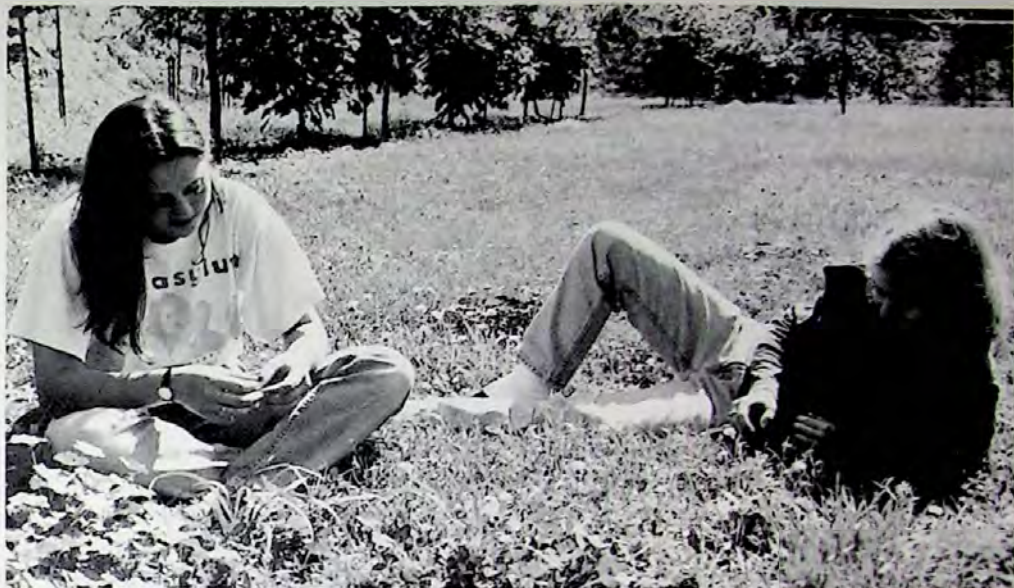

Do We Really Want To Do This? Nicole Swink and Louise Osborne mull over the fact that they are now Seniors.

Yeah, Just What He Said. Tristan Morse is enjoying his free time while warm in his sleeping bag.

Where's That Four Leaf Clover? Julia Weitzer and Erin Murphy search for charms to help start their last year right.

Hey, I Can See Your Cards. Matt Slater, Lorissa Foster and Tristan Morse play an intense game of cards.

"I Almost Got It!" Some Seniors try their luck at hacky sack and make the most out of a sunny day.

What Can I Say? Darren Olson is happy and ready to start his 3rd year at OES.

Row, Row, Row Your Boat . . . Galena Kline and John LeCavalier test the high seas.

Lee, You're Going the Wrong Way! Two Seniors Play imaginary basketball while Lee Njue goes the other way.

Juniors-The Work-A-Holics

We're finally done!! Angie Bevill, David Van Ballegooijen, Alexis Davis, and Gwen Gruetter relax during the day at the park on Friday.

Time for a break? Thomas Totanchy, Matt Clark, and Brian Crossman work hard to renovate Old McDonalds Farm for at-risk youth.

Lunch break!! Brian C., Chris E., Dan S. and Eric W. enjoy their lunch break; it was a good time to rest after three hours of hard work.

Peace everyone. A group of juniors enjoy lunch on their last day which was spent at Gabriel Park.

Gosh this is interesting! Tamas Fehér and Andersen English work on improving trails at Forest Park.

Every year the juniors take a trip all the way to South East Portland! The class is broken up into small service groups and they do various service activities on Wednesday and Thursday. Some of the activities were Community Energy Project, Trail work at Forest Park and Tryon Creek State Park, helping out at Old McDonalds Farm, and helping to do yard work for the elderly. In the evenings the class did various activities such as football, Frisbee, capture the flag, movies, and socializing. This year the class got Friday as a "free day!" The class decided to spend the day relaxing and playing games at Gabriel Park.

Careful, don't spill. Heather Gregory and Lacie Hickey carefully pour paint into buckets in order to paint animal houses at Old McDonalds Farm.

What is down there? Drew Rollins looks on intently as Tamas Fehér and Won Moc work on improving Forest Park.

Trek Through

Elias Silvernail is afraid of dinner.

John Waskey is a happy camper.

Sophomore Class Trip

For 3 days it was no showers, no bathroom and hard work. The OES sophomore class went back packing through Mt. Jefferson. The sophomores were divided into eight groups to travel on different sections of the trail in which all of the sophomores met up at the end of the hike. Each group was led by at least one OES faculty member and an Outward Bound instructor. There were 8 students to a group. Many of the OES students agreed that the hike was a great experience and a chance to get to know fellow OESians better.

The Woods

Stephanie Pevec, David Eder, and Elias Silvernail are happy to take get their packs off after a hard day's work.

Views like this make a long day of hard work seem worthwhile.

All the sophomores learned map and compass skills on the hike. But it's a good thing that no one got lost ...

Geez, that bag looks heavy!

Bambi is found along the hike. Other animals such as frogs were not uncommon.

Stephanie Pevec is tired of group activities.

Getting To Know You!

This aardvark is one of many sand-creations made by groups of Freshmen, for the competition.

The freshman trip took place at Camp Magruder, near Seaside. There was a lot to do, other than playing "get to know you" games, including the traditional "Freshman sharing time around the campfire, with the sacred rock, on the last night." We could play a variety of sports, and there was also a big swing that many enjoyed; teachers and students. We had a question/answer time, where we learned all the "what ifs" about being caught smoking. We also had access to a lake, where boats were open to us, if the lifeguard was there. During the free time they gave us, we were able to visit the ocean, or stare at the 6,000 cross country runners passing by. The Freshman Trip was a good learning experience and a lot of fun.

"That could work ..." Anna Blessing and Nick Merwin work on their "Egg-Drop" project.

"Teamwork!" Anna Wahler and Shingo Harada are hard-at work to make their egg unbreakable with a limited amount of straws and tape.

The Freshman Trip

Perfect!" Yumi Shigematsu helps her group out by adding the finishing touches to their sand-creations.

"Lovely weather we're having." Lynn Huynh enjoys a nice sunny day at the beach with the rest of her class.

"Here I goowaaaaah!" Anne Bartlett enjoys a wild ride on the big swing.

"I've got you now!" The "dragon" (John Capen) attacks his "trespasser" (Chris Locke) in the faculty communications skit.

