I hear of a time when it was more rarely said that something is "new." That was when "around the world in eighty days" was still NEWS. If I remind you now that you of the Class of 1971 did something new it may not seem very newsworthy because it is a fact of several months duration. I mean YOU ARE THE FIRST COEDUCATIONAL CLASS IN ONE HUNDRED AND ONE JONES. "Firsts" are fun and I hope you have found a joy in the trail-blazing nature of your class.

The Class of 1971 has been a class of surprises and I would not care to guess why you did what you did nor try to figure out the sociological or psychological significance - if any! - of the decisions you made. In the year of ferment of the Woman's Liberation Movement you elected a girl to edit the school newspaper and another to edit the yearbook. Then, in a complete about-face, an electorate over half female elected four boys to the student body offices. Then, to compound the mystery, the four student council members-at-large chosen were, again, boys. Someday you will tell me why boys swept the election, and, someday, we will know if together, boys and girls, you set the pattern.

The 1970-71 student body has seemed a more reasonable student body than what we had before: girls on one side of the fence, boys on the other. Our school has seemed like life, not an artificial arrangement of the facts. We hoped you would learn to understand each other better by being in classes together "like the rest of the world." Time will tell. You and your classmates have made one community of St. Helen's Hall and Bishop Dagwell Hall, showing your elders what it should have been from the beginning. Those you leave behind are left with the task of making the Oregon Episcopal Schools community a better community and, in the very broadest sense, a better religious community: that is, one that knows where it came from, that knows what it is doing now, that knows where it is going. To the extent that members of the Class of 1971 can answer those questions about themselves they are fortunate, and happy, and have learned something here - from all of us you will leave behind with, we hope, affectionate memories.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Takashi Hashimoto is the Halls' only student from Japan. He lives in Tokyo with his 13 year old sister and his parents. His father is a real estate agent and also owns an apartment house, his mother is a housewife.

Takashi is a freshman this year and plans to graduate from Oregon Episcopal Schools. His hobbies include fishing and taking care of pets. After high school, Takashi would like to study in the field of animal biology.

Sumalee Vatanavoraluk, 18, from Bangkok, Thailand, has attended St. Helen's Hall for two years. She came to the United States through the Thai Embassy to learn the language and customs of the Americans. Sumalee plans to stay in the United States for college and would like to study in Massachusetts to be a diplomat.

Her father is a factory owner and her mother is a housewife. She has three brothers and five sisters of all ages, two of which are studying in Hong Kong.

Sumalee likes drawing, swimming, and traveling as pastimes. She feels Americans are friendly and also that the youths have a better education and more freedom than in her country.

Claudia Carrasco came to the United States in August of 1970 to attend Oregon Episcopal Schools as a junior. After graduation, she hopes to do a lot of traveling, perhaps as an airline stewardess, and later to study French in Switzerland or France.

Claudia has four brothers and sisters, two older and two younger. She has family in Portland, her uncle and her grandmother, with whom she spends vacations.

While young, Claudia visited the United States, but felt that when older she could experience the life in the United States much better. She came with the purpose of learning more about the American high school and the students themselves, what they do, and what they like.

Claudia enjoys traveling, language study, and waterskiing. She is also interested in ceramics.

Osama Kabbani of Riyadh, Saudi Arabia came to Oregon Episcopal Schools in 1969 as a junior. Prior to coming to O.E.S. Osama and his four brothers went to school in Washington, D.C. When the family returned home it was decided that Osama would complete his high school education in the U.S. Osama is an outstanding soccer player and has played varsity soccer for B.D.H. for two years. His other interests are architecture and the Arts.

Marion Halbenz, originally from Steinhagen, Germany, came to the United States on an American Field Service program. She presently is living with the Don Thomas family in Underwood, Washington.

Mrs. Halbenz is a publisher and has two other children besides Marion. Her oldest son, Till, 25 years old, plans to become a publisher and Petra, 22 years old, is a journalist.

Marion's hobbies both in the United States and Germany are traveling, reading, and studying foreign languages. She plans to finish high school in her hometown and go on to college at Marburg, Germany, studying as a law student.

Marion finds her stay in the United States a new experience and says Americans are friendly and very polite.

Pranee Jantarach, from Bangkok, Thailand, has been in the United States two years now. She came as a junior, and after graduation, plans to attend college in the Boston area, where she will study business.

She has four brothers; three older and one younger, and one younger sister.

