ST. HELEN'S HALL
CENTENNIAL

1869-1969

INTRODUCTION

Plans for St. Helen's Hall Centennial Celebration were begun in 1967 with many and varied ideas introduced. It was finally decided to limit the time and the number of events and to place special emphasis on the three aspects of the school which had brought it through the first one hundred years, namely, the religious, the academic and the historic.

A history of the school was included in these plans, and Sally Reed Sout agreed most generously to gather material and to begin this enormous task.

Muriel Gabriel Heltzel was appointed chairman - was the outgoing president of the Alumnae Association -- and the following alumnae and parents were selected to work with her on the various events scheduled for September and November.

During the summer of 1969, the Reverend David Leech, Headmaster of the School, was to be in the east for an educational meeting and suggested the possibility of a visit to the Sisters of St. John Baptist at the mother House in New Jersey. He would extend to them a personal invitation to be present at the November events and assure them of financial assistance for their travel expenses. As a result, and to the great benefit of the Centennial celebration, five of the sisters came, including

Sister Waldine Lucia, formerly
Mother Superior

Sister Margaret Helena, the present
Mother Superior

Sister Agatha Louise
Sister Eleanor Lucy, and Sister Elizabeth Marian.

CENTENNIAL PLANS

Mrs. Charles H. Heltzel, Chairman

Exciting events are in the wind for our one hundred year celebration in the fall. Many chairmen and committee workers are making arrangements for this occasion, and dates and events are now falling beautifully into line.

The first celebration will take place on the morning of September 12th at City Hall, the original site of St. Helen's Hall one hundred years ago. A St. Helen's Hall flag will be raised over City Hall to fly there for several days. The student body will be in attendance and we will have a short ceremony. The Headmaster is arranging a coffee after this event for participating alumnae and friends. At the school a huge birthday cake with one hundred candles will be of paramount interest for the birthday party being arranged by Mrs. Ronald J. and Mrs. Ronald C. Honeyman for the students.

Mrs. Lansing Stout (Sally Reed) has written a history of the Hall for the Centennial year. She has spent weeks of research both at the Hall and at the Historical Society as well as speaking to and interviewing Portlanders who can remember events of many years which have encircled the Hall and the history of Portland. This will be a fascinating book and is now being printed. It will be of great interest to all those who ever attended the Hall and to those interested in Portland history. It will be on sale in the Fall.

We hope for at least two of the Sisters of the Community of St. John Baptist to be with us for the main events of the Centennial to be held on the weekend of the 15th and 16th of November. They will travel from Mendham, New Jersey.

We are delighted to announce that Dean Francis B. Sayre, Jr., of the National Cathedral in Washington, D. C., is coming to be our speaker for the banquet to be held on November 15th at the Hilton Hotel. He is one of the outstanding speakers in the United States and we feel very honored that he will attend. Our own Governor, Tom McCall, will act as Master of Ceremonies for the banquet so these two will make a terrific team. Mrs. Carl Reynolds is in charge of the banquet and is busy making mailing lists and arranging all the innumerable details.

The Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States, the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, will be here for the Sunday service. This day will be a full

The Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States, the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, will be here for the Sunday events. This day will hopefully start with a dedication service on the campus at St. Stephen's Chapel, and conclude with a Thanksgiving service at Trinity Church at three o'clock in the afternoon at which Bishop Hines will preside and preach. There will be a reception after the Trinity service with Mrs. David Charlton and Mrs. Harry C. Clair, Jr., in charge.

Mrs. Charles H. Heltzel is completing a roster of all graduates of St. Helen's Hall. This will be sent out with a receipt of dues paid and will also be on sale for those who are interested.

NEW OFFICERS

The following new officers were elected at the annual Spring Luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Joe Fulop. These officers will serve for two years.

Fifty-year alumnae honored at the Spring luncheon were Mrs. Harry C. Clair, Jr., and Mrs. George Faust.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mrs. Heltzel,

Thanks very much for the cheque which Mrs. Butler sent to me for the memorial to Adeline Kendall Kirby! I have sent it on to the business office along with other cheques for memorials in the Chapel.