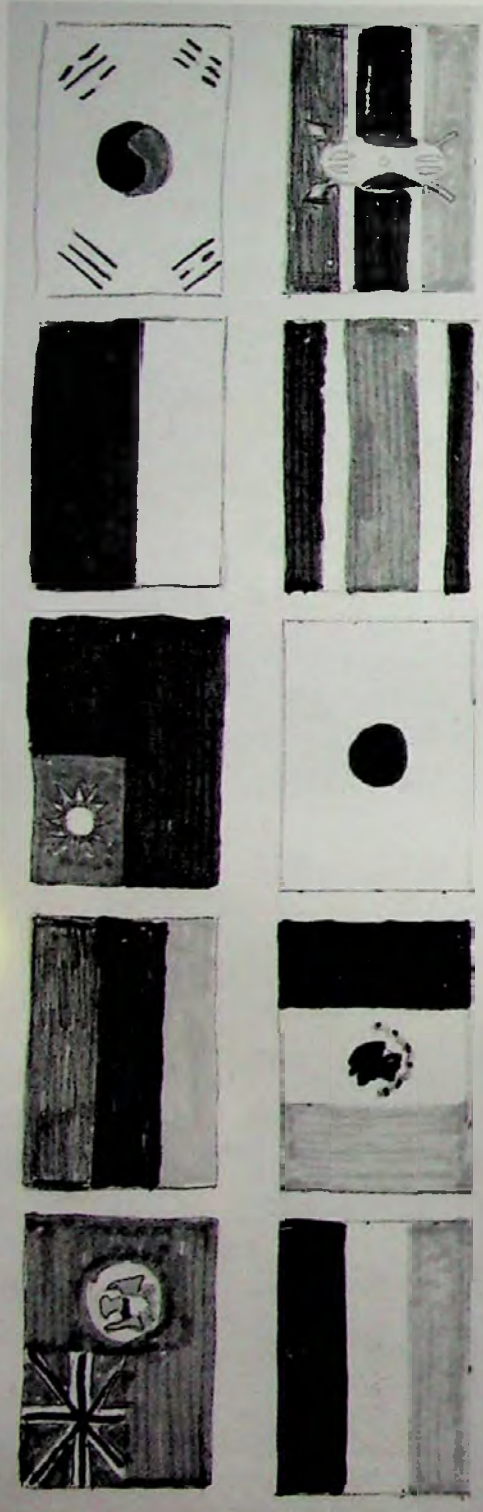

"Hmph! Where'd he go?!!" John Capen's impersonation of an isolated dragon about to encounter his first "houseguest."

Corbet Clark can fly?

Hibernating Aardvarks

The Lady's Man ... Yeah, right: Brian Zakarian with Katie Meyers, Pamela Par and Rachael Cookson.

Friends Forever. Kavita Heyn, Rachael Cookson, and Joana T. de Figueiredo reflect the friendships that develop in the dorms.

Dormies take their free time to pose for a "HOTTIE" shot: Tom Teng, Yosuke Sawada, Elisabeth Surya, Cassandra Lautenschleger, Masakazu Kobayashi, Vivien Sit, Jack Teng, Sarah Pope, Won Moc, Kavita Heyn, Brian Zakarian, and Kristen Solberg.

"Hello There!": Sydney Levin

The guys in the dorms have great fun! Can't you tell? David Warner, Tom Teng, and Brian Zakarian.

