Something seen, yet invisible, and something felt, yet intangible . . . what is it which makes so deep an imprint, yet cannot be described? A certain essence, special to our school . . . a permanent touch of beauty showing forth in all our acts for all our lives. What is this elusive quality? It is the sum of St. Helen's Hall Intangibles, numerous and various, yet all contributing toward making us our finest selves . . . traditions and customs that change and grow and alter to become a part of new generations . . . as well as of old . . . mysterious factors that make this particular moment inspiring and beloved. On these Intangibles we wish to build the theme of our lives as well as the theme of our DELPHIC.

Dedication

Mrs. Carolyn B. Collett

Every young wanderer must have a path to follow; and our path toward Christian womanhood has been well lighted. Our guiding spirit has exemplified by years of service the noble character and stability of a true woman. We, the Class of 1961, humbly dedicate our souls to further nourishment and our Delphic to our beloved Carolyn Collett.

"What is it to cease breathing, but to free the breath from its restless tides, that it may rise and expand and seek God unencumbered?"

DIANE JEAN TERJESON

Our memories of you, Diane, are an ever-present part of our lives. Your giving of yourself with no thought of virtue in such giving, your vision that awakened in us the dreams of timeless youth have become a part of all that we are, and through us, will become a part of those who come after us, as season follows season in the lifetime of St. Helen's Hall. It has ever been held true that love "knows not its own depth until the hour of separation;" but for us, there is no separation that the soul cannot span. You are in our laughter, our studies, our chapel hours, our relaxation, our aspirations. You walk among us as a fragrance sensed but not seen, adding its essence to the spirit that is truly at the heart of our school.

Inspiration

"A lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path."

Our faculty is the very heart-beat of our school. They throw a light across our ascending path. With tireless energy they educate our minds and feed our souls, equipping us with self-assurance, intellectual curiosity, and awareness. Their very spirit endows us with a strong sense of responsibility, self-discipline and moral strength. As students under them, we have been given a candle to light the pathway of our future. May we, in turn, light that candle for those who follow.

For ninety-two years St. Helen's Hall has been engaged in educating girls. Over these years a constant parade of young women have marched from its hallowed halls into the life of every corner of this nation and into many parts of the world. In my short time as Episcopal Bishop of Oregon I have found former St. Helen's Hall girls who have taken their places as wives, mothers, teachers, writers, leaders in the communities in which our Church ministers. Their Christian character and convictions and their ideals have strengthened the communities wherever they are found. As the publication of the 1961 Delphic takes place, St. Helen's Hall faces new horizons. The State of Oregon plans to run a modern highway through our present geographical position. We hope to build elsewhere. New land has even now been acquired. The members of the Class of 1961 do not need to be convinced that new buildings are essential, but a building is not an education, nor is a Church Edifice the Christian Faith. The new buildings will lack the ability to stimulate many valuable memories which will be yours. I pray that our people will see in you and all St. Helen's graduates living reasons to invest in the Hall's continuance. The Christian education, which is your possession and heritage, is an ingredient which today's social order can ill do without. May the Lord always be with you as you continue your education and your life in the Faith.

rather leads you to the threshold of your own mind."

Director

TO THE CLASS OF 1961 . . .

You, who have chosen the Hall Intangibles as the theme of your Delphic, must surely have understanding and love of those Intangibles. You must have deep realization of the truth that the Intangibles of this life are the Tangibles of Life Everlasting. Now we see, as through a glass darkly, the elusive shadow of all that is the reality of existence.

May inspiration light the candle which guides your footsteps over the mounting pathway of steady growth toward new horizons; may vision lift your eyes to the highest and finest in life; may action open the doors to accomplishment and fulfillment; may achievement crown your dedicated efforts to make honest use of your hidden resources—the gifts which have been entrusted to you for nourishment; may gratitude flood your hearts with a true understanding of the standards, purposes, and ideals of St. Helen's Hall.

Each of you is given the grave responsibility and the rare privilege of translating intangible values into the daily strength and courage and integrity which life demands of those who would give generously and and receive richly. For you, I would add this challenge: As each day passes, interpret in thought and action your highest concept of the Hall Intangibles, so that these may indeed become tangible through your living of them.

Vision

*"But today well lived

At St. Helen's Hall we live in an environment which encourages both spiritual and academic growth, to the end "that our daughters may be as polished corners of the temple". Our day-to-day activities are carried on within walls which encompass an atmosphere rich in Beauty and Tradition — the Beauty of learning and newly awakened hunger for knowledge that leads to Vision; the Tradition of almost a century on which to rely, by which to measure our achievement, toward which to reach as a lasting goal.

We experience spiritual growth within our Chapel, where the light from the candles that burn within the very heart of the Hall — candles of companionship and love, worship and devotion — enters into the heart of every girl. This light guides us through each day of the present and will remain with us through each day of the future.