I am sure the Alumnae will be pleased with the Acolyte Bench for which the money was used, and Adeline would be pleased, too. It adds to the beauty

St. Helen's Hall Alumnae News

President's Report 1969

Muriel Gabriel Heltzel

I have now finished my third and last year as president. It has been an unusually long term due to the fact that I finished one year of Adele Finch's term. This has been a very exciting and fulfilling year, with the change of administration at the Hall, new ideas, new interests, and challenging thoughts. It has been a very happy year for me with a marvelous Board to work with, everyone taking their share of the responsibility cheerfully and doing a thorough and conscientious job of whatever they were asked to do. This makes it all worthwhile when you can count on those with whom you are working to have initiative and imagination to carry on with their particular committee assignments.

The project of the graduation pictures is now complete except for the Junior College and that will be completed this summer. Anne Richards has been chairman of this committee and has devoted weeks to its accomplishment. She has been assisted by several ladies who have also devoted tireless efforts to its completion. When you are handling one hundred years of pictures, plus twelve more of Junior College, it is a real task. We all want to thank you, Anne, for your leadership in this, and also your committee.

Nancy Mathison and Joan MacNaughton were chairman and co-chairman respectively of the Komitee for the Country Fair, the allotted task of the Alumnae. It made an unprecedented $465 and we all want to thank both of them for their efforts. It was a big job to organize and took many hours of work on their part, not to mention imagination . . . even to carnations that matched the tablecloths.

We have held six meetings of the Board this past year, some in our members' homes and some at the Hall. This summer we hope to finish furnishing and arranging our Alumnae room on the lower floor of the Chapel. This will provide an adequate place for our files and to work on mailings, and to have meetings on occasion.

Dues are due as of the first of June. We have raised the dues to $4.00 this year—inflation. Also it is the Centennial year and those who pay their dues will be rewarded with a complete roster of everyone who has ever graduated from the Hall — maiden names by the year of graduation, and then a list of names and addresses from our addressograph file. We have lost some alumnae over the years, we are sorry to say, but it has been impossible to keep track of everyone.

I am sure we will have a happy year ahead with our new officers, and former ones, and our new Board members, and former ones.

on the editorial staff of a Miller-Freeman publication, "Energy International." Perhaps I can give you a few highlights of this trip in the next newsletter!

I regret very much having to miss this alumnae event because this is our Centennial year and consequently a very important one for all St. Helen's Hall Alumnae. We don't celebrate Centennials too often and therefore we must all feel an obligation to assist and participate in the events planned for September and November. This will not be a fund-raising project but a great opportunity for everyone to share the pride in and loyalty to a great pioneer institution. My grandmother and her sister registered at St. Helen's Hall the opening day, September 6, 1869!

I will return to Portland on May 26th and will look forward to seeing many of you at the graduation events in June.

Very best wishes to all of you.

Sincerely, Frances S. Charlton

Alumnae Award Honors Redmond Girl

Shown accepting the 1969 Alumnae Award is Miss Elizabeth Katherine Johnson of Redmond. Making the presentation is Mrs. Charles H. Heltzel, president of the Alumnae Association. Miss Johnson is the daughter of State Representative Samuel S. Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, who is a member of the State Board of Higher Education.

The Award reads: "This award is given to the senior who, through the three-fold aspects of academic accomplishment, demonstrated leadership, and loyalty, has promoted the ideals and growth of St. Helen's Hall." Betsy Johnson has had a distinguished four years at St. Helen's Hall. She has served her classmates as freshman class president, student body secretary and vice-president and this year as student body president. Betsy plans to enter Occidental College, Los Angeles, in September. Her major will be adolescent psychology and she hopes to do future work in counseling or experimental research. Betsy will be spending her second summer in residence this year as a member of the child care staff at Christie School, a school for emotionally disturbed girls, on the Marylhurst College campus in Portland.

of the Sanctuary and the students who take various roles in the services are delighted to have something adequate upon which to sit. The girls of the upper school take turns with the boys as servers and readers, so the old traditions which Adeline loved have not been lost.

Thanking you and the Alumnae again, I am

Yours Sincerely, R. H. Greenfield, Chaplain

My dear Muriel,

Please extend my warmest greetings to all the alumnae and especially to the Class of 1969, our newest alumnae, on this important day—the Spring luncheon and meeting. Tune: Cornell "Alma Mater."