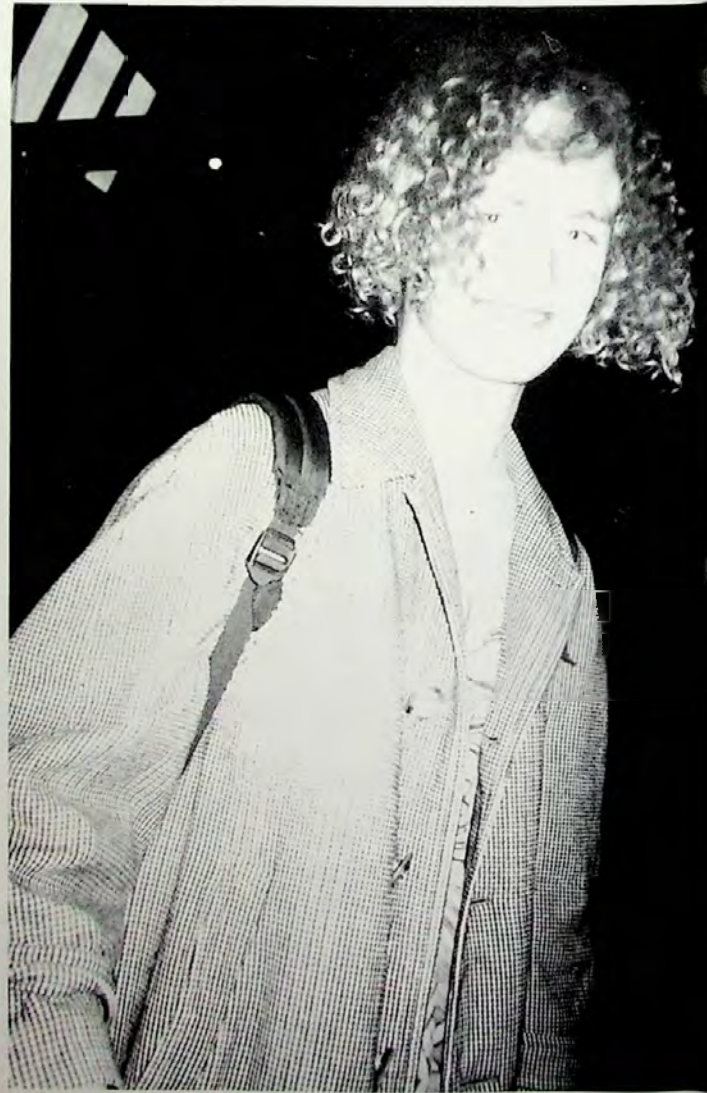

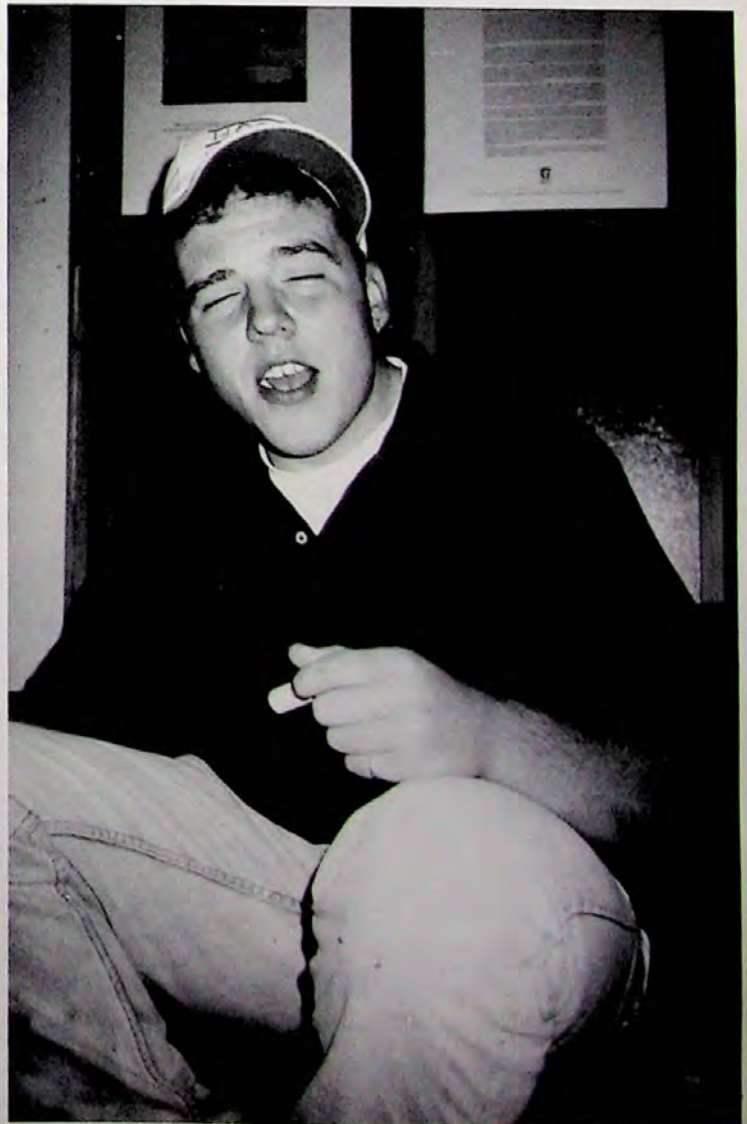

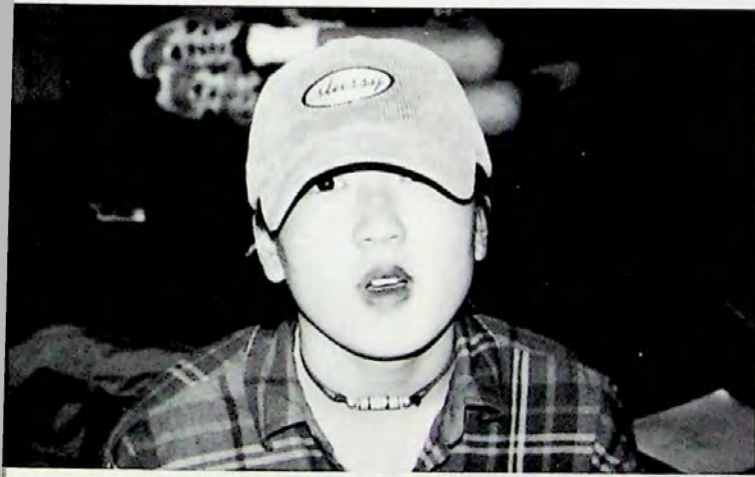

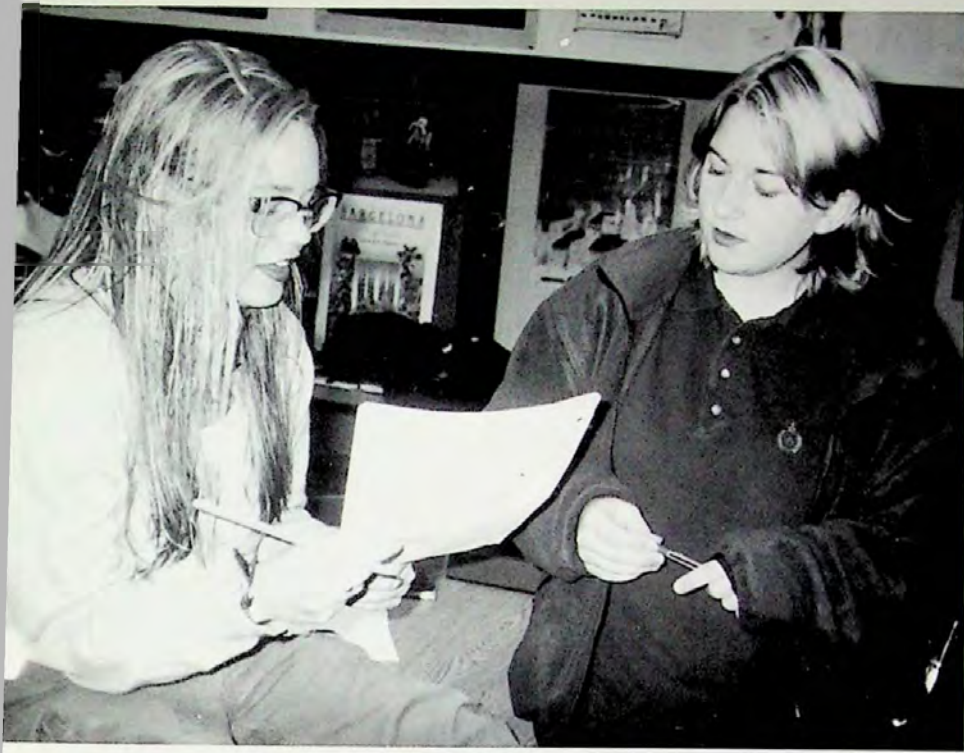

"You're kidding," Rachael Cookson, Kristen Solberg and Joana Tenorio have fun during a dorm meeting.

"Did I hear someone say couch potato?": Joana Tenorio and Kavita Heyn.

The dorm students were a little tentative about starting a new year, but with the help of new and old dorm parents it was easier getting to know people. From staying up late on the weekdays watching Comedy Central, to going bowling on the weekends, the dormies had a great time getting to know each other. "OES is a community, but the dorm students create a diverse community within that." Quotes like these may give you an idea of what it is like to live in the dorms, but unless you actually do, you'll never have the privilege of knowing what it's like to be a Hibernating Aardvark.

Announcements, announcements, announcements...

Uh, what'd he say? Gwen Gruetter, Louise Osborn and Kristin Solberg decipher strange announcements.

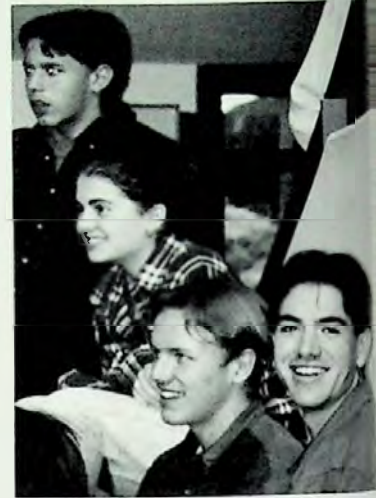

Gathering is a time when both teachers and students share announcements, and wrack their brains to answer the daily trivia question posed by Ted Kollar, the Trivia Master. Every Friday is Mystery Friday where a few lucky students fall prey to the Student Council and participate in one of their silly activities. Gathering often provides a nice break in the school's daily routine.

"What Did I Do To Deserve This?" Evan Seifert, Student Council President, survives another Mystery Friday.

"We're Out For BLOOD!" Ashley Berman announces a girls' soccer game against our top rival, Catlin Gabel.

3 Out of Every 4 Students Think Gathering Is Fun. Danie Schiff, Joana Tenorio, David Warner, and Carl Russell sit through another Gathering.

"How Y'all Do-in'?" Trivia-Ted asks his traditional question during gathering.

"Aren't I Beautiful?" Simon Brown gets "beautified" by his sister Clair during the sibling Mystery Friday.

"Someone Do Something Funny Before We All Fall Asleep!" Cuong Luu, Drew Rollins, and Jordan Ziegler desperately try to stay awake.

"Can't Wait To Hear That Trivia!" Tristan Morse, last year's Trivia Master, gets excited for gathering.

Myths, Mesopotamia, and Monks

So What Is Love...? Darren Olson and Jeff Herman in Philosophy of Love.