Last but surely not least, we are stimulated through our academic growth, which gives to our minds constant challenge, always tempered by beauty, tradition, and spiritual awareness. Our constant endeavor is to understand and work toward the goals set before us at St. Helen's Hall, so that we may indeed come to reflect truly all of those Hall Intangibles symbolized in the words, "that our daughters may be as polished corners of the temple".

Academics

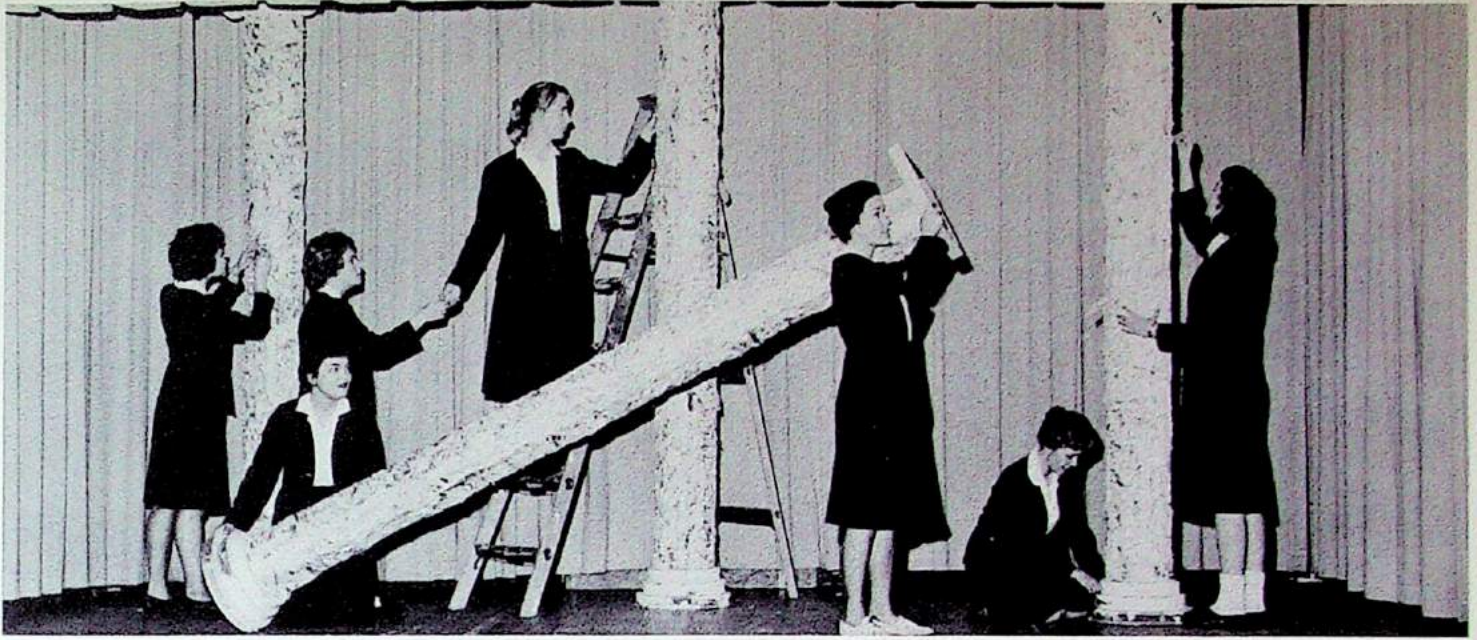

Daily classes provide our intellectual nourishment. Lively discussions, lab experiments, work on those term papers—all make each school day a challenge.

Annette Gaither is busy painting a picture, while Karen Melahn looks on.

Here girls are setting up props for their Christmas Play.

During the "break" each day, the hall is the scene of friendship and chatter.

Here Madame Wolfson is instructing her classes in German grammar and conversation.