Where the bright Willamette windeth
Past the mountains blue,
Stands our noble Alma Mater
Glorious to view.

Chorus: Lift the chorus, bear it onward,
Sing we one and all:
Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
Hail St. Helen's Hall

Where Mt. Hood in snowy splendor
Proudly looketh down,
Stands she with green hills around her
Circling like a crown.

THE VERY REVEREND
FRANCIS B. SAYRE, JR.
DEAN

March 28, 1969

Dear Mrs. Heltzel:

The seesaw has finally come down with a yes to your request of me. I say seesaw because really I shouldn't imagine undertaking a trip all the way to the West Coast to be with you at the Centennial of the school. On the other hand, I really would love to do it and I think the change of scene would do me good right here on my own job at the Cathedral. So after balancing your invitation these few weeks, I now accept with thanks and will look forward to being with you next November.

In thinking about what I could contribute to the banquet you describe, I am obliged to realize, as I hope you will too, that I am by no means the expert on private school education that you appear to think. It is true that I preside in a general sort of way over some very wonderful schools here on the Close. But the truth of the picture is, that others far more skilled than I actually run those schools and wrestle with their policy. My job is the humbler and, occasionally, even harder one of coordinating what they do for the Cathedral Foundation as a whole. I know that Canon Martin, Headmaster of St. Albans, or either of the Chaplains at our schools or even Canon Walker on my staff, who came here from St. Paul's School in New Hampshire, could give you a far more cogent address on the role of the church school in modern society than I could ever hope to render. On the other hand, I might be able to offer a few reflections upon our society generally and try to think out loud what cathedrals, cathedral schools and church schools generally might be trying to do in the midst of it all.

You will be interested, perhaps, to know that Oregon is the only one of the 50 states in which I have never been. I think it's high time I completed the roster and became an "all-round American".

The next time I see Peg Howard I will, indeed, carry your salutation to her. I don't see her everyday anymore since she retired this year as Chief Aide and moved to the country where she is happy. She comes in every once in a while and we rejoice to see that excellent friend and servant of the Lord.

With every good wish,

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Charles Heltzel

Governor McCall, Sisters of St. John Baptist, Dean Sayre, Reverend Sir, Alumnae and friends of St. Helen's Hall. As President of the Alumnae Association it is my great pleasure to welcome all of you to this joyful and historic event. Many have travelled far to be with us tonight and, unfortunately many who had hoped and planned to come have been prevented by reasons of health, etc. We are gratified by your devotion and your spirit.

This Alumnae Association has been in existence since 1894 and has endeavored to be a strong and enduring force behind the school. Formerly called the Society of Graduates, it has met regularly, raised funds for scholarships, additions to the Library, or other immediate needs of the school, and, in 1957, established an Endowment Fund for the exclusive use of St. Helen's Hall. Since we have rarely had more than volunteer workers we have stumbled along trying to keep up with constantly changing membership names and addresses. However, this Centennial celebration would not have been possible without all of you former students and graduates, for you are the historical continuity of St. Helen's Hall.

At this time, I would like to recognize the oldest alumnae who are with us tonight. I will introduce those from 1899 through 1913, and would ask that they stand and receive your applause all together.