The English department offers a wide variety of courses for Seniors. One of the more interesting courses is Shakespeare for the Stage. In this course students approach the plays as plays instead of literature. They study the characters and write critical essays about them to learn how to portray them better. The course is centered around the Shakespeare plays going on in Portland, many of which they will see during the semester.

No, It's Like This ... Amy Wilson, Aaron Bitte, and Lloyd deBruin get into a deep discussion about History.

Kei Yamaguchi, Amy Greene, and Jack Teng listen to David Streight in Philosophy of Love.

Nicole Swink, Alice Gray, and Rachael Cookson in Buddhism.

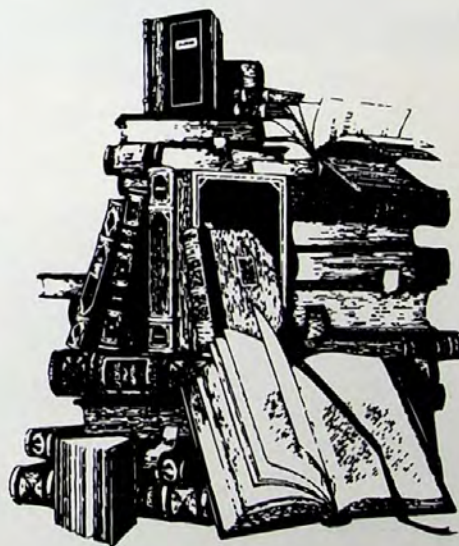

Deep Thoughts on Buddhism with Dan Menely.

Almost Done! Andersen English, concentrating on finishing his U.S. History assignment.

Carissa Ponting, Wairimu Mungai, and Cuong Luu express their feeling about Humanities.

Clair Brown and Taylor Matheson having fun in English.

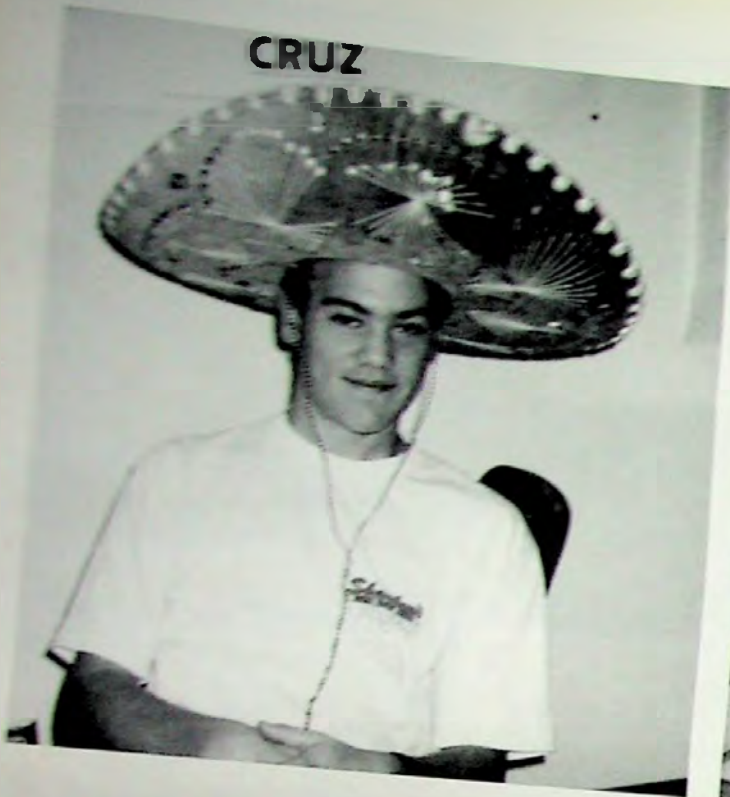

Robin Walsh, Henry Chandler, and Heather Curl, hard at work in Humanities.

I'm Done! Tunde Sosanya kicks back in U.S. History while Brian Crossman, Thomas Totonchy, and Jordan Elliot work on their assignment.

David Warner asks Annie Kellett if she wants a hair cut.

DEPARTAMENTO DE IDIOMAS

DEPARTEMENT DE LANGUES ÉTRANGÈRES

Universal Languages

This year, foreign language has taken a great and exciting start. Most students at OES take a foreign language or speak one. OES students have the option of taking Japanese, French or Spanish. The OES teachers teach language skills and customs of the cultures that we learn about. This year's French teachers are Micheline Ghattas and Pam Vohnson, Rich Sherwood and Atsuko Matsuyama are teaching Japanese and Katharine Kimball and Dana Lewis have been teaching Spanish.

Students have been given the option of spending time in a different country to apply to language skills that they learn at OES. Such programs have been offered from the AMIGOS program, ASSIST, Rotary, and others.

Dana Lewis explains a Spanish lesson to Alice Gray, Sarah Morse, and Angie Bevill while playing charades.

Andy de Guzman wonders why he's the only French student in the class.

The Three Stooges Andy de Guzman, Tristan Morse and Carl Russell show us what Spanish is all about: Eating and goofing off!

Derivitives, Databases, and Deadcats

OES has an excellent science department. We offer a wide variety of choices. They are Biology, Honors Biology, Wetlands Ecology, Chemistry, Honors Chemistry, Physics, Honors Physics, Advanced Physics, Anatomy and Physiology, Environmental Geology, and Science, Technology, and Society.

Our math department is structured to fit the needs of each individual. Many classes at any different levels are offered for that reason. The math department consists of Sharon Cade, Gary Crossman, Nancy Doulis, Art Horst, Martha Horst, Sue Knight, and Chris Locke.

Computers are a major part of the academic needs at OES. Every student has an e-mail account and the computer lab is never empty. The computer department consists of the one and only "lovely" John Kerslake.

John Lamb makes dissecting his furry friend fun.

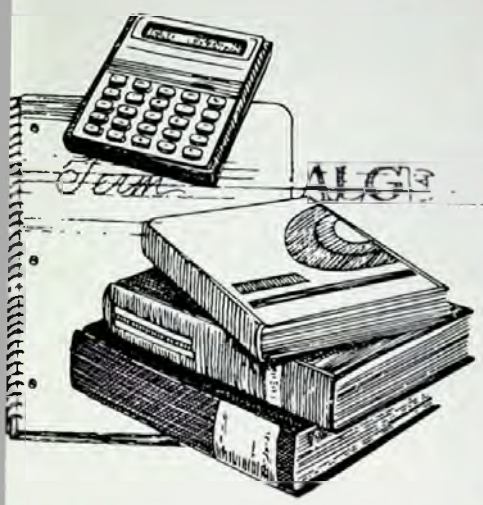

BEST BUDS. Gabe Levin and his anorexic friend team together to do ... Um ... Scientific things.

With intensity Erin Murphy clips the skin of the dead cadaver.

BLAST FROM THE PAST!! Annie Warner, dressing for success, works blatantly on her FST homework.

LOOK AT ME, MOM!! While showing off for the camera Mr. Locke still manages to teach his Advanced Algebra class.