When asked what she thought of the United States she replied, "Wonderful, wonderful."

She enjoys the weather and the traffic. Pranee came with the intention to learn how to speak English and to see what American life was like.

Pranee has cousins in California, with whom she spent Christmas vacation, but her short vacations are spent with friends from school.

Her hobbies include shopping, movies, rock concerts, and, most of all, traveling.

1970 did not go by without some optimism. It was not the magical and miraculous year of 1969, and it did not have many spectacular moments. But it was a year of rebuilding, a year which will hopefully be the springboard for future championship teams. The year also saw a fantastic defense and superb goal-tending, plus a new goal scoring record in one game.

The team managed to bring home as many trophies in '70 as in '69. Again, the first two weeks were lucrative, but in third place winnings this time, rather than 1969's second places. The Falcons lost their first round match at the Catlin Gabel Sixes, but then dramatically won three in a row to take third place. Marshall Spencer, Jarrett Dorsey, and Brad Allen got the winning goals. On the next weekend, the Falcons lost to Catlin Gabel 1-0, but nabbed another third place trophy because of the small margin of loss.

From there, the Falcon offense produced nightmares. They could only score once each against expansion Lincoln and Sunset. Jarrett Dorsey scored against Lincoln and Osama Kabbani scored against Sunset.

1969's physical rivalry between BDH and La Salle was discontinued for a day as the two produced a scoreless tie. La Salle occasionally allowed three or four Falcons the freedom of gathering around the net, but still the ball acted allergic to the nets. La Salle declined the overtime which might probably have given the Falcons a victory.

It was about to get worse. A humiliating 1-0 loss to weak Portland Christian at home was hard to believe. With the PCHS goal, better than 250 scoreless minutes, racked up by Warren Cox and the Falcon Defense, was ended. And the Falcons had scored only twice in five contests.

At Mt. Angel, Kabbani broke the drought and gave the Falcons a 1-0 victory, and a ray of hope in the playoff chase. Kabbani let loose a beauty of a blast from near midfield and it went in an upper corner.

Western Mennonite evened an old score with a 2-0 victory at BDH. For a while, the Pioneers couldn't come close, but the Falcons could. Even so, it worked the other way. With a freak goal, Mennonite got enough momentum to finish off the Falcons with one more goal. The first-place dream went down the drain for the Falcons.

Then, switching Brad Allen to the forward line, the Falcons scored 13 straight goals without an answer. Allen, rookie Tim Curren, Dorsey, and Marty Landeen belted Wilson for a 4-0 victory, but a week later it was 9-0 over Hillsboro. Greg Amerson twice, Marshall Spencer twice, Brad Allen twice, Bryant Wooten, Osama Kabbani, and Marty Landeen scored in the landslide of picture goals. The nine goals set a school record for most goals scored in one game, breaking the old record by three goals.

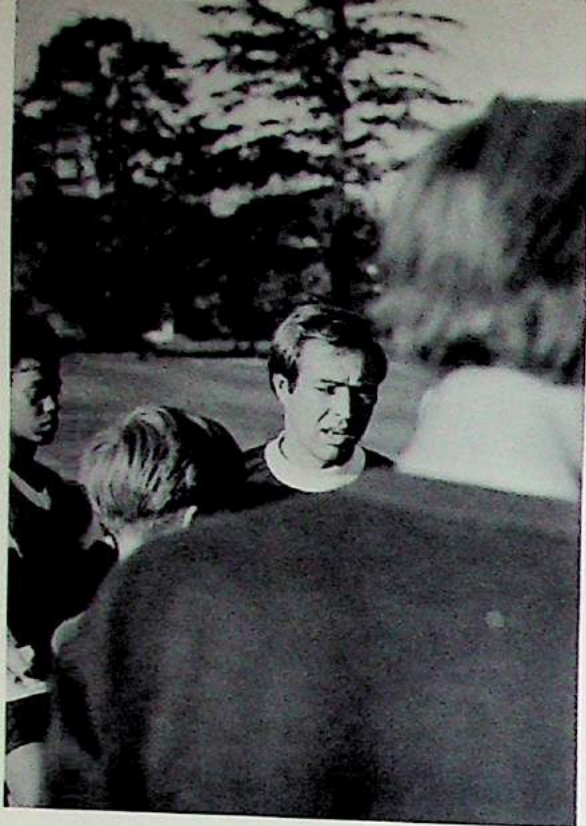

La Salle, ending in a second place tie with BDH, played off the Falcons at Reed College. The game, fairly even most of the way, ended the Falcons' 1970 dream to the tune of a 3-1 loss. For the first time all season, the defense had a major lapse, and La Salle besieged Cox and Miles Miller with a triplet before Spencer rammed home a penalty shot. The loss eliminated the Falcons from any playoff competition.