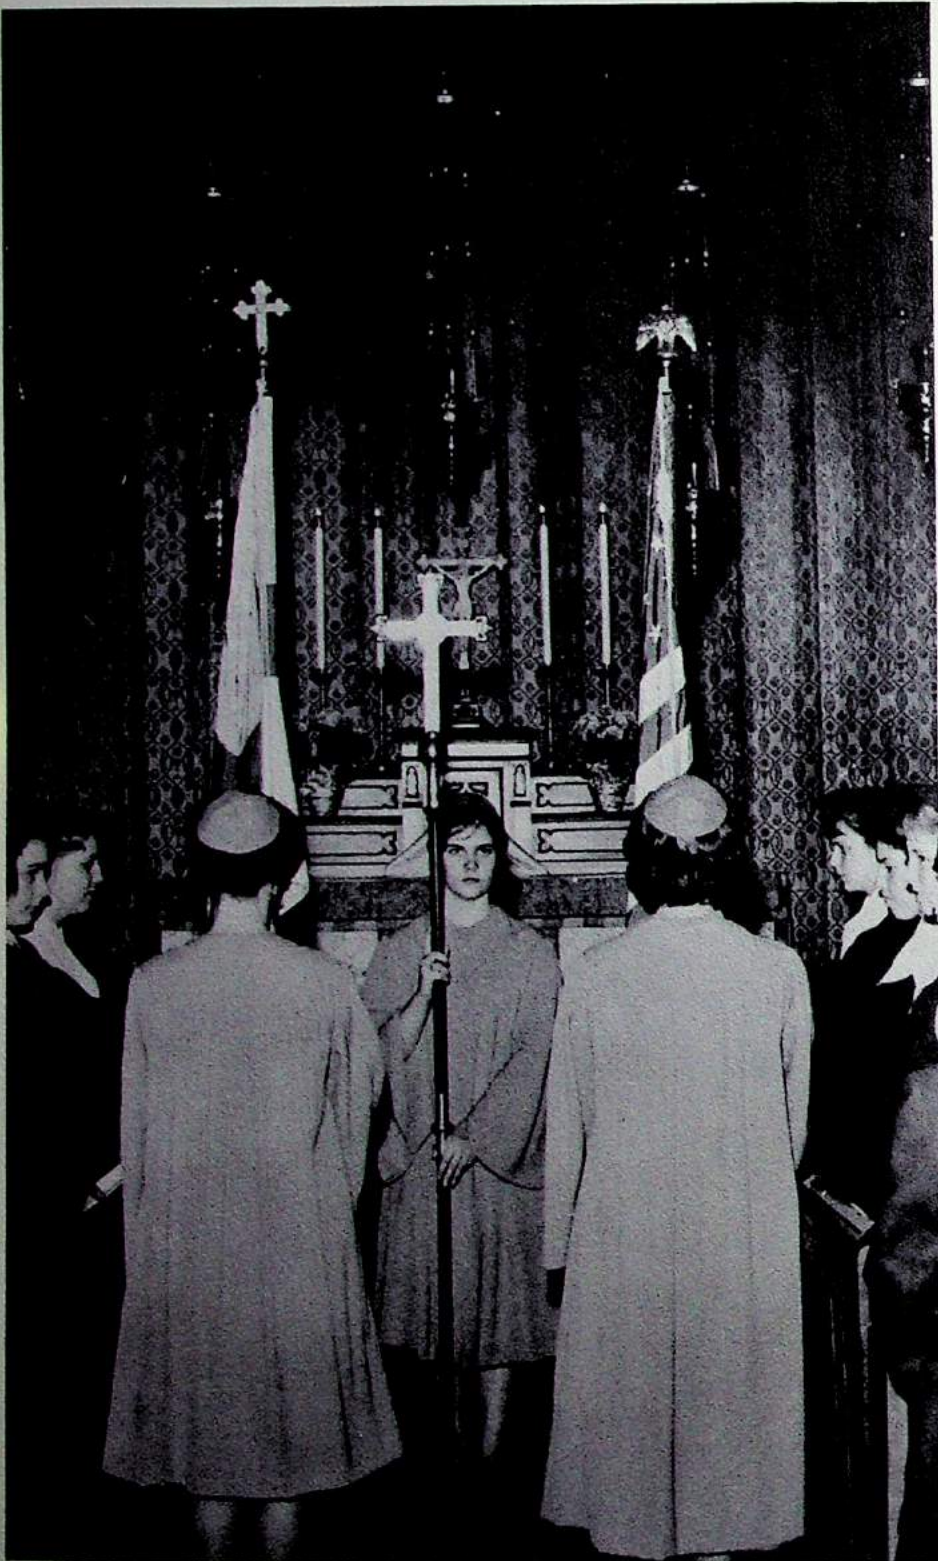

Chapel

At the heart of St. Helen's Hall is our chapel, holding a very special place in the life of each of us. Here we may go to worship God in solitude or in fellowship. The chapel is always open, a place of refuge and comfort, a source of inspiration, and a reservoir of spiritual strength.

Participation

"All the beautiful sentiments in the world weigh less than a single lovely action."

We participate in sports, social events, organizations and all the physical activities of our school in order to give balance and contrast to the rigorous mental discipline of study and worship. Through participation in sports we meet new friends and learn to put into play the social amenities which we have learned through our participation in such events as dances, teas, and dinners. We learn to engage in conversation with people we have just met, to become interested listeners and interesting speakers. Through participation in our organizations and clubs we learn leadership and parliamentary procedure, and we put to use the rules of etiquette and sportsmanship which we hope to carry with us always. Participation rounds out our lives, teaches us concern for others as a part of social adjustment, and makes us aware of our responsibilities as social beings. Participation is a part of the physical fiber of St. Helen's Hall.