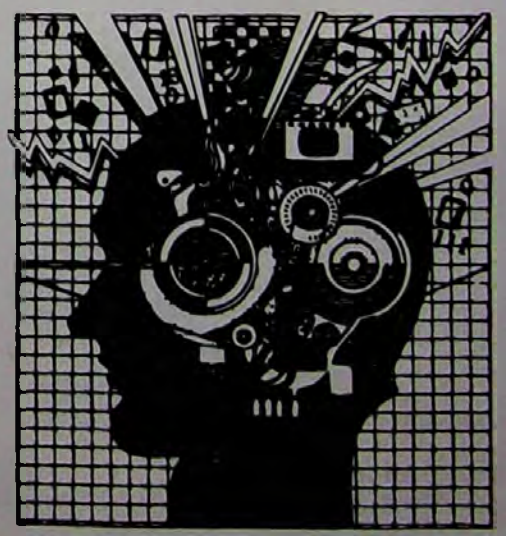

ARE WE HAVING FUN YET? Eyeing the camera, Chris Edell finds a way to distract himself, for a second, from his PDM class.

Candy Koo and Keita Miyazaki work intensely on the computer.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN I HAVE NO MAIL? Won Moc curiously looks at his e-mail, but disappointedly finds nothing.

A Part In The Arts...

O.E.S. offers many art courses including Ceramics, Art Trek, Paper Arts, Graphic Arts and Architecture. Students in Drawing 1 learn to draw in different perspectives and at the end of the semester must complete a self-portrait. In the painting class students learn how to make a canvas, mix paints, and to paint. Art Trek involves a variety of projects. Students get to experience ceramics, drawing, Indian Art, and other media.

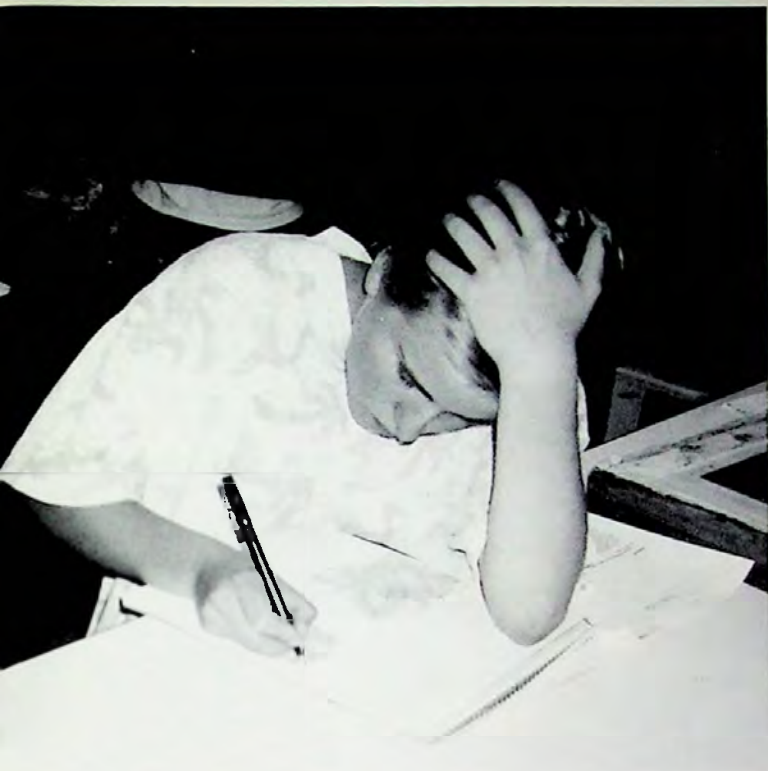

HMM ... LET'S SEE HERE

WORK! WORK! WORK!
Leslie Colip steadily works on her project for Graphic Art.

FALLING ASLEEP?

Quite the opposite! Kendra Smith, a Senior, concentrates extremely hard on her art project.

WHAT IS ART?

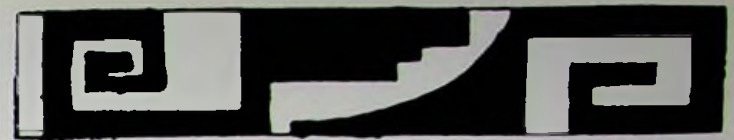

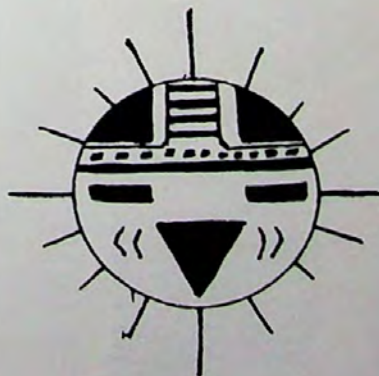

"Art is a black circle in a white room," Bre Orsborn.

"Those lines on paper," Laura Champion.

"Art is that guy who lives with Martha!" Jennifer Liggett.

"Art is music, love, poetry and anything you want it to be," Pam Parker.

"A way of expressing yourself," Carola Sonnde.

CLAY. CLAY. CLAY.

Boxes of clay wait to be used by the ceramic class.

STROKE! STROKE!

Carola Sonnde gets into her calligraphy assignment.

So Many Activities, So Little Time!

Activity period is meant to be a time when students go outside the normal curriculum in ways that are meant to be fun and educational. Some activities' goal is to produce a product like a newspaper or the Art-Lit magazine, but some are just meant to give students a chance to pursue other interests they have.

Kiruthi Njenga talks with Rosa Hemphill during the research activity.

Sarah Pope in Concert Band, which gives more accomplished musicians a chance to play in a group.

Yumi Shigematsu concentrates on playing her violin in Concert Band.

Evan Seifert leads yet another Student Council meeting while Alexis Davis, Kei Yamaguchi, and Annie Warner listen intently.

Robin Walsh works on perfecting another letter in Calligraphy.

Alice Gray works on her Calligraphy assignment.

Ryan Radecki and Travis White looking excited as they listen to Annie Warner in Student Council.

During Peer Counseling, Shane Fisher works on, uh ... counseling stuff.

John Liu, Joana T. de Figueiredo, Serena Lin, and Rita Lee work with Robin Weitzer to produce "The Voice," a newsletter written by the international students.

In preparation for Open-Mike night, Sydney Levin sets up the lights in the Great Hall.

Senior Sorrow. Seniors Cassie Lautenschleger, Julia Weitzer, and Kathi Shoemake are sad to see volleyball season come to an end, but Cassie is going a little too far!

Showing her unique, but effective way of spiking, Gwen Gruetter dances her way to victory.

Circle of Friends. The girls varsity volleyball team show not only their sportsmanship, but their great friendship as well.

Picture Perfect. Gwen Gruetter, Julia Weitzer, and Kathi Shoemake give big smiles to show their hard work and friendship.

V. I. (B-row, L to R): A. McClung, L. Colip, Coach Lamb, S. Fisher, W. Mungai, P. Iles, K. Solberg, J. Lee, L. Daaboul.

Big Slam!! Heather Gregory slams the ball and wins a point against Portland Adventist.

Bang it Boys!! Annie Kellett, David Warner and Won Moc show their spirit by cheering for the girls varsity volleyball team.

Standing Tall. Heather Gregory and Meghan Daaboul aren't afraid to show that they are kids at heart.