The team finished out the season with a 4-0 loss to Charles Wright and a 4-2 loss to Lakeside in the P. N. A. I. S. tournament at Seattle.

For the second season under Coach John Hicks, the Falcons were: Warren Cox, Chris Karafotias, Charles Seaborn, Tucker Livingstone, Don Pennington, Harold Larsen, Andy Dappen, Osama Kabbani, Brad Allen, Greg Amerson, Bryant Wooten, Jarrett Dorsey, Marshall Spencer, and Martin Landeen.

3rd Place - District Meet

A new look highlighted the 1970 Falcon cross-country squad. With a new coach, Mr. James Weber, and four new runners out of the seven-man team, the Falcons failed to equal 1969's conquest of the division one crown. With the relocation of Western Mennonite into district one, the Falcons were no better than dark horses all season.

The team held a 6-3 record over the course of the season. They defeated Catlin Gabel three times, the last by one point in a meet decided by the Falcons' Trenton Morrow. The Falcons obliterated Columbia Christian and took two "gift" wins in the form of Mt. Angel and St. Paul forfeits. Western Mennonite, Portland Christian, and Concordia all took victories over BDH, but none were terribly substantial. However, they were just enough to assure the Falcons of missing the first place boat.

District turned out to be a pretty good performance for the Falcons, who dark-horsed their way to third place with the surprise performance of John Marcy. Rather sluggish all season, the senior speedster cut two and one-half minutes off of his time and finished sixteenth, which is good at district. Terry Anderson took fifteenth, while Ed Haessler nabbed seventh. Haessler and Anderson duelled much of the season for the honor of finishing first. Terry finished as the top Falcon five times, Ed four times.

Under Coach Weber's guidance, the Falcons consisted of Trenton Morrow, John Marcy, Ed Haessler, Terry Anderson, Bruce Jackson, Brent Erensel, and Peter Purdy.

6 Wins 14 Losses

The 1970-71 Falcon basketball team was a paradox of results that could be fantastic one night and disappointing the next. They compiled a 6-14 record, losing closely to Columbia Christian twice, Portland Christian once, and Catlin Gabel once. They lost to state A champion Knappa twice by miserable scores, but carted home the team's first trophy, for a fourth place finish in December's MacLaren Tournament.

The Falcons were victim to a lot of awesome basketball power. They played only one game with Jewell, and lost at the coast city, 66-36. After the first quarter, the Falcons were never in the contest. Steve Olstedt blasted the Falcons with some fine shooting.

They faced a powerful, depth-filled Lakeside team in the P. N. A. I. S. tournament at Catlin Gabel and lost, 72-51. Lakeside went on to take the tournament crown.

At the MacLaren tournament, the Falcons may have put on their best performance of the season in defeating AA Chemawa 72-59 for fourth place.

The team put on some real displays with teams from their own district, 1-A.

Columbia Christian took a close pair from the Falcons, 70-62 up north and - at BDH. The first game saw Ed Haessler play with a crippling injury, and the Falcons failed to protect a lead. A late rally fell short at BDH in the season's final game, and the Falcons garnered their 14th loss at the hands of the Knights.

The team played three contests with Portland Christian. The first, at MacLaren's tournament, saw the Falcons blow a lead in the fourth quarter. The second, at BDH, had the Falcons with only 9 points after three quarters. They lost, 37-27. The third saw the Falcons fall to 9 fourth quarter PCHS free-throws and lose, 53-52, in a fine effort.