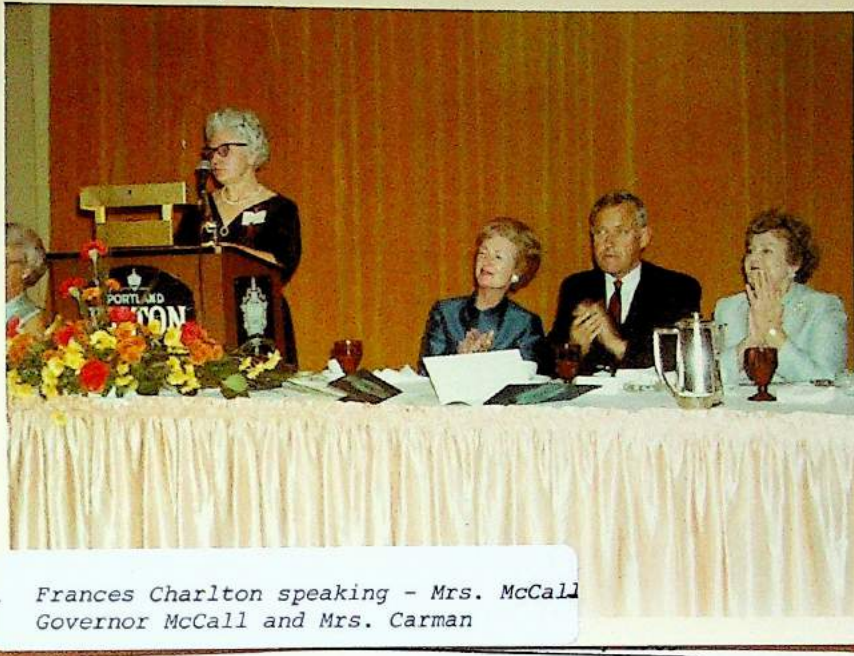

(see list of alumnae so recognized, next sheet)

Also, I should like to recognize Mr. Morris Adair, the grandsons of Bishop Benjamin Wistar Morris, the founder of St. Helen's Hall. Mr. Adair's mother's name was Mary Rodney Morris.

The Alumnae Association is proud of its alumnae family all over the world for many have distinguished themselves in their various professions as well as in their homes. Regretfully, we cannot attempt to honor them at this time, but there is one in the Portland area to whom I would like to pay special tribute. About two years ago, when plans were first being made for this 100th birthday celebration, Sally Reed Stout volunteered to compile a history of the school. She has spent hours interviewing people, researching at the Historical Center, reading old books, records, papers and catalogues. Tonight, we have her book, ST. HELEN'S HALL - the FIRST CENTURY. It is a delightfully factual account of early Portland, its citizens, its church leaders and of a school which has nobly survived 100 years of high academic ideals and achievements. The book is full of rare and charming pictures along with the text and it offers something of delight to anyone who ever attended the school. Thank you, Sally, for a great job well done. We are proud of you!

In closing, may I express my sincere thanks to Mary Reynolds for her expert handling of the banquet arrangements, and to Muriel Heltzel for being Centennial chairman, and to David Leech and his staff at the school for their wonderful and gracious cooperation.

Dear Friends:

Please excuse the phenomenon of a personal letter being mimeographed. It is my solution to the problem of how to write to all of you, and get the letters in the mail, on a busy Friday afternoon before the start of a soccer game with Catlin Gabel that begins very soon!

I want to invite each one of you to attend the small "family" worship service at 10:00 A.M. on Sunday, November 16. Yes, that is the morning after the centennial banquet, the morning before the big 3:00 P.M. centennial service and reception in Trinity Church. I am asking you to attend the service because the Presiding Bishop, Bishop Hines, will be present, Bishop Carman will be present and, at the conclusion of the service, the clergy and congregation will leave the chapel and walk the forty feet to the place where the old iron cross (from atop the old school building at the old site) has been re-erected as a remembrance of our centennial. There, Bishop Hines will appropriately bless the cross in its new location. I believe it is very appropriate that as many of the Alumnae Board as possible be present. And their husbands are most cordially invited!

After the service brunch will be served to all our guests. Remember the time: 10:00 A.M.

Let me add for your official information that our mutual friend, Mrs. Paul M. (Ruth) Merwin whose daughter Marybeth was graduated last June, has paid for the re-erection of the memorial cross as a gift to the school at this happy time. We are grateful for her thoughtfulness.

I am going to count on you, knowing you will attend if it is humanly possible. And will you let me know of your coming by means of the enclosed envelope and the card it contains?

Faithfully,

David Leech
Headmaster

The Blessing: The Presiding Bishop

Recessional Hymn 276 Now thank we all our God

Following the service, we will process with our visitors to the corner of the school building where the Presiding Bishop will rededicate the cross from the old school in commemoration of the centennial of St. Helen's Hall. Refreshments will follow in the narthex.