Men's Soccer

Pretty Boys David Eder, Won Moc, Yosuke Sawada, Kei Yamaguchi and Lee Njue pose for GQ magazine

Carl "The Muscle" Russell counts how many players he went through to score

Tristan Morse is "The Man".

O.E.S. Kick It!!!

O.E.S. Girls Varsity Soccer TEAM

O.E.S. Girls Varsity had a terrific season. The Varsity Coach, Kris VanHatcher, helped prepare the team and get them ready to win most of their games. "Even if he did make us get up at 7:00am during the pre-season, we couldn't have done it without him," quotes one of his players. The team went on to win the Sportsmanship Award and are now League Co-Champions.

ATTACK!!!
 Ashley Berman tries to plow over the other team's goal to make a goal for her team.

ALMOST THERE!
 Amy Wilson goes after the ball, ready to score at anytime.

GETTIN' GROOVY!
 To show their team spirit, Girls Varsity Soccer goes retro-70s.

O.E.S. GIRLS J.V. SOCCER

Girls J.V. Soccer had a good season. Although they did not win all their games, they still did a great job. The first goal of the season was scored by Rose Whitmore. Coreen Sapp, one of the two J.V. goalies says, "I love being goalie because of all the pressure!" This year the coach for the team was Katharine Kimball or "Kat" as she is referred to by the team.

BUTTS UP!!!
Mandy Stewart, Lacie Hickey, and Amy Wilson get ready to pounce on their players!

OH, NO YOU DON'T!
Amy Wilson blocks out her defender so she can't get to the ball.

COME AND GET IT!!!
Stephanic Pevec dribbles the ball towards the other team's goal.

THERE IT GOES!
Mandy Stewart watches the ball roll by before running after it.

LOOK AT ME!!!
Pam Parker uses all her strength to do a throw-in.

Bottom: Jennifer Liggett, Gwen Gruetter, Coreen Sapp, Theresa Nogeire, Annie Kellett, Heidi Phillips, Angie Bevill

Smile For The Camera! Heidi Phillips and Angie Bevill are anxious to get up to the mountain.

Conor Huseby speeds down the course eager to see how fast he's flying.

Henry Chandler barrels down the course in hopes of winning first place.

RACER #17 IN THE STARTING GATE. Racer ready, 10 ... 5 ... 4 ... 3, and Sue Spencer gets ready to tear up the varsity course.

John Waskey speeds down the JV course taking his turns quick and tight.

Varsity girls Sarah Pope and Theresa Nogeire smile and wait for their races to begin.

READY AND WAITING. Simon Brown waits patiently for his race to begin.

Hard Work Pays Off...Sometimes

Coach Sherwood, Asst. Coach Frey, Voll, Morse, Yu, Lautenschleger, Greene, Foster, Schunk, Parker, Hickey, Choi.

We Always Knew She Was Possessed. Vicky Choi leaves her defender behind as she drives for the basket.

Mine! Lacie Hickey jumps up for a rebound against Catlin while Lorissa Foster and Katherine Voll rush to help out.

He Is Not OK! Varsity coach Rich Sherwood doing, um, well ... his own thing.

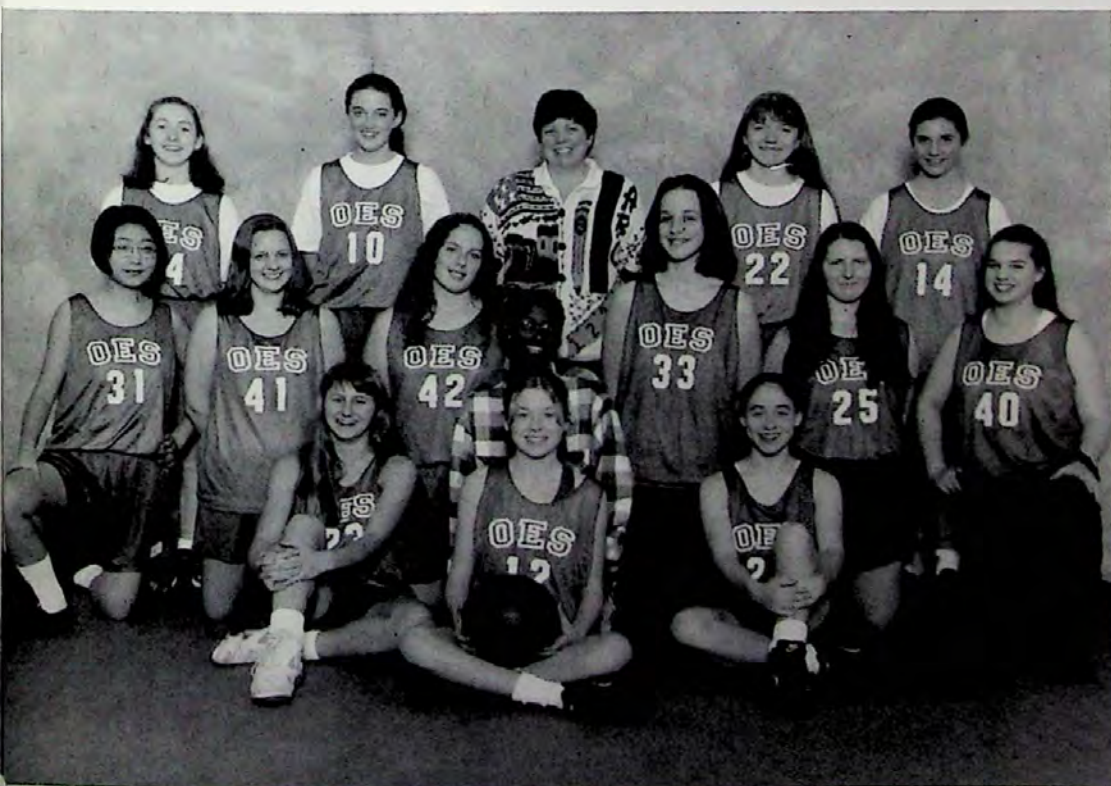

Just Try And Stop Me. Jessica Yu takes a jump shot over her defender in a game against Catlin.

You Wanna Fight About It? Rich expresses his frustration while Jessica Yu cheers on her teammates.

Who Are YOU Looking At? Varsity Assistant Coach Cara Frey is looking excited at half-time.

Another Year, Another Exciting Team

JV2 Back Row: N. Lowe, N. Rein, C. Luu, Coach Carmichael, N. Liu, W. Darden, D. Kang
 Second Row: M. Vaneslow, O. Ortega, N. Merwin, D. Beutler, R. Gunawan, J. Zeigler

Tristan Morse For Three!

This year's basketball teams did a great job, and had a wonderful season. The varsity team started the year off with a bang, winning their first Jamboree game. A lot of people showed up for their big game: Will they go to playoffs? Nobody knows for sure yet. Congratulations on a job well done; and good luck for games to come!

JV Back Row: D. Warner, W. Moc, Coach King, O. Inan, B. Crossman

Varsity Back Row: C. Russell, J. Elliot, G. Phillips, O. Inan, J. Teng, Front Row: T. Morse, D. Cade, T. Teng, K. Williamson, L. deBruin, T. Sosanya

"What'll It Be Coach?" Jack Teng, Omer Inan, Tom Teng, Grant Phillips and Lloyd deBruin listen intently.