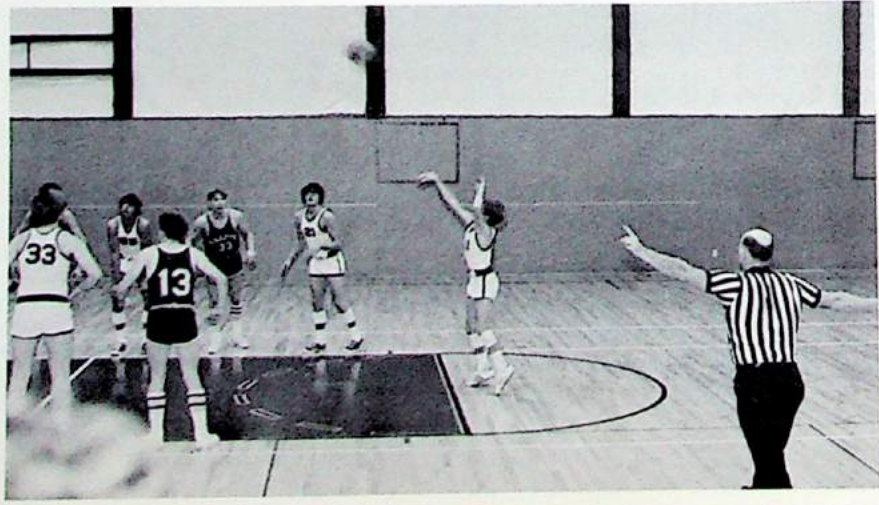

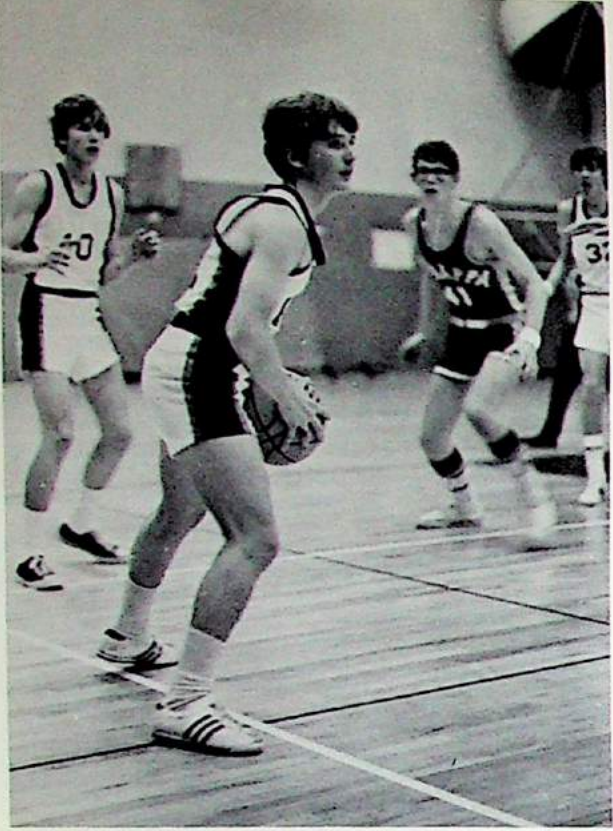

State Champion Knappa bounced the Falcons twice, 103-41 at BDH and 130-35 at the northern Oregon town. The second game was so ridiculous that it caused a mild uproar in the Knappa following.