Sports

Our student body is divided into two teams, the Clicks and the Roguettes. The teams compete in various games during the year, and the one with the most points at the end of the academic year is awarded a cup. The captain and co-captain of each team are members of the Athletic Commission.

Junior Redletter Dance

The Junior Redletter Dance culminates a week of money-raising projects and fun, sponsored in the Fall by the Junior Class. This year's dance was an informal "mixer," planned in order to help every one become acquainted. Darl Litchfield, elected Belle of St. Helen's, and her Court presided over the "Sea Shanty."

Princess Judy McDonald, Grey Elliott, Belle of St. Helen's Darl Litchfield, Robert Boyd, Princess Ditri Weinel, Sam Rice.

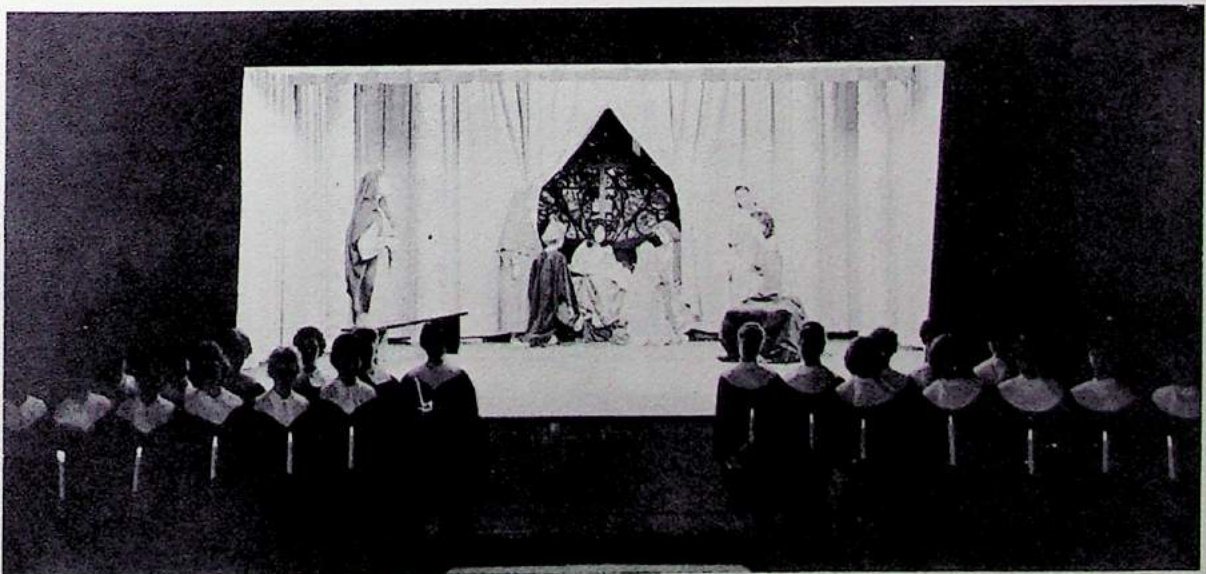

Christmas Season

This year our traditional Christmas Dinner became a "giving" party. We decided to bring gifts to be distributed to unfortunate children through the Red Cross, thus in turn creating a true Christmas spirit among ourselves.

"Silver Shadows" was the theme of our Christmas Dance. The Senior Class did all of the decorating and carried out the theme with silver snowflakes drifting from the ceiling and a beautiful pendant center-piece.

The Christmas Play, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," was an inspiring performance, written and directed by Carolyn Collett. The choir and speech groups carried the narrative, linking scenes of the three-act play.

Father-Daughter Sweetheart Dinner

We celebrated St. Valentine's Day with a gay Father-Daughter Banquet, generously sponsored by our mothers. After serenading our fathers, we were entertained with some colorful and lively Spanish dances by our talented modern dance teacher, Cornelia Cerf.

Sophomore Dance

"Cupid's Folly" was a grand success for the Sophomore Class, a tribute to good St. Valentine, and a happy contribution to school social life.

May Court

FIRST ROW: Princess Mary Gibson, Mistress of Ceremonies Ditti Weinle, Princess Susan Gedney.

SECOND ROW: Princess Annette Gaither, Queen Lynn Perryman, Princess Mary Jane Dobson.

THIRD ROW: Princess Kathy Oja, Princess Jacey Mohler.

"May Magic" cast a spell of enchantment over assembled guests, as Mistress of Ceremonies Ditti Weinle introduced the Court and crowned Queen Lynn I. White pillars, garlanded with beautiful red roses, made a picturesque background for the white dresses, embroidered in scarlet, worn by members of the Court. Following the coronation was a delightfully gay and varied program. During the evening Queen Lynn reigned over the colorful May Fete Dance.