"Anyone Open?" Jordan Elliott has to think fast about his next move.

These guys are obviously enjoying a little rest.

“Will Fence for Food!”

Due to the masks worn by fencers, I was unable to identify each person in the fencing pictures, however, those who I could identify, I did.

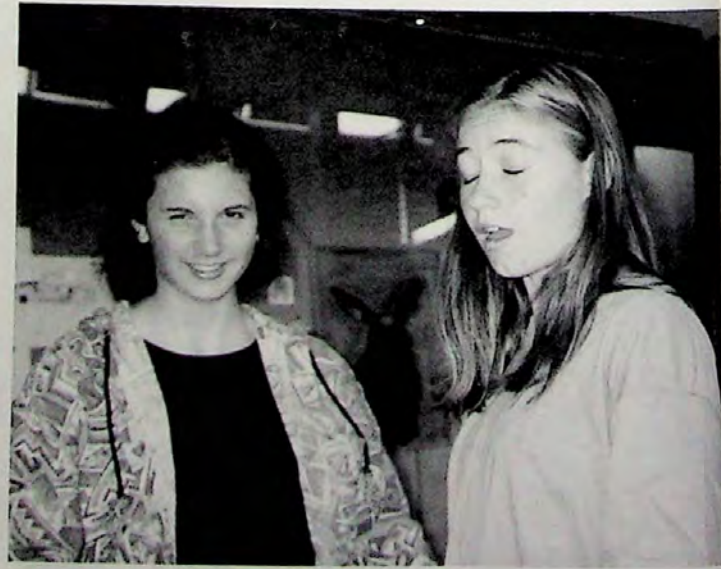

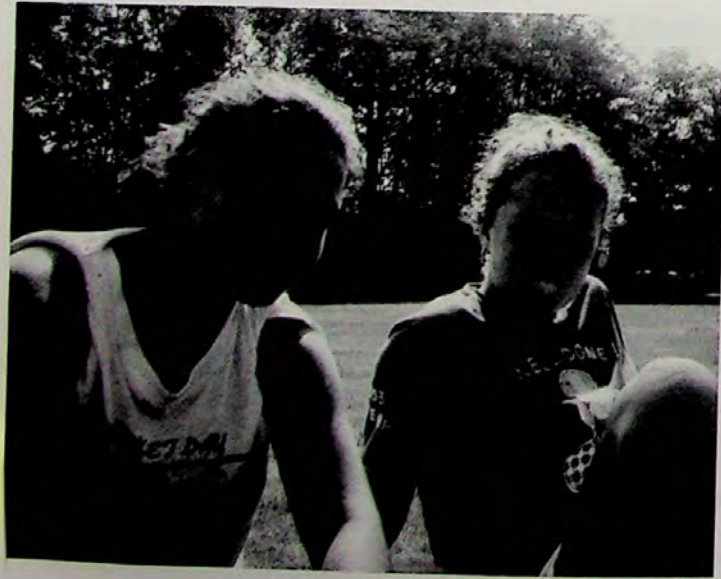

“Fencing Is Life!!” Greer Rabiega shows his love for Fencing by wearing an eye-catching T-shirt.

Activities

Music Mania!!!

PARTY ON!

The OES choir trip becomes a great place for hanging out and of course singing!

OES has many musical opportunities. There is choir, acappella, musical theatre, and a jazz band. Musical theatre and choir are directed by Adam Steel. Acappella is made up of a group of chosen singers under the direction of Diana Kornet.

SLEEPING ON THE JOB?

Director Adam Steele seems to be taking a doze during choir practice.

NEW MUSIC GUYS?

Evan Seifert and John Liu take time to study their music.

AH MAN!

Won Moc looks as though he has made a mistake, while on lookers start to laugh.

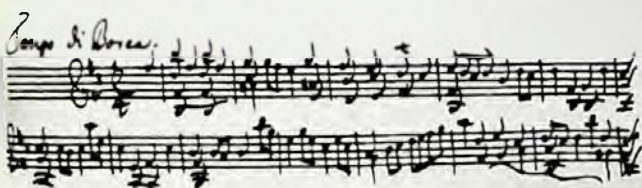

NOW SMILE!

X-Periods & Chapels

This year the OES community was fortunate to have such visitors as Freeman Dyson, Jane Goodall, and Richard Leakey just to name a few. Not only do we have these people to thank for providing us with thought provoking insights but our diverse student and faculty community has entertained and helped us gain knowledge on various subjects all year. Our chapels and X-periods have given us this unique opportunity which is only another great aspect of the OES community. And what did the Kenyans think about Richard Leakey? "I think he does a very good job with the conservation of wildlife in Kenya, but I don't think he should get involved with politics," said Lee Njue. But Kiruthi Njenga's opinion was a little different. "Mr. Leakey's political intentions are very good. I think he should join with other political powers, and I wouldn't mind if he became president."

Dr. Jane Goodall enjoys a cup of coffee with her tail-less chimpanzee after speaking to the OES upper school.

A skit is performed for the All School St. Nicholas Chapel.

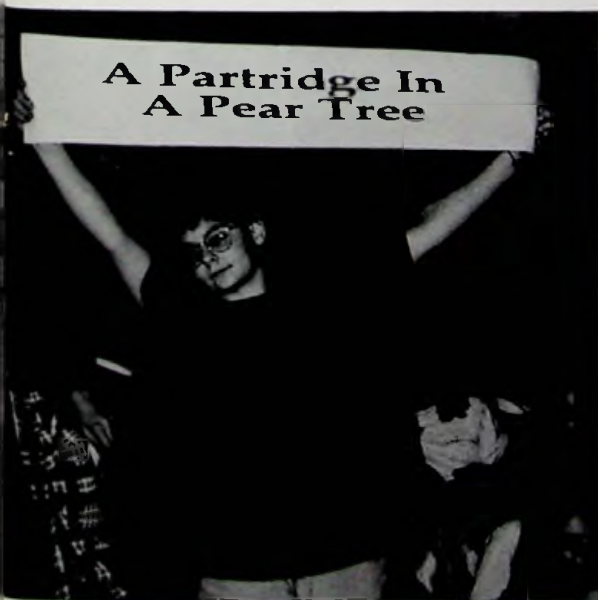

Michael Charpentier blows us away with his talent.

"The Spanish Inquisition": Evan Porter-Seifert and Ryan Radecki perform a skit during a Mystery Friday.

The Curious Savage

"Where Are Those Bonds?" Nancy Pickering defends her husband, Adam Greene, from an accuser who thinks that Adam Greene is the one who stole the bonds.

"I Hope She Isn't Beautiful. Competition Exhausts Me." Eager Adrienne Ponting listens to Heather Gregory recalling her days as an actress.

"My Head Is Pounding." Heather Gregory fools her three children into thinking she is terribly ill.

"I Can't Believe It!" Heather Gregory informs Elizabeth Savage of her great fortune.

"It Can't Be!" Nancy Pickering finds the truth of Heather Gregory's fortune.

"Oh, How Dreadful." Heather Gregory reads of her children's encounter with the police.