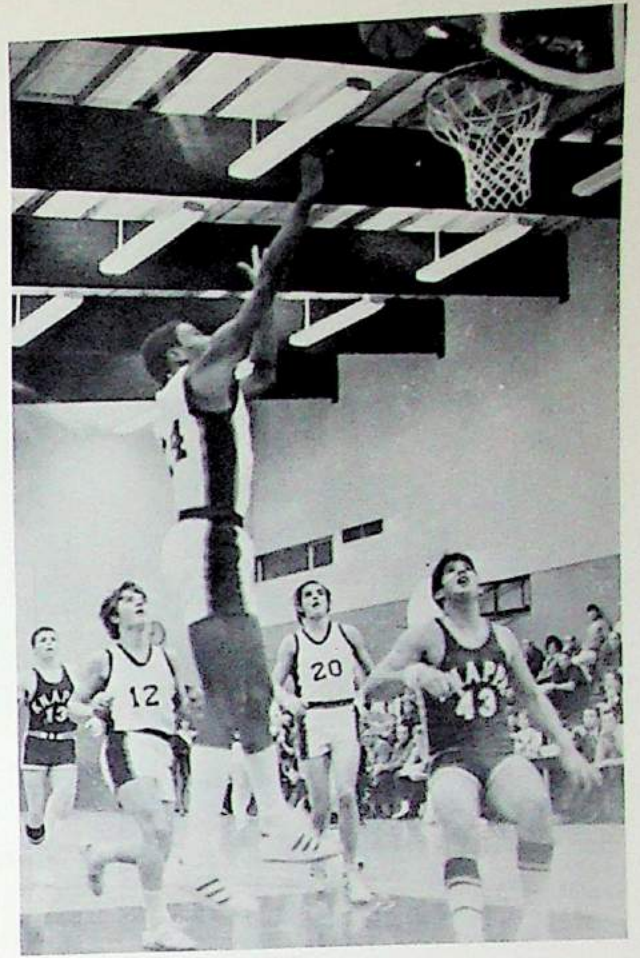

The Falcons dropped the cellar-dwellers, MacLaren, three times. Right above them, Gaston got clobbered twice by BDH. MacLaren lost to the Falcons in their own tournament, 61-55, then by 49-39 at BDH, and finally - at home. The Falcons managed to massacre Gaston 65-43 at home and 63-37 at Gaston in the game which marked Ben Critchlow's return to a Falcon uniform.

Corbett kept their winning streak over the hapless Falcons with a 60-49 blast of the Falcons at BDH, and then a 74-41 humiliation at Corbett. The Cards boasted board strength in both games.

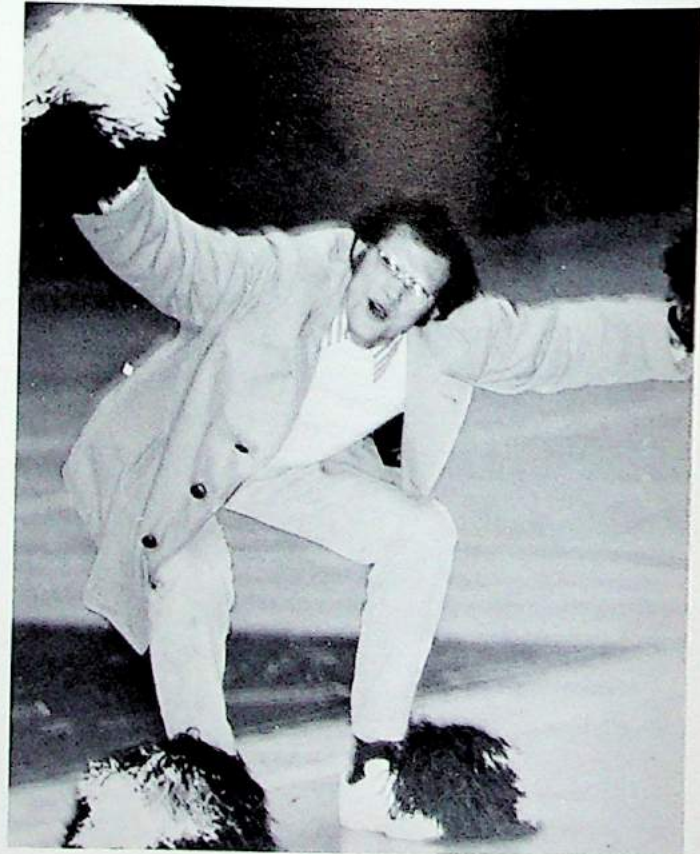

For the first time, Catlin Gabel did not lose to BDH in basketball for an entire season. They almost did, 71-66 at the P. N. A. I. S. tournament, but pulled out safe 59-45 and 63-48 victories in the other two matches.

Playing in part or all of the season for the Falcons, who were coached for the sixth year by Mr. Gary Craigmiles, were: Warren Cox, Tracy Gillet, Greg Amerson, Miles Miller, Cliff Brunell, Ed Haessler, Marshall Spencer, Dave Marble, Don Pennington, Jim Stipe, Terry Anderson, and Ben Critchlow. The manager was John Marcy, and the assistant coach was Mr. Cordell Tittle.

OUTDOORSMAN CLUB

SKI TEAM

The ski team this year made a good showing, considering the number of racers and their experience. This year, the ski team was composed of nine people; five boys and four girls, three of whom had never raced before. The team raced against some thirty-five member teams, and the competition was tough.

The ski team consisted of Ed Sammons, Tucker Livingstone, Kannes Noack, Paul Gerhardt, Tim Magenis, Brooke Ramsden, Karen Noack, Tami Lake, and Sarah Livingstone.

A lot of people don't realize how much is involved in a ski race. It is much more than just skiing down the course; it involves a state of mind, as well as a physical condition and the determination to make a commitment to a lot of hard work. This year our ski team made quite an accomplishment in doing these things.