Student Council

SEATED: Merrily Pittman, Corresponding Secretary; Libby McKirdie, Secretary; Sally Stevens, President; Janice Parker, Vice-president; Ma'Carry Butler, Treasurer.
STANDING: Diana Fanning, Mary Jane Dobson, Mary Hafner, Ditti Weinle, Penny Jo Davis, Becky Weissert, Annette Gaither, Darlene Hawkins.

The Student Council is the medium through which the members of the student body can express their opinions. It serves as an instrument by which students learn and exercise the techniques of a representative government. This year our Student Council has sponsored the Christmas Formal Dance and the May Fete Dance. It also has participated in sending representatives to the various regional conferences.

Helenas

The goal of Helenas, the school honor society, is to stimulate a desire in all of the students to serve the School. Enthusiasm for scholarship, capacity for leadership, and growth of character are some of the aims of Helenas members. Each member works individually in other school organizations.

Lynn Perryman, Sue Gedney, Mary Jane Dobson, Sally Stevens, Ditti Weinle, Annette Gaither, Diane Sala, Janice Parker, Barbara Gillespie, Barbara Baker, Ma'Carry Butler.

Delphic

The 1961 Delphic staff, with Mrs. Collett as advisor, has tried to produce what we hope will be one of the best of the St. Helen's Hall annuals. We have had a hectic year of acquiring money, organizing layout, and writing copy; but somehow we have managed to meet the deadlines and have had fun, too! In March a party celebrated the completion of our hard work. Our great hope is that we have presented truly the Intangibles of St. Helen's Hall!

SEATED: Sally Stevens, Advertising Editor; Annette Gaither, Layout Editor; Mary Jane Dobson, Editor-in-Chief; Lynn Perryman, Copy Editor; Mary Gibson, Typing Editor; Diana Fanning, Typing Editor.

Boarders' Council

The Boarders' Council, the student governing group for resident students, is headed by an elected Senior. She and her Council of eight members, including one representative from each floor, are directly responsible to the Head of the Residence Department, Mrs. Evelyn Strahan. The duties of the Boarders' Council are to act as a student self-government body within the Residence Department and to plan parties and other social activities.

Carol Lundy, Pam Hillgen, Treasurer Randi Walster, Secretary Micky Callender, President Penny Jo Davis, Vice-president Pat Mills, Jan Swanson, Sergeant-at-arms Sue Gedney.

Foreign Affiliation

The Foreign Affiliation Committee has been working to further relations between the Hall and its partner school, Arundel, in Salisbury, South Rhodesia. The major project of the year was the compiling of a scrapbook on the presidential elections of 1960 to send to Arundel. The ultimate goal of the Committee is to plan and raise money toward a student exchange program.

Altar Guild

Barbara Baker is arranging flowers, while Carol Lundy, Randi Walster, and Sally Stevens are polishing brass.

The function of the Altar Guild is to care for our chapel. Through performing such tasks as brass polishing, arranging of flowers for the altar and the statue of St. Helena, and caring for vestments of our Chaplain, the Altar Guild members come to know the very inner being of the chapel. Through serving it, they learn to appreciate it more and more.

Glee Club

The Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Harrington, was very active this year. Besides providing the singing for morning chapel and numerous other school functions, the choir sang for various hospitals and churches during the Christmas Season.

SEATED: Vera Farinas, Gay Pennington, Sandy Dobson, President Mary Jane Dobson, Sherrie Johnston, Annette Gaither.

Junior Red Cross

The activities of Junior Red Cross are planned toward serving those less fortunate than we are. Fund-raising and enrollment drives were held in March. At Christmas time, Junior Red Cross members made stuffed animals and other toys, and collected clothing for under-privileged children. Clothing and other supplies were collected during the year to be packed and sent to areas of disaster. A program was given in the spring for the County Home.

SEATED: Chris Bradley, President Darlene Hawkins, Sue McKenzie.
STANDING: Sue Berman, Sherrie Johnston, Karen Bromberg, Judy Hill, Randi Walster, Barbara Torango, and Jane Gordon.

Library Club

A new organization, fostered by Miss McKirdie, emerged on the horizon of St. Helen's Hall this year, the Library Club. The purpose of this group is to keep the books and magazines in good condition and see that they are properly arranged. May the future years of the Library Club be as successful as its first!

Betsy Poole; Libby McKirdie; Betty Buckles; Jane Gordon, President; Marcia DuBois; Vicki Justice; Carol Lundy.