We are honored by the presence this morning of the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, and our own Diocesan Bishop, the Rt. Rev. James W. F. Carman. Also in our congregation is the Rev. Mother Margaret Helena, Superior of the Community of St. John Baptist, and four members of the Community which supervised St. Helen's Hall for nearly half a century. We are pleased also to have the members of the Hall's Alumnae Board and their president, Mrs. David Charlton.

Our guests are here to share in the centennial celebration of our fine Diocesan school for girls. We of the congregation of St. Stephen's Chapel extend to them our cordial welcome and join with them in giving thanks for the first one hundred years of the school. It is our prayer that St. Helen's Hall and Bishop Dagwell Hall may continue to serve the Church and the Northwest in the future as they have done so well in the past and that we may work with them in a way which is fruitful for them, for us, and for the Lord whom together we serve.

CENTENNIAL REFLECTIONS

Winifred London Abbott - 1911 - Vancouver, B. C.

"wouldn't have missed it for anything!"

Dorothy Condon Faulkner - 1915 - San Francisco

"the banquet was so interesting with its illustrious speakers and dear Sister Waldine Lucia. The success of your party was overwhelming"

Dorothy James Naef - 1937 - Mamaroneck, N. Y.

"a most rewarding experience - enjoyed everything, seeing old friends, classmates and of course, most of all, the Sisters."

Margaret MacMillan Byrne - 1934 - Los Angeles

...planned her return from Europe in the fall to coordinate with the Centennial - "most eager to see old classmates and friends"

Gloria Spencer Crowson - 1949 - Pacific Palisades, California.

"A most memorable week-end at the Hall - alums who organized the Centennial events are to be congratulated on a wonderfully successful occasion. Feel sorry more local alums didn't show up - but that is their loss. I wouldn't have missed it for the world."

Helen Stratton Felker - 1931 - Tacoma, Washington.

"one of the happies experiences of my life."

The Centennial year of any institution means many things to many people. The joy of celebration, nostalgia for the past, quickened interest for the future, a close look at meaning and purpose. For St. Helen's Hall, a determined pioneer girl grown to a gracious metropolitan lady, all these are true in this her one hundredth year.

Celebration began in September at Portland's City Hall, the first site of St. Helen's Hall. Church and civic dignitaries, alumnae and friends of the school, and a fine student body gathered to raise the school flag once again where it had flown long ago. Later in the day, birthday parties took place on the campus and each young person seemed to feel a sense of history combined with the fun of celebration. In November, a festive week-end brought alumnae to the Hall and the city for a series of events which they shared with students, parents and loyal friends. A gay banquet at the Hilton Hotel and a joyous Service of Thanksgiving at Trinity Episcopal Church etched timeless memories in the hearts and minds of all.

Nostalgia and reminiscence were the mood as old friends exclaimed. "Do you remember . . .?" and relived happy days. The traditions of St. Helen's Hall which have made her dear and unique were brought out so that the present generation might better understand why the Hall is what she is today.

Looking reflectively at the past serves best when it heightens enthusiasm for the present and future. So it is in this Centennial year. St. Helen's Hall vitally lives now, meeting the ever-changing demands of superior independent education, and she lives in harmony and pleasure with her young companion, Bishop Dagwell Hall. Coeducation has come to the Halls, another step in meeting the needs of a given era.

St. Helen's Hall and Bishop Dagwell Hall exist solely to educate and train young men and women for tomorrow's leadership in the world they will inherit. The second century hopefully shall be as much a source of joy and pride as was the first.

AMONG THE RESPONSES TO THE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION of St. Helen's Hall, we cherish this memory of the Reverend Mother Margaret Helena, Superior of the Community of St. John Baptist, who herself taught at the Hall many years ago. We hope you too will enjoy what she wrote about the memorable days of celebration.

A WEEK-END BETWEEN TWO CENTURIES

St. Helen's Hall is celebrating its Centennial! How many times we have heard and repeated these words this past year!

The Sisters' association with the Hall covers sixty-five of those years--forty as the directors and the last twenty-five in our hearts and prayers.

Friday, November 14th, five Sisters returned to Portland, feeling as unreal as characters in a fairy tale. Intellectually we all knew we were not going to the old Hall. This was emphasized by a drive on the new highway and up 14th and Hall Streets. There we were confronted with reality and were prepared for the new site and the new buildings.