STUDENT COUNCIL

In the face of the difficulties presented by the initiation of co-education, this year's student government has performed with admirable efficiency. This success can be interpreted as services provided for the Student Body. We have focused attention to the need for more student activities and to the responsibility of the Halls to the community. Thusly, the school has enjoyed more dances, dorm-parties, and movies than ever before. And through scrupulous management, the bookstore has been kept replete with articles of interest. Additionally in 1970-71, the Student Council has financially sponsored the Hall's first Debate team. Another valuable and worthwhile activity has been the involvement of O. E. S. in the Youth Tutoring Youth Program. Through this, our students tutored younger, grammar school aged children each afternoon in Albina. This was a rewarding experience for both.

Much of our achievement is ascribable to the leadership of Charles Holden, our Student Body President, and the sagacious advice of Mr. David Hursty, this year's Student Council Advisor. Indeed each of the eight council members played their particular roles well. Together we have been a productive and effective team.

Charles Holden, Student Body President

DISCIPLINARY COMMITTEE

Witness above those burdened with the onerous responsibility of administering discipline to our community. Certainly not a popular job in a school of today.

This is the fourth year of operation for the Student-Faculty Disciplinary Committee. The concept for such a committee originated with Mr. Leech during his year as Headmaster of Bishop Dagwell Hall. A similar committee was instituted a year later in St. Helen's Hall; and with the advent of coeducation during our current academic session, a single group, with Mr. Wood as chairman, serves all students, grades seven through twelve.

The Committee has reached maturity in its fourth year. It functions effectively as an advisor to the faculty on matters of discipline and serves as the communications link between faculty and students. Neither function was envisioned by the instigators and both have developed as a result of the constructive and determined approach of student and faculty members.

The Committee continues to deal out punishment where necessary and to evaluate and rethink procedures to strengthen its operation.

THE HALLMARK

In its third year of publication, the Hallmark entered a period of change. In the first two years the newspaper grew from nothing to a six-page extravaganza. This year the budget brought us back down to four pages, but they were four pages packed with articles.

I think that the Hallmark became more refined and professional looking this year with the help of the assistant editors Chris Birkmeyer and Carrie Sammons. With greater balance between boys and girls, the staff did a good job of representing the opinions of the school.

From the responses in the form of letters to the editor and verbal communication with me, I know that the Hallmark was read and looked for with anticipation; and if a newspaper stirs up comment, as often the Hallmark did, well, that's all right, that's what a newspaper is for.

DRAMATICS

This year under the supervision of a new teacher, Mr. Gerald Merryman, the Dramatics Department produced two plays. These were MURDER IN THE CATHEDRAL, in December and BLACK COMEDY in the spring. While these plays were completely different in nature, they were equally demanding of the cast and the director.

MURDER IN THE CATHEDRAL is about the death of Thomas-a-Becket and of his becoming a martyr. This play was full of terror and suspense. The chorus acted as the common people of the town, while the main characters were portrayed individually. The spring play, BLACK COMEDY took place mostly in the dark. This play was very amusing because of the fact that the power had gone off in London when many important visitors were coming to see Brinsley, the main character of the play.

Mr. Merryman gained the love of his students as a teacher and director, by his gentle manner and genuine enthusiasm. We owe the success of our productions this year to Mr. Merryman, and we would like to sincerely thank him.

The members of the photo club have been going on field trips this year. We have ventured to the Forecourt Fountain late last year. With the pictures taken there the club had its first exhibit. Mr. Nelson, the club's advisor, has been helping the members with new techniques in developing and printing. The club has plans for another excursion to Burnside and another exhibit before the year is over. This year the club has been a great success, and we hope that it will continue for years to come.

BOARDERS' COUNCIL

The Boarders' Council was formed to plan weekend activities for the resident student, and to make suggestions to the administration as to improvements which could be made in boarding life. The council, in its first coeducational year, has performed with admirable success, in arousing interest in attending movies, sports events such as hockey and basketball games, and rock concerts, along with trips downtown. Many changes have been made in the rules pertaining to boarders, to the relief of many of the students.

The council consists of the Directors of Residence, Mr. Weber and Miss Fass, the president, Carolyn Gazeley, whose efforts and hard work have made the council what it is presently, and four representatives from the boarders. There are two girls and two boys, a boy and a girl from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, and two from the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades, who are elected each term. The council had done its job with all the members working as a fairly effective group. Hopefully, the Boarders' Council will continue to function as a means to convey to the administration the wishes of the students in regard to the boarding department.