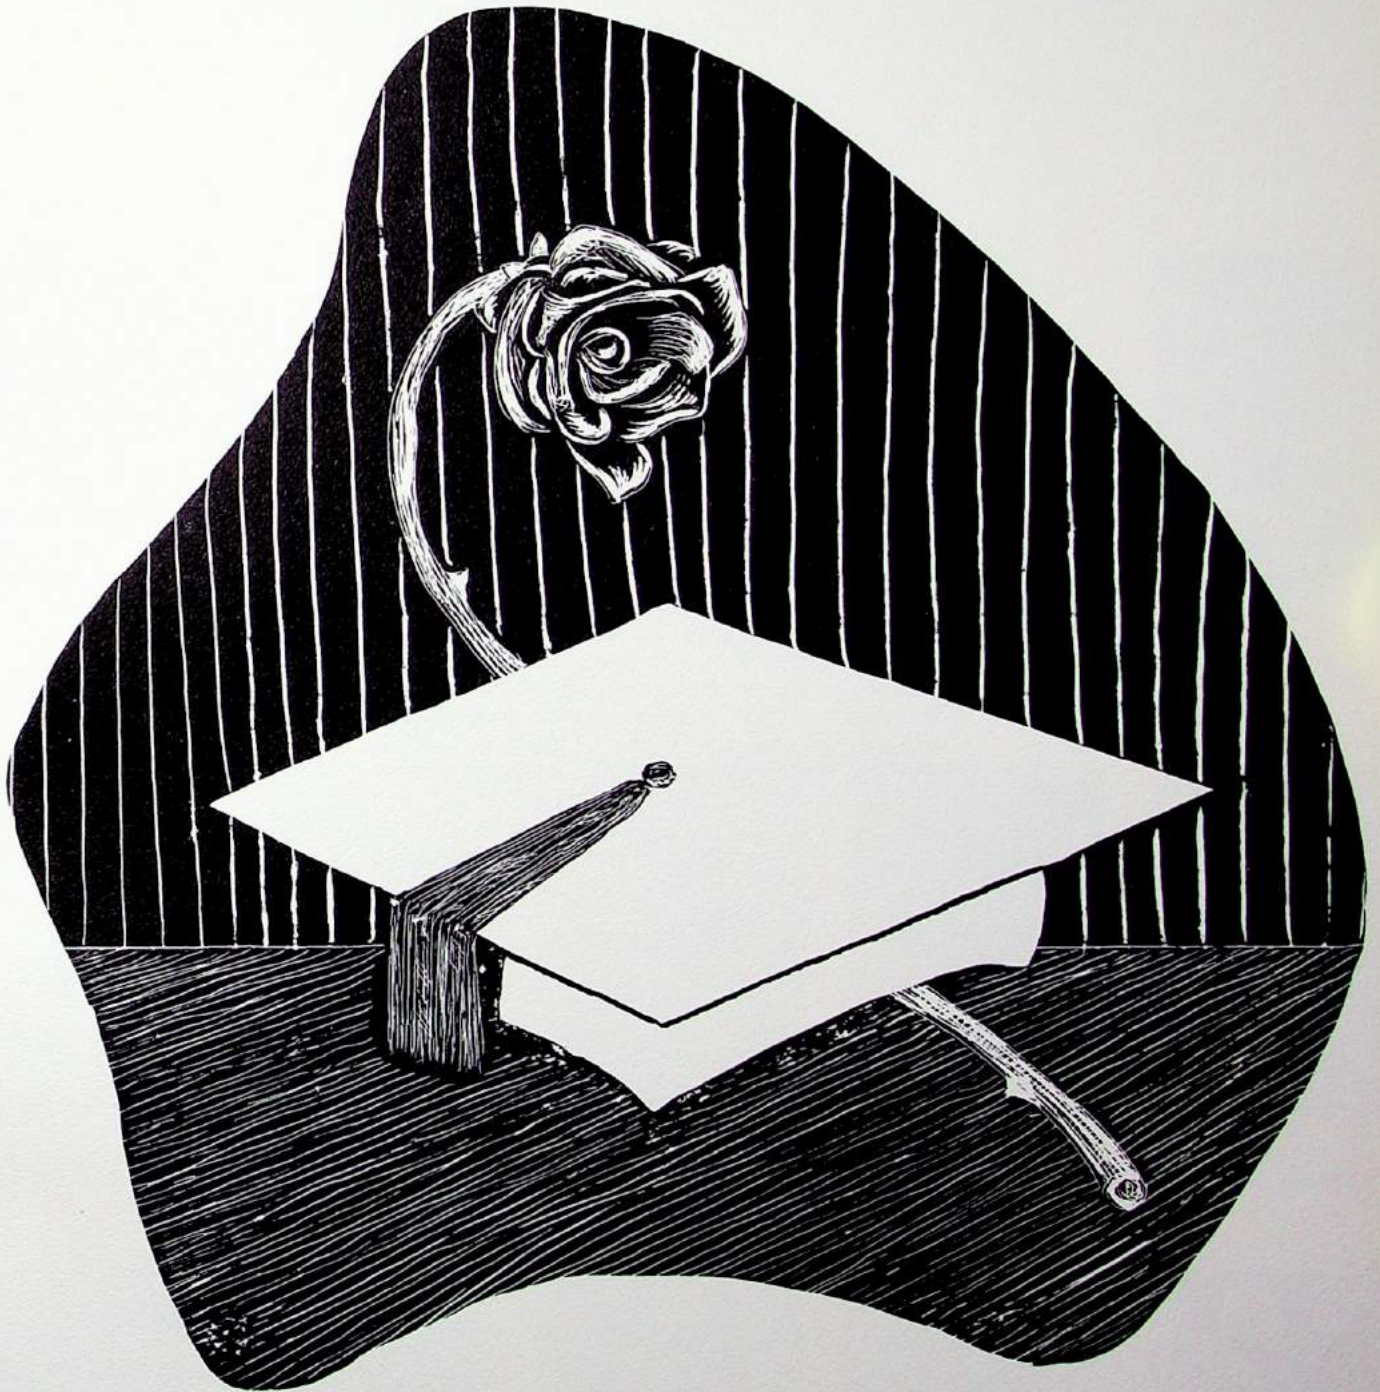

Athletic Commission

The Athletic Commission is in charge of planning the team sports of the school: basketball, volleyball, pingpong, and swimming meets. Its members act as referees at the various games. One point is earned for each extra-curricular sports activity in which a girl participates; and five points are needed to win a school sweater. Mrs. Daret is the advisor for the Athletic Commission.

Achievement

"That our daughters may be as the polished corners of the temple."

We approach the temple humbly, offering ourselves as neophytes, eager to know its ways and reasons . . . we labor to identify ourselves with its goals and purposes . . . some of us eventually reflect its highest Intangibles . . . all of us learn that we must cultivate our strengths and rise above our weaknesses if we would become the pillars which hold aloft the Temple.

Freshmen

The young and untutored approached with hesitant steps, not wholly sure of their places within the gates. Once having braved the ordeal by fire—new girl initiation!—they rapidly gained both strength and self-assurance and performed with dexterity and ever-increasing skill their many menial tasks, until, at last, they found themselves ready to undertake even the Senior Commencement Tea and knew that they were really a part of the life of the Temple.

Sophomores