The village of buildings on the side of the hill was most attractive, and the contrast of memory and reality was complete. This is St. Helen's Hall and Bishop Dagwell Hall--the Oregon Episcopal Schools. We had arrived, to be welcomed most graciously and lovingly. Some of the "girls" had met us at the airport and brought us to the School. Our hostess in Dormitory E, Miss Fass, gave us a royal welcome and had arranged a delicious dinner, complete with Columbia River Salmon.

Ruth Rose Richardson had arranged an informal reception for the evening, and we were able to visit with a good number of old friends who would not have been able to meet us elsewhere.

Saturday morning we had breakfast in the dining hall, met some members of the staff and some students, and by now were so able to accept the new school that even the boys seemed to belong quite naturally. After breakfast we toured the School and saw many familiar bits in new surroundings, e.g., Mrs. Sumner's Chinese furniture, Bishop Sumner's white stole with lily embroidery, and the class pictures.

At eleven o'clock the Associates of the Community of St. John Baptist met in the School Chapel, to receive three new Associates and have a Communion service celebrated by Bishop Gross. The Associates are bound to the Community by a Rule of life, of prayer and of work. It is a spiritual tie greatly valued by the Sisters as well as the Associates. After the Service, we were all guests of the Headmaster and Mrs. Leech for luncheon.

In the evening there was the great banquet with more than six hundred guests--students, "old girls," husbands, friends old and new, all sharing the happiness of a common meal and the joy of one hundred years' accomplishment. Sister Waldine Lucia and Mrs. Fariss were given tremendous ovations, a complete mystery to one of the youngest guests, who asked, had literally come through fire and water; his plane caught fire and the cabin was filled with smoke as they stopped at Denver, and in Portland there was thick fog. Nevertheless he calmly gave an excellent address pointing to the new century and its challenges.

On Sunday, Fr. Greenfield's homily set the thought of the day by making three points: faith, hope, steadiness. At the ten o'clock service, Bishop Carman summed up the century by using St. Paul's analogy of races--relay races--in which one runner runs his part and passes on his attainment to the next runner, etc. The Bishop spoke of the "cloud of witnesses" and said the most vitally interested were those who had already run. The Presiding Bishop then gave the Blessing, and immediately we proceeded to the new location of the Flemish cross, a memorial to Father Breck brought from the highest point of the old building and now mounted on a brick pedestal. The Presiding Bishop rededicated the cross, after which he had to have a press conference, but we had lunch.

The final and crowning event was the great thanksgiving service at Trinity Church. To be in that beautiful church and to be singing the Commencement music with hundreds of School girls, young and old, was a tremendously moving and satisfying experience. The Presiding Bishop spoke of the challenge of the new century, and the service spoke of the love of God and of the faith and hope that had brought us to this day and would be the support of the future. There were many more greetings after the service, and we were hardly able to detach ourselves to pay our respects to those in the receiving line at the reception for the Presiding Bishop.

Monday morning came and we left the Hall at 6:15 a.m. to take our plane to New Jersey. What can anyone say of a week-end between two centuries? Perhaps it was a glimpse of heaven--time dropped away, old friendships were picked up where distance had intervened surrounded by happy memories--and shining through it all the spirit of St. Helen's Hall--loyal alumnae, loyal students, enthusiastic faculty--everyone working to build the walls of another century.

Perhaps the Chapel is the best symbol of the hope of the future. It is the centre of the campus, it is new physically but holds within it many things of the past. The new and the old have been put together to form one lovely whole. And so with all of life we inherit and use what is good of the past and build on it for the future. The race goes on--each runner carries his torch.

There is no adequate way to tell you how much we appreciated and enjoyed this week-end. We can only say, thank you one and all, and wrap you round with our love and prayers.

Processional: "March from Athaliah" Mendelssohn

ANCIENT of Days, who sittest throned in glory,
To thee all knees are bent, all voices pray;
Thy love has blessed the wide world's wondrous story
With light and life since Eden's dawning day.

O holy Father, who hast led thy children
In all the ages with the fire and cloud,
Through seas dry-shod, through weary wastes bewildering,
To thee in reverent love our hearts are bowed.