FENCING

The fencing group this year has been quite active. There are many beginners, more than usual. Earlier this year there was a class of about twelve taught by Mr. Manley. Chuck Knox has continued to fence after beginning in this class. In March, a new group started. This Freshman group, under the direction of Mrs. Klink, an alumna of the St. Helen's Hall Junior College, numbers twenty-four. Gillian Hobbs, Gay Burnie, and Janet McGrew assist with this class, in addition to their fencing lessons.

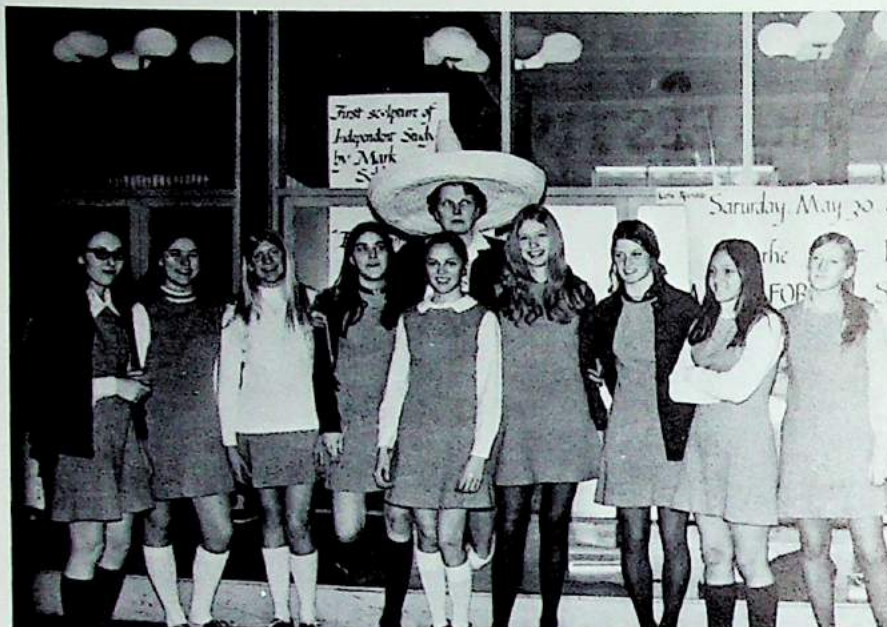

Gillian and Janet have been fencing in competitions regularly since the start of the year with a Y.W.C.A. tournament. Competitions have continued to be held with both girls usually placing well. One example is the Oregon Division Under-19 Womens' Foil. Janet placed second, and Gillian third, thus both are eligible to go to the Pacific Coast Sectionals being held in Los Angeles this May. Fencing has had a lot of enthusiasm this year at the Halls.

ART-LIT MAGAZINE

The Art and Literature Magazine is produced every year under the guidance of Miss Richardson. The club consists of Andy Dappen, Anne Ellis, Christopher Birkmeyer, Marty Landeen and Doug Wysham. This magazine is comprised of creative writings such as poems, short stories, art work, and photographs. All of these works are submitted by the students of O. E. S. and the magazine is organized by the members of the club. This magazine provides an enjoyable pas-time for all the students, and we hope that it will continue for years to come.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Each year The Athletic Association is formed to provide some extracurricular activities dealing with sports for the girls of the Oregon Episcopal Schools. Every girl is a member of the association, but requirements, such as a certain amount of points, are needed to make the girls voting members. These points are gained by the girls attending extracurricular activities, being in the activity, or attending some activities. Activities that have been set up are: volleyball, basketball, grass hockey, and the exhilarating game, floor hockey. The purpose of such sports is to promote a feeling of true school spirit and fair play, coupled with good sportsmanship.

The Girls' Athletic Association is self supporting. For the last two years, it has set up the concessions stand in the gym, selling candy and pop at the basketball games and wrestling matches.

With the money the Association earns, it helps to buy athletic equipment for the gym that would ordinarily not be bought, thus helping many other athletic groups. Last year the Association saved $150.00 that will be applied to some new equipment for next year. Also uniforms for the girls on school teams will be bought.