The Sophomores started the year with many new class members. These soon became absorbed in the regular school routine, and all found time for various activities in addition to their school work. As a yearly project, the Sophomores continued from their Freshman year the sale of St. Helen's Hall pennants. At Christmas they made and sold tree decorations and supplied the refreshments for the formal Christmas dance. In the spring they gave an informal dance and contributed to the commencement festivities by having a picnic for the Seniors.

Juniors

The Junior year is never an easy one, but the Class weathered it very well indeed! The annual Junior Red Letter Week, taking for its theme "Cargoes from Many Lands," was climaxed by the dance, Sea Shanty, and the crowning of the "Belle of St. Helen's," Darl Litchfield. Sales of every type added dollars to the junior treasury, carefully hoarded for the lavish and wonderful Junior-Senior Prom. The Junior Class really worked—and enjoyed every minute of their toil!

"B" Team 3.

Not all of the Seniors started their high school years at the Hall. None the less, the class emerged a unified whole, unusually reflective of kindness, consideration and regard for others. In spite of many activities, a Senior dinner for the Freshmen, work on "Delphic," much conferring and taking of examinations for college entrance, the glamorous May Court, the exciting "Senior Sneak," the class came through with confidence and poise, and an ability to put first things first. Perhaps no previous senior class has been as fully aware that idealism must be made tangible through service.

TRINITY CHURCH, filled with all the wonder of commencement — as we approach its mighty altar may our hearts be fulfilled in Christ, and may our lives show forth our fulfillment!