CAST

- Mrs. Savage: Heather Gregory
- Titus: Ryan Radecki
- Lily Bell: Taylor Wilcox
- Samuel: Marcin Jeske
- Fairy Mae: Adrienne Ponting
- Hannibal: Darren Olson
- Jeffrey: Adam Greene
- Florence: Heidi Phillips
- Mrs. Paddy: Emily Shepard
- Dr. Emmett: Elizabeth Savage
- Ms. Wilhelmina: Nancy Pickering

"Well It Goes Like This ..." (bold) Heather Gregory explains a sticky situation to Adrienne Ponting and Heidi Phillips.

"You Hid The Bonds Where?" Taylor Wilcox falls for the mischievous plan about the location of the bonds.

Heidi Phillips catches Darren Olson in blind man's bluff.

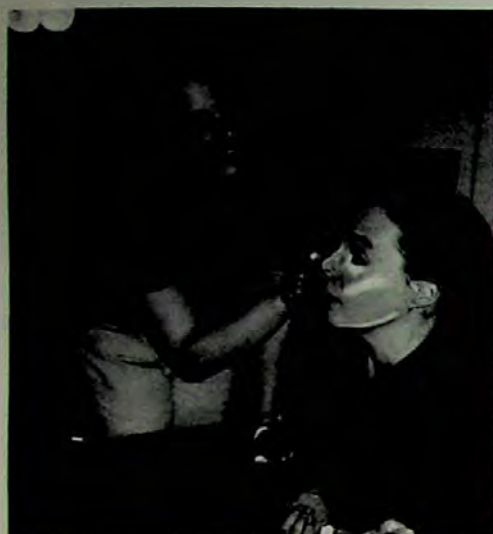

"Why The First Time I Put My Arms Around Lily Bell, She Bit Me." The guests listen to Heather Gregory tell them of her horrifying stories about her children.

"Bach With Variations Of My Own." Darren Olson plays a lovely tune on his fiddle.

The Good Doctor

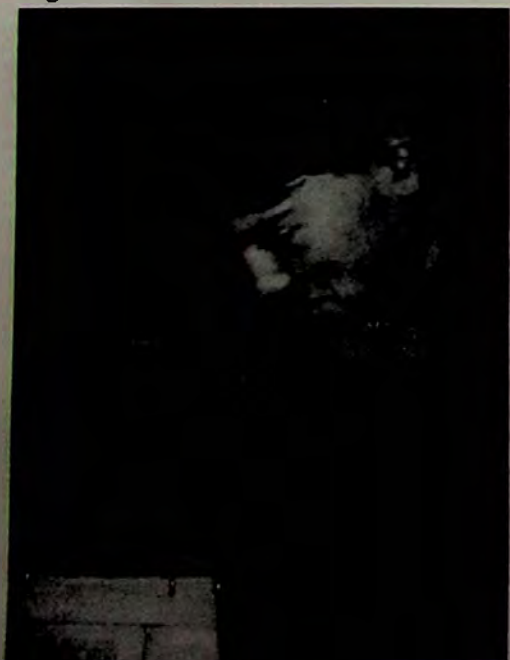

This year's All-School Play, directed by Jack O'Brien, was a series of scenes that Neil Simon adapted from different Chekhov plays. The play involved faculty, staff, students, and alumni, both in the cast and crew, and all had tremendous fun being involved!

Nancy Pickering applies Debby Schaffler's make-up.

"OF COURSE THIS IS FUN!" says Heidi Phillips, after many long hours designing, constructing, and setting the lights.

"The line is 'You want me to PAY to see a drowning man?'" assists the stage manager, Drew Rollins.

The Writer, Rev. Bartlett, and the General, Peter Stevens, strike a dignified pose.

The Writer, Sue Knight, explains an alternative ending.

Miss Cass scolds her children's governess, Galena Klina.

"Duck! How Could I Have Forgotten Duck!?" David Streight ponders Terry Hansen's delicious main dish suggestion.

"Tea? That would be lovely!" answers an aging Diana Kornet to Jack O'Brien's brave proposal.

The Sneezer, Allan Lehman, and his wife, Nancy Doulis, look on anxiously.

The Husband, played by Matt Clark '90, explains to his lovely wife, Moneeka Settles, what Peter Semyonch had to say about her today.

The greatest Seducer of Other Men's Wives, John Capen, explains his fool-proof seduction methods.

The Writer, Corbet Clark, explains his next plot.

The Poor Defenseless Creature, Debby Schaufler, tries to explain her plight to the Banker, Harvey Zendt, and his assistant, David Goodman-Farley.

Rose Whitmore, while not working on the crew, provided lovely piano accompaniment for the show.

The Cast.

The Brian Song by Michael Palin of Monty Python

Brian... the babe they called Brian
Grew...grew. grew and grew,
Grew up to be,
Grew up to be,
A boy called Brian,
A boy called Brian.

He had arms and legs and hands and feet
This boy whose name was Brian
And he grew, grew, grew and grew
Grew up to be
Yes he grew up to be
A teenager called Brian
A teenager called Brian.

And his face became spotty
Yes his face became spotty
And his voice dropped down low
And things started to grow
On young Brian and so
He was certainly no
No girl named Brian
Not a girl named Brian.

And he started to shave
And have one off the wrist
And want to see girls
And go out and get pissed
A man called Brian
This man called Brian.
The man they called Brian.
This man called Brian.

The following is a summation of all of my unconnected thoughts on OES and life in general. OES is good. I thank each person here for making it an experience. I would like a cabin in the woods. I'm glad we had those bouts of after-lunch silliness. Laughter is good. The Ha-Ha game ought to be played more often. Trees and country music are good. Yes-huh. There are too many damn people. Follow your heart, not your mind. I love my blind dog, Teddy, unconditionally. Drive carefully. Give me a ring, anytime, I'd like to chat: (360) 693-7742. Thanks.

The Disappearing Ireland

Once we presumed to find ourselves for good
Between its blue hills and those sandless shores
Where we spent our desperate night in prayer and vigil,

Once we gathered driftwood, made a hearth
and hung or cauldron like a firmament,
The island broke beneath us like a wave.

The land sustaining us seemed to hold firm
Only when we embraced it in extremis,
All I believe that happened there was vision.

There are many things in life that must be done, though I do not see what they are, yet. No, I think I have cleared one of those walls that stand in the path of my life. I wonder how many walls are still left to climb. When I clear every wall, what will happen? Will I live? Will I die? Will I find my answer? One thing is sure:
I've gotten one step closer to success.

STOP! Don't sweat it. Simply move a few inches left or right to get a new viewpoint. Look ... Reality is greater than the sum of its parts, also a damn sight holier. And the lives of such stuff as dreams are made of may be rounded with a sleep but they are tied neatly with a red bow. Truth doesn't run on time like a commuter train, though time may run on truth. And the Scenes Gone By and the Scenes to Come flow blending together in the sea-green deep while Now spreads in circles on the surface. So don't sweat it. For focus simply move a few inches back or forward.

*Congratulations
OES Class of 1996!*

*Remember your wide-eyed wonder,
childlike
innocence, amazing
curiosity,
and your very essence.
May these reward you in your continuing adventures!*