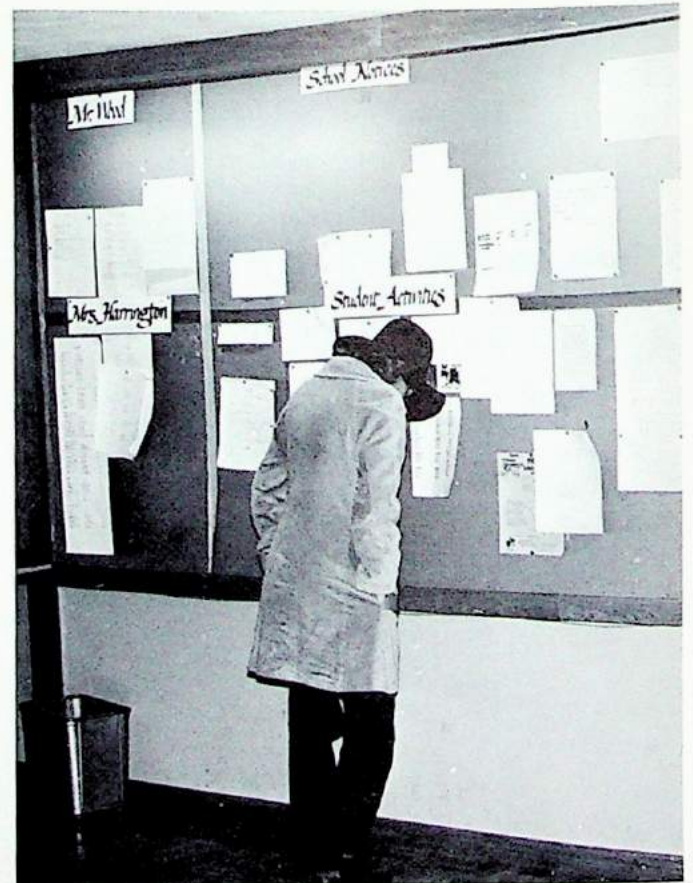

All in all, the Association has had an exciting existence, planning games and running the concessions stand, helping to bring out the hidden spirit that runs deep in each of us.

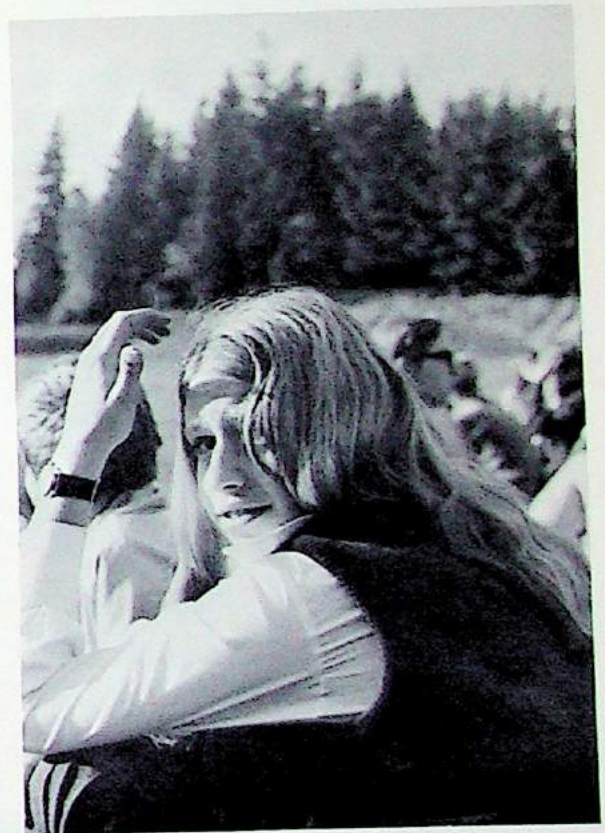

ERRATA II

This year's staff has decided to keep up the tradition of "Errata." If any of the pictures in this annual seem to be out of proportion, crooked, out of focus or overdeveloped, you need glasses. Oh! You already wear glasses; well maybe they are dirty. Please excuse any misplaced pages; this was caused by a mix-up between your vivacious staff and the publisher. And last but not least, we do regret that we did not have enough pages to include girls' athletics, this we hope will be remedied by next year's staff. Amidst all these errors we did have a few good points. This year we had a staff that was willing to work and we did try harder.

THE DIRECTION OF YOUR DREAMS

Youth is a time for building. A time for planning, setting and challenging new directions. It is a time for solidifying dreams and a time for striving to reach predetermined goals. In youth energy abounds, setting itself squarely into the pathway of life.

As the famous Henry Thoreau said,

"If one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours."

And so, as you linger in the youth of your life... advance confidently in the direction of your dreams and meet success unexpected.