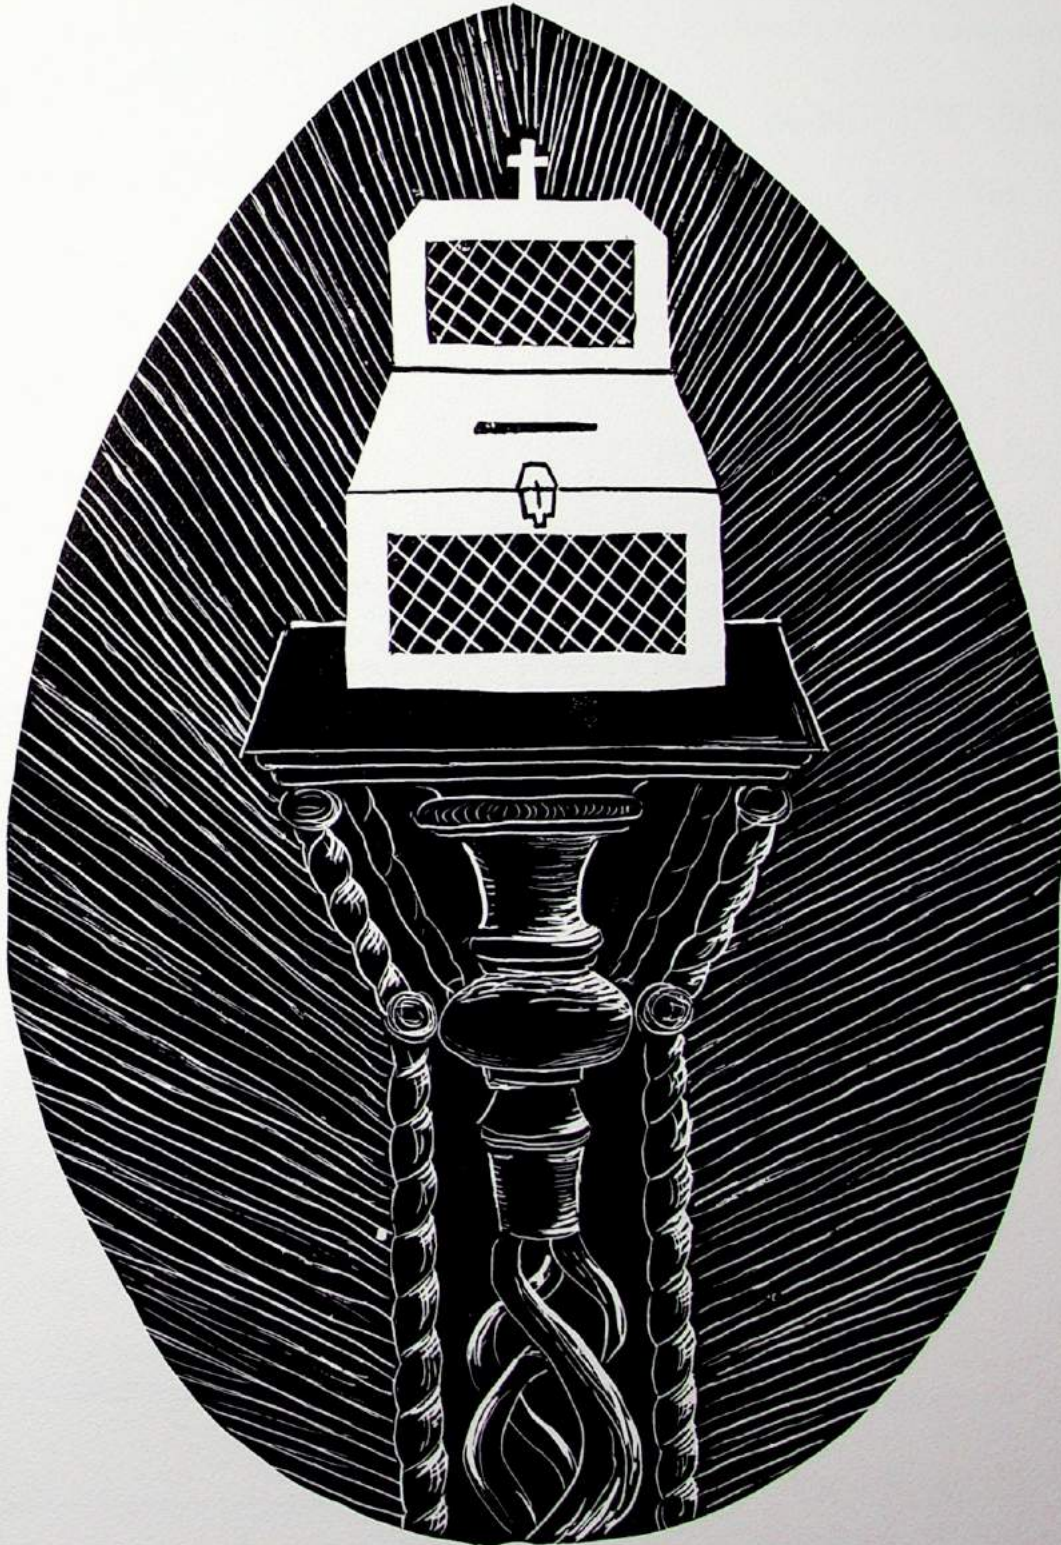

BEHOLD US, GRACIOUS SAVIOR.

Behold us, gracious Savior,
In girlhood's morning bright—
Look on us in Thy mercy,
And guide us with Thy light.
Life's journey lies before us,
Go with us all the way,
So shall we love Thee truly,
And serve Thee day by day.

Those gathered here together
Will soon be far apart,
But in Thy love and service
Unite us heart to heart,
And keep us pure and loyal
Where e'er our lot may be,
True daughters of St. Helen's
And true our God to Thee.

So when Thou comest in glory
To gather in Thine own,
And we shall stand for judgment
Before Thy great White Throne;
Then place us at Thy right hand,
And hearken to our prayer,
Of all St. Helen's daughters
Let none be missing there!

Gratitude

"A thankful heart is not only the greatest virtue, but the parent of all other virtues."