O holy Jesus, Prince of Peace and Saviour,
To thee we owe the peace that shall prevail,
Stilling the rude wills of men's wild behavior,
And calming passion's fierce and stormy gale.

O Holy Ghost, the Lord and the Life-giver,
Thine is the quickening power that gives increase:
From thee have flowed, as from a mighty river,
Our faith and hope, our fellowship and peace.

O Triune God, with heart and voice adoring,
Praise we the goodness that doth crown our days;
Pray we that thou wilt hear us, still imploring
Thy love and favor, kept to us always. Amen.

The Opening Sentences

O Lord, open Thou our lips.

Response: And our mouth shall show forth Thy praise.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost:

Response: As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Praise ye the Lord.

Response: The Lord's Name be praised.

Psalm 84: Quam dilecta!

O HOW amiable are Thy dwellings: Thou Lord of hosts!

2. My soul hath a desire and longing to enter into the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh rejoice in the living God.

3. Yea, the sparrow hath found her an house, and the swallow a nest, where she may lay her young: even Thy altars, O Lord of hosts, my king and my God.

4. Blessed are they that dwell in Thy house; they will be always praising Thee.

5. Blessed is the man whose strength is in Thee: in whose heart are Thy ways.

6. Who going through the vale of misery use it for a well: and the pools are filled with water.

7. They will go from strength to strength: and unto the God of gods appeareth every one of them in Sion.

8. O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer: hearken, O God of Jacob.

9. Behold, O God our defender: and look upon the face of Thine anointed.

10. For one day in Thy courts: is better than a thousand.

11. I had rather be a door-keeper in the house of my God: than to dwell in the tents of ungodliness.

12. For the Lord God is a light and defence: the Lord will give grace and worship and no good thing shall He withhold from them that live a godly life.

13. O Lord God of hosts: blessed is the man that putteth his trust in Thee.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;

As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

LESSON — Proverbs 31:10

Magnificat: St. Luke 1:46

To be sung by the School alone.

MY SOUL doth magnify the Lord: and my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Savior.

For He hath regarded the lowliness of His Handmaiden.

For behold, from henceforth: all generations shall call me blessed.

For He that is mighty hath magnified me: and holy is His name.

And His mercy is on them that fear Him: throughout all generations.

He hath showed strength with His arm: He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

He hath put down the mighty from their seat: and hath exalted the humble and the meek.

He hath filled the hungry with good things: and the rich He hath sent empty away.

He remembering His mercy hath holpen His servant Israel: as He promised our forefathers, Abraham and his seed forever.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;

Answer: As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Then shall be sung the APOSTLES' CREED by the Minister and the People standing.

Response: The Lord be with you.
And with Thy spirit.
Let us pray.

THE LORD'S PRAYER

Response: O Lord, show Thy mercy upon us.
And grant us Thy salvation.
O Lord, save the State.
Response: And mercifully hear us when we call upon Thee.
Endue Thy Ministers with righteousness.
Response: And make Thy chosen people joyful.
O Lord, save Thy people.
Response: And bless Thine inheritance.
Give peace in our time, O Lord.
Response: For it is Thou, Lord, only that makes us dwell in safety.
O God, make clean our hearts within us.
Response: And take not Thy Holy Spirit from us.

COLLECTS AND PRAYERS

THE SCHOOL HYMN

To be sung by the School alone.

Behold us, gracious Saviour,
In girlhood's morning bright —
Look on us in Thy mercy,
And guide us with Thy light.
Life's journey lies before us,
God with us all the way,
So shall we love Thee truly
And serve Thee day by day.

Those gathered here together
Will soon be far apart,
But in Thy love and service
Unite us heart to heart,
And keep us pure and loyal
Where'er our lot may be,
True daughters of St. Helen's
And true, our God, to Thee.

So when Thou comest in glory
To gather in Thine own,
And we shall stand for judgment
Before Thy great White Throne,
Then place us at Thy right hand
And hearken to our prayer,
Of all St. Helen's daughters
Let none be missing there!

may the spirit of the lord rest upon you
and lead you to wisdom and understanding
